Dear Mrs. Nunneley,

On the 1815 Knox County tax list, the year that James Hendricks was born, the only person with a simular name listed was "Elizabeth Hendrickson" who had 25 acres on Straight Creek. In 1816 there were four Hendricksons list but no Hendricks. In 1820 there were no Hendricks or Hendricksons listed. Checking backwards in Knox County I find Joshua, John, Reuben Hendrickson listed in 1811, 1810, 1809. In 1811 a Margaret Hendrick was listed in Knox Co. also in 1813. I could not find any male that she seemed to have replaced on the tax list. If she was a widow her name would usually appear the following year with the land her husband owned.

Then I went to the Adair County tax list for 1838 and found that James Hendricks was listed along with a Vaden Hendricks. I rememberd at this point that in your records of the 1840 St Clair County Illinois census James Hendrix was followed on the census by a "Baden Hendrix" who appeared to be older than James. When I backtracked on the Adair County tax list I found in 1836 a Margaret Hendrick and Vaden Hendrick listed one after another. James according to his birthdate should have appeared on the tax list is 1835 or 36 but he appeared 1837 listed alone, not with Vaden, then they were listed together 1838. (Vaden could have been oldest son and Margaret was in his household.) Margaret was not listed

I could find no record of Margaret on 1820 census index.

On the 1830 census for Casey County Kentucky on page 291, listed together was Vaden Hendricks, age 20-30 and "Peggy" Hendricks, age 50-60 with a male age 15-20 in the household. ("Peggy" is a nickname for Margaret.)

Margarets' age could be the same or nearly the same as the Margaret on the St Clair County Ill 1850 census. The Margaret in Ill would have been born in 1773, this Peggy was born 1770-1780, so it's possible. I just can't figure out why she was head of household in 1810, 1830 or where + who her husband was!
I checked the Knox Co wills and found no wills for Hendricks/Hendrixs. The only thing similar was Hendrickson.

In the Knox Co marriages the only Hendricks marriage was a marriage listed in printed material for John Hendrick to Francis Harris dated 1 May 19 ? (year not given) unless they meant 1819) This marriage was not on microfilm so I could not check it further and the brides name was not Margaret so I did not spend anymore time on it.

Checking the Adair County records I found a marriage record for James Hendricks and Sally Brown. Attest by Walter Brown, dated 29 Jan 1838 in a book compiled by Ruth Paull Burdette of Adair Co marriages 1802-1840. When I went to the marriage bonds I found that for this time period we had on microfilm the marriage register. In this register the two pages that had marriages for 1838 were absolutely not readable! I checked at the Archives and found that they had the same records. Write back to the Adair Co Clerk and furnish them with the date and see what they have to say.

The deeds index for Adair Co, grantee and grantor contain no Hendricks deeds, nor did I find any wills for them.

I am sending you two maps showing the counties as they were being formed. You will notice that Knox Co^{1815} included the area that was later to be known as Harlan Co and Laurel Co.

You thought that James Hendricks was born in Virginia, and checking Knox Co, not finding any Hendricks, I then checked the Harlan Co tax list and found only Hendricksons in it, too. The important thing that I saw was that most of the first names were the ones that I saw in Knox Co, like Reuben, Ezekiel, Joshua, John, names that are not easily mixed up. These names were not on the Adair or Casey Co tax list with Margaret Hendricks. She was always listed as Hendricks, but located where the only similar name was Hendrickson. I'm just wondering if they shortened the name. Have you found any other reason to suspect that it was shortened? I did find in the family surname file several letters about the Knox Co Hendrickson family but I didn't copy ~~it~~ them.

Another thing that is unusual is that they, James and Sarah married in Adair Co, but her father was in Henry or Garrard Co (needs further checking

Assuming she was living at home, it was customary (also the law) to marry in the brides county, it looks like they should have been married in the county where her father lived. I'm sure glad that you had your family bible or the marriage may never have been found.

On the Brown line I located the marriage of Bazabel Brown/Susanna Gibbs dated 12 Jan 1798 in Garrard Co-Ky. We do not have the bond it is located in Box 1, Bond 17. Hopefully the clerk can find it for you. The first name "Bazabel" was spelled differently every time I found it. He was in Garrard Co in 1810, 1800, 1820, and then in Henry Co in 1830. We have a collection of microfilm material called the "Calico Collection" that was collected by a Judge Calico in Garrard Co. In the material on the Brown family he did not mention Bazabel Brown, but he did say that the Brown Family came from Culpepper Co-Va. You might keep this in mind for the future.

Being new at research you may be dis apointed with this material but the tax list can be very helpful and have told us in this case that they "Margaret" did not have land so we will not be able to find information in the deeds. There weren't any wills in Knox Co for any Hendricks and we don't have any court orders for that time period. (When a person died with out a will the court assigned some one to make an appraisal of the estate and report back to the court, sometimes the widow was named and if you were lucky the children.) At this point I have checked all of the Knox Co records available to me and unless you have other information or perhaps Mrs Lloyd will have a few suggestions, I'm not sure it would pay to continue. Please advise after studying material.

My fee for the enclosed will be $28.00 (4 hrs) plus cost of copies $3.10 (31.10 and postage.

THANKS

Thank You

Additional notes:

Hendricks - The 1810 Census, Ky, shows a Margaret Hendricks 21000 - 11110 - No other census indexes checked shows a Hendricks in that county - James was supposed to have been born in Knox Co Ky, 1815. Could this be the same Margaret Hendrix, 77, b. Delaware residing near James Hendrix (Hendricks) in the 1850 St Clair Co Ill census. She resides in the household of Hardy Johnson. On the 1840 St Clair Census - Hardy Johnson was a neighbor of my James Hendricks.

Brown - Sarah Brown Hendricks (wife of James) born 1817, Garrard Co Ky. had brother (apparently) Brazell Brown living in their household, 1850 Census St Clair Co Ill. and named second son Burzell, Bezell or Brazell Hendricks (spelled differently on every record) The 1810 Ky Census shows a Brazell Brown, Garrard Co Ky 21010 - 21010. Wonder if this is her parents? The Susan Brown, 65, b. S.C. must be her mother, / Mary Brown, 40, b. Ky her sister.

The Tennessee-Kentucky boundary, intended to be 36°30', was run too far north in 1779-1780 by Virginia surveyors. Kentucky finally accepted this erroneous Walker Line in early 1820, but significant parts of the boundary remained uncertain until a resurvey completed in 1859. Some settlers in the disputed strip were uncertain in which state they lived, though Tennessee exercised jurisdiction over much more of the strip than Kentucky ever did. By contrast, the Tennessee-Kentucky line west of the Tennessee River was surveyed in 1819 essentially on 36°30'.

CENSUS AVAILABILITY

*NOTES:

The Territory South of the Ohio River, popularly called the Southwest Territory, was created in May 1790.

By direction of the territorial governor, militia captains took a census in July 1791. The county lines were unchanged from 1790.

Tennessee County's name was dropped after its division into Montgomery and Robertson in 1796.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle Wilson
Coulterville, Ill., 62237

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Wilson:

I am involved in genealogical research on my Johnson and Hendricks families. Your name was given to me two years ago by Mrs. Willis (Frances)Coulter, who suggested that I write to you. Due to family illness, my research was discontinued for a time and am only now finding the opportunity to contact you.

Mrs. Coulter did not state your relationship to the families I seek information about, but did send newspaper clippings in which your names are mentioned(Hood Family reunion).

I am doing research on my great-grandparents, Nancy S. Johnson Crane and George Washington Hendricks. Nancy married, first, on 12 Sept 1850, to Alfred D. Crain (Crane) in Washington County, Illinois. The had, I think, the following children:

Sarah Jane Crane	(born 1851) married ? - died during childbirth according to family oral tradition told me by by my mother. Might mention that I have Sarah's chocolate cup given to me by her half-sister, my grandmother.
Catherine Crane	1853-1925 - Aunt Kate married Frank Hood
Randall Crane	1855-
William J. Crane	5 Jan 1856-20 Sept 1857 - buried Laney Cemetery, Lively Grove, Illinois.
Mary E. Crane	1858-

Nancy S. Johnson Crane married, second, George Washington Hendricks on 22 Dec 1861 in Washington County, Illinois, (George Hendricks was a lawyer and probate judge in Oswego, Kansas after they moved from Illinois). They had the following children:

	Matilda Crane Hendricks Gillon	1862-1936
	William Joseph Hendricks	1864-1943
Twins(	Ella Adaline Hendricks Mitchem	1866-1938
	Alice Elizabeth Hendricks Kengle	1866-1940
	Mary Ann Hendricks Lance	1869-1943
Twins(	John Henry Hendricks	1872-1948
	George W. Hendricks	1872-1940
Twins(	Levi Hendricks	Died as infants-birth and death dates unknown
	Frankie Hendricks

Ella Adaline Hendricks Mitchem was my grandmother and a half sister of Aunt Kate. My mother and grandmother visited Uncle Frank and Aunt Kate shortly before their deaths, but mother remembers little of her visit so many years ago and is unable to tell me much of her grandparents, who died before Aunt Kate. Grandmother Nancy Hendricks died the 13 Aug 1907 and is buried at Oswego, Kansas (Aunt Kate's mother).

I would appreciate any information you might share or anyone you might suggest that I could contact who could answer my questions that follow:

Alfred Crane - birth, death and place of burial

Sarah Jane Crane - birth, death and place of burial (also, married name).

Aunt Kate - any information concerning her brothers and sisters. Did only Sarah and Kate survive to adulthood

Were Aunt Kate's grandparents (Nancy's parents) possibly William and Sarah Johnson from Alabama. I know that Nancy's parents were born in Alabama and South Carolina and that they lived in Georgia at some time, but am not sure of their names.

Any names of brothers and sisters of Nancy S. Johnson Crane Hendricks (Aunt Kate's aunts and uncles). I know one of Aunt Kate's uncles was Augustus Prout Johnson, Nancy's brother, because he, also, moved to Kansas. He married a Frances ? and they have an infant buried at the Laney Cemetery where Alfred and Nancy Crane's baby William is buried.

I am alzo, seeking information about my great grandparents, James and Sarah Brown Hendricks. They died in 1875 and 1880, but don't know if they are buried in Washington County, Illinois or near Coulterville.

I am enclosing a stamped envelope for your convenience and will appreciate whatever you can tell concerning my families. I will be anxious to hear and would very much like to know your relationship, if any, to my great aunt, Kate Crane.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Richard D. Nunneley

Willis, Martha and Sarah appear to be brother and sisters to my great-grandfather, George Hendricks. Also, interesting that they have a Laney living with them. Grandmother Hendricks and her first husband, Alfred Crane have a child buried in the Laney Cemetery(the information you sent to me).

The 1880 Census microfilm was almost totally blank, so got very little else but what I am sending. Don't know if James and Sarah Hendricks are still in Washington Co. at that time. The library said we can only order from the Fort Worth depository and it would do no good to reorder, as I would probably get the same film.

As far as the Hendricks in St. Clair Co., I know little beyond Washington Co. The only thing I do know for sure is that George Washington Hendricks was born 15 Nov 1840 in St. Clair Co., but grew up in Washington Co. and married a widow(?) with two children, Katie and Sarah. His parents were from Ky, and his father's name was James Hendricks and his mother's maiden name was Brown. What happened to Alfred Crane(which is the correct spelling)or the other children, I have not been able to find. I do know that his mother refused to see them after the marriage, because he married an "older woman" with children. Before he left for the Civil War, he took Matilda, his first born, by horseback, to see his mother. Apparently, after this, the family was in good graces with everyone.

Grandmother Hendricks(Nancy S. Johnson Crane)could neither read or write. My mother thinks this was the real problem. Being a family of teachers and lawyers, it probably set them back a bit. By today's standards, teachers and lawyers of those days were not educated as much as trained, so can't understand such an "uppity" attitude.

Will write to Lawrence Hood. Mother can't remember any of the names of Aunt Kate and Uncle Frank Hood's Children. Mother was only a teenager when she visited and was not too impressed with the "farm visit". Also, will write to Mrs. Coulter.

I have gone on and on again - and as you see, I think I am becoming more and more confused, but just will not stop now!

Worked at the hospital today from 9:00 to 1:00. I volunteer every Monday in the dismissal and admission escort service and run errands for the emergency room. It is interesting, but afraid I am getting too involved in volunteer projects. I cannot get my films read and genealogy projects finished.

Best get my work done. Kathleen gets out of basketball practice at 5:00 and Dick gets home at 5:20 and I've B'vill Genealogy Club tonight at 7:30(the second Tuesday of each month.

Thanks for the information and letter, as I have said, I enjoy them much.

There are many Johnsons, Johnston listed but the only one who fits is

1183/1183	Sarah Johnston	55 SC
	Elizabeth	26 Al
	Wm	17 Al
	Jackson	13 Al

Children all born in Alabama. & they are in neighborhood of Crains — I guess this area to be Oakdale — Lively Grove area. They are only ones in that area.

There are several will est for Johnsons in book 1 of Looking Back. I presume Wm could be yours.

Note that Nancy named 1st child Sarah & also note Sarah has a son Wm who could have fathers name.

I suspect that if you write court house for this will I will be the one to get the job to look it up. I've been doing this for them as they don't know what to look for in genealogy. I'm about to give it up tho, I got stuck for a couple letters where I sent Xerox material. My charge is 3.00 per hr plus SASE & cost of Xerox. I don't want you to think I want the job as I don't even know when I'll get there. Just wanted you to know what the deal was before you sent to them for anything. I would prefer you to write them, but they hold all genealogy letters for me. It maybe Sarah has a will also — but don't know for a fact.

Note the 2 different spelling for Crane & Johanston Crain & Johnson.

Trust this info will help you in some way
In a book on Wash. Jeff. Clinton & Marion Co, Ill there is a Biograph for Judge Wm Blair who mar. Mary Crain. It list parents & brothers Isaac, John, Alfred etc, but the death dates don't jibe with 1850 Cens. I believe they are same people & they came from Sumner Co, TN Parents were Ezekiel & Nancy (Haw) Crain. Happy Hunting

Dear Mrs. Nunneley:

Received your letter today and will run your query in 4th issue as we already have the 3rd ready to run off. Rather than make you wait that long I did a little digging in my 1850 Census of Wash Co. I can't prove this is right but you can see the possibilities.

Dear Mary,

I seem to get further behind all the time. I was checking files today, and found never had sent the material that had collected for you, so sorry. I did go to the Court House and didn't have any luck, but will try again. I went on a Friday, and they were busy, but no wills. Will check land grants, etc.,

We were called to Virginia to a death in the family, and I put aside the research, and it is hard to get back to it, but hope that you can make something of the material that I am sending, and then please write back, just what more you would like researched.

If the William Hendricks, that died 1845, by the WPA (old newpaper file) is correct, doesn't sound like he is father of your James, that you have listed born in KY 1815, unless they returned there. With so many spellings on the name, it is hard to know just which ones we should be looking for.

Will look forward to hearing from you again,

Sincerely,
Helen Burns

Dear Mrs. Eaton:

I have recently noted your name in the July/Aug 1992 Genealogical Helper in the Roots Cellar concerning Ezekiel Hendrickson, d 1809, Knox Co., KY.

My g-g-grandfather, James Hendricks was born in Knox Co., KY on 4 May 1815. By 1840, James and wife, Sarah Brown Hendricks were in St. Clair Co., IL. where my great grandfather, George Washington Hendricks was born. Also from Knox Co. to St. Clair Co., IL were a Vaden Hendrick, born ca 1808 and a Margaret Hendricks, born ca 1785. All of these Hendricks appear on various tax lists in the same counties between 1809 and 1838. During some tax years, they are called Hendricks/Hendrix and other years called Hendrickson, but seem to be connected.

I, several years ago, had a researcher do work for me on these families in Knox Co., KY. She was unable to tie my James Hendricks to any certain family in the county, but since James, Vaden and the older female, Margaret/Peggy all went to IL from KY at the same time, she felt they were related and possibly connected to an Ezekiel of Knox Co., or one of his sons.

After they went into Illinois in 1840, they always used the name Hendricks and I have found no records in IL as I have in KY where they used Hendrickson.

The Kentucky researcher said she was unable to tell the name of the wife of Ezekiel Hendrickson by his will. She felt the name was Marg. or Marj. Do you know the name of his wife?

I will close and offer copies of the tax lists and material sent by the researcher if you are interested.

Enclosing an SASE for you to let me know if you want the material and would be happy to receive any information you might sent concerning these families.

Sincerely,

Mary R. M. Nunneley

The settled valley of Georgia's first Walton County (1803-1812) lay roughly at the marked spot, the county lines being impossible. Walton was abolished after Georgia's present northern boundary was correctly located. While the 1810 Walton census is lost, the extant 1810 Buncombe census in North Carolina may include some Walton people.

CENSUS AVAILABILITY

Federal census extant for all counties except Craven, Greene, New Hanover, and Wake, shown as "lost" on map.

Dear Mrs. Burns:

Thank you for your reply to my request for someone to help with my Hendricks research in St. Clair County.

To save time and duplication, I have searched the following:

1840 Census - St. Clair Co. (have Buechers)

1850 Census - St. Clair Co. (have Buechers)

James Hendrix	34	Sch teacher	KY
Sarah	33		KY
George	10		IL
Burzell	9		IL
Mary L	6		IL
Willis	4		IL
John	3		IL
Joseph	8/12		IL
Susan Brown	65		SC
Mary Brown	40		KY
Brazell Brown	26	Farmer	KY

1860 Census - Washington Co. IL

James Hendricks 45 Sch teacher KY
P.O. Elkton

P.O. Lively Grove

Same family members

Most of the information on the family group sheet was obtained from a lady in California, who is also researching the same family. Her husband is a distant cousin of my mother. The marriage date for James and Sarah Brown Hendricks is apparently correct, but do not think the "Adair Co. KY" is and there are no records.

I should say here that James Hendricks is my great-great-grandfather and his first issue, George Washington Hendricks is my great grandfather.

I am quite interested to know if the parents of James Hendricks(names not known)may have lived in St. Clair County. I have no way to check wills, deeds, etc., and have hopes that this may show me who his parents are.

I feel that the following Hendrix(Hendricks) living in St. Clair County as shown on the 1840 Census may have been of the same family:

Since I do find the above William on the 1850 Census, I would be quite interested to know if a will exists which might name his heirs and would hope it might shed light on the father of James.

I am enclosing an SASE and a check for some expenses. Please let me know if you need more. With gasoline as it is, we can't drive far on the enclosed, so do let me know.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Richard Nunneley

Enclosed is my check for renewal for 1980 - sorry it is late.

I am enclosing an SASE and would like information concerning available research services through the Society. I am having difficulty in my Hendricks research(Kentucky to St. Clair Co. 1840 and 1850 Census) and hope you can recommend someone who can assist me.

Sincerely,

Mary M. Nunneley

Dear Mrs. Nunneley:

In response to your letter of October 30, we have the following microfilm of newspapers from Nashville, Illinois:

- Nashville Democrat, 1903-1908 and 1917-1924 -- 4 reels
- Nashville Journal, 1863-1960 (a few scattered years or months missing) -- 28 reels
- Nashville News, 1934-1996 -- 57 reels

If you wish to purchase, the price is $25 per reel, plus shipping.

Information about interlibrary loan is enclosed; the only cost for this is postage reimbursement. At this time, the Bartlesville Public Library still owes us payment for a loan we sent to them two years ago. We will not loan to the library until this bill is paid. If the library needs more details in order to pay the bill, they can contact us at the above telephone number.

Thank you for your interest.

Mr. John Reinhardt
Oakdale, Ill., 62268

Dear Mr. Reinhardt:

Mrs. Wanda Groennert of Nashville, Illinois, a member of the Washington County Genealogical Society has suggested that you may be able to assist me in the search for the places of burial of my Hendricks family. She has, through a search for me, determined that there are Hendricks buried in the Union Church Cemetery.

Does the Union Church have recorded the burials of persons in this cemetery? If they do not have such records, do you know someone who would search for Hendricks burials within the cemetery and record all information on each Hendricks stone in this cemetery?

I am enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for your convenience, and also, would like whomever is available to ass assist me in this matter, to please let me know if there will be a charge for my request for the information on these stones of my Hendricks family that I think are buried within the Union Church Cemetery.

Thank you for your attention to my request.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Richard D. Nunneley

Dear Wanda -

Received my issue of Looking Back in today's mail. As usual, it was great. Please tell everyone involved with the publication that I send my thanks for bringing Washington Co., Ill., to my house in 1977. Enclosed is my check for 1978.

I was very excited to see, on page six of this last issue of 1977, a name I feel sure is my great-great-grandfather. His name was James Hendricks and he taught school in Washington Co., Ill. He was from Kentucky, but also, lived in St. Clair Co., Ill., where he also taught school. They moved from St. Clair Co. to Wash. Co. between 1850 and 1860. The family was still listed at Wash. Co., in the 1870 Census at Lively Grove. I have ordered the 1880 Census to see if he is still there.

How I wish I had started this search when my older aunts and uncles were still living. Mother is the youngest and born quite late in her mother's life, so she has such little knowledge to pass to me. Grandmother Hendricks died in 1907 and Grandfather in 1916 and Mother was born in 1908, so she hardly knew him.

Mother did visit her aunt at Coulterville, Kate Crane Hood, in 1925. She said her mother(Ella Hendricks Mitchem)said that she saw more names on stones that she knew than faces on the street that she knew. They had gone to the cemetery(I guess at Coulterville)to visit. Could be that I need to search the Coulterville area for information. Maybe James and Sarah Brown Hendricks are buried there????

I have undertaken a big, but most interesting job. I do volunteer work for the Bartlesville Library and have been assigned the task of cutting out obituaries and anything I feel newsworthy from the Bartlesville and Dewey newspapers from 1906 to current. They have been microfilmed and will be destroyed after my job. The Curator of the History Room is making a file of obituaries and such, because she is a genealogist. It apparently took some convincing on her part to talk the Board into such a project. When we are finished, searchers can see the original and make a copy of it, instead of the microfilm. These old papers are just priceless and I can hardly stand the thought of them being burned, but realize how much space is needed to store them.

I am enclosing an envelope and would love to know who gave you the information for Looking Back concerning the early school teachers of the county, especially, James Hendricks. I would like to write to whomever it was and ask their source, etc.

Best get to other things and, again, really enjoy Looking Back. Also, like your letters and hope you will write when you have the time.

Sincerely,

Mary Metzinger Nunneley

Dear Mr. Hood:

Mrs. Wanda Groennert of Nashville, has suggested that you may be able to assist me in the search for the places of birth, death and burial of some members of my family who lived in Washington Co., Ill. She said that you are a good historian for the area and may know the answers to my problems or be able to direct me to someone who can answer them.

My great-grandmother, Nancy S. Johnson, was married twice in Washington Co., Ill. Her first Marriage was to Alfred D. Crane on 12 Sept 1850. I am looking for burials and dates for Alfred Crane and my great aunts and uncles.

Children of Alfred Crane and Nancy S. Johnson:

Sarah Jane Crane ?	(died during childbirth, I believe)
Catherine C. Crane Hood	(My mother visited Aunt Kate and Uncle Frank at Coulterville, Ill., in 1925, but does not know where or when they died)
Randall Crane
Mary E. Crane
Wm. J. Crane	(Born: 5 Jan 1856 - Died: 20 Sept 1857 buried in the Laney Cemetery, west of Lively Grove)

Nancy S. Johnson Crane then married, George Washington Hendricks(my great-grandfather)on 22 Dec 1861, in Washington Co. He was a teacher and lawyer at Elkton and later a lawyer and judge in Oswego, Kansas. I am searching for the places of burial for his parents, James and Sarah Hendricks.and any of their children. My great-great-grandfather, James Hendricks was also, a school teacher at Elkton and Lively Grove in 1860 and 1870.

I believe the children of James and Sarah Hendricks to be:

Burzell
Mary T
Willis P - teaching in Elkton Pct. in 1880
John Joseph
Joseph
Martha
Elizabeth(or Sarah)

I am also, trying to find the name of the parents of Nancy S. Johnson Crane Hendricks. I have had no success with this search for the Johnson family. The only family member I have found is her brother, Augustus Prout Johnson (wife, Frances B.)who lived in this area. They have children buried in the Laney Cemetery. Augustus and Frances Johnson died in 1896-1904 and are buried at Weir, Kansas.

My great-grandparents, George and Nancy S. Hendricks moved to Oswego, Kansas, between 1880 and 1886. Nancy died in 1907 and George in 1916. Both are buried at Oswego.

I am enclosing a stamped envelope for your convenience and would appreciate very much, any information you might send or names yfupersons to whom I might write to gather more information.

I send my best wishes for a happy holiday and good year, 1978.

Sincerely,

Mrs. Richard D. Nunneley(Mary)

Dear Doris:

Thanks for your letter and the information I needed concerning your parents. I was delighted to hear from a cousin I know, but have never met. Mother gave me a picture of you and Hazel which was taken when you were both "very young ladies".

Mother and Aunt Ruth are the only children of Ella and Orrin that are still living. Aunt Ruth lives in Temple, Texas with her daughter and Mother and Dad live at Drumright, Okla. Mom and Dad celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on May 25, 1977 and we had a lovely celebration. Many members of both sides of the family came to Drumright to the fun event.

I am having great difficuly researching this Hendricks and Mitchem family, since so few of the "old timers" are still around. I only wish I had started when Aunt Myrtle was still here, for I am sure she probably had more knowledge of the family than anyone, since she lived with Grandma Mitchem for so many years. No one I have contacted even knows what Grandma Hendricks(Nancy),your father's mother's parents names are - her maiden name was Nancy S. Johnson, but no one knows anything else. Do you know of anyone who might have any information about your Grandma Hendricks? Mother said that your Dad went away to work or something when you were young and she didn't think you would remember too much, but would like anything you might remember.

Some of the Hendricks information I have was collected from papers that Raymond Hendricks had. His wife gave them to me a few months ago. She told me recently that Billy would come to see me the next time he comes to Bartlesville, so maybe he will have more information.

It has snowed here for the past 10 days, which you must know, is most unusual for Okla. The sun is very nice today, but it is not warm enough to melt the snow. I just can't believe that we can have such weather for this part of the country.

Must close for now, but again, send my thanks for your information and letter and would like to hear from you again. Hope your health remains very good through this rather cold winter.

Would like you to write when you feel like it -

Coulterville, Ill., 62237

Dear Mrs. Coulter:

Your name was given to me by Mrs. Wanda Groennert of Nashville, and at her suggestion, I am writing. I have hopes you may be able to direct me to someone living in Coulterville who may remember a family by the name of John and Kate Crane Hood.

Kate Crane Hood was a half-sister to my grandmother, Ella Adaline Hendricks(her parents were George W. Hendricks and Nancy S. Johnson Crane Hendricks - lived at Elkton, Ill. and Oswego, Kan.)

I am seeking Hood family members or someone who knows them in hopes they can assist my search for places of burial of members of our family.

My mother and grandmother visited Coulterville in 1925-26, at which time my grandmother stated, after visiting the Coulterville Cemetery(?), "I saw more names I know at the cemetery than faces I now know on the Coulterville streets."

I would appreciate any names you might send. Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

21st Vice-President Thomas Andrews Hendricks—Democrat, Indiana, 1885 (President Grover Cleveland). Born: September 7, 1819, Muskingum County, Ohio. Died: November 25, 1885, Indianapolis, Ind.

Thomas Andrews Hendricks

Failure of Chester Alan Arthur to pursue nomination for a full presidential term in 1884 puzzled his associates. Many of them were upset by his apparent indifference even though he was considered, along with Senator Blaine of Maine, to be the prime contender for the Republican nomination.

What his friends and associates did not know was that Arthur did not have much longer to live. Shortly after he became president, Arthur learned that he had a serious kidney ailment, Bright's disease.

President Arthur did not protest when a New York delegate placed his name in nomination at the Republican convention of June, 1884, held once again at Chicago's Exposition Hall. Yet he did not seem disappointed when the convention chose instead, on the fourth ballot, Senator Blaine who finally achieved the presidential nomination on his third try.

The Democrats convened at the same Exposition Hall a month later. There was talk of renominating Samuel J. Tilden, who had come so close to winning the presidency in 1876. But now, at the age of seventy, Tilden was a sick and feeble man; he had been debilitated by a stroke and by a general deterioration of health so that he walked with difficulty, in a tottering shuffle, and barely spoke above a whisper.

Tilden had his wits remaining to him, however, if little else. When it was reported to him that his running mate of 1876, Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana, had expressed the hope that they might run again on the same ticket, Tilden commented, with a twinkle in his one good eye: ". . . I do not wonder, considering my weakness!"

The report was misleading, for Hendricks had always been bitterly disappointed that he himself had not been chosen for the presidency. In 1876 he had no desire to "play second fiddle to 'Shinplaster Sam,' " and the prospect of once again submerging his own ambitions in 1884 did not please him.

A month before the convention, Tilden announced that he would not be a candidate. The Democrats thus lost the one national figure they hoped would bring the country back to them. They were left with an array of uninspiring favorite sons.

The preconvention favorite was a governor whose career had been both pallid and brief. The three hundred pound Grover Cleveland had served for two years as sheriff of Erie County, one year as mayor of Buffalo, and was now in his second year as governor of New York. It was not a record to arouse exaltation, but Cleveland was Tilden's personal choice; besides, the Democrats were well aware that New York could prove decisive.

Nine other names besides Cleveland's were placed in nomination, including Hendricks's. On the first ballot Cleveland had 392 votes, far short of the 547 necessary under the Democrats' two-thirds rule.

Hendricks, with 45½ votes, had only the sixth highest total, but he made the most trouble for Cleveland. On the second ballot, his followers engineered an attempt to stampede the convention in his favor.

The Hendricks boom died aborning, even with his delegates shouting themselves hoarse and a band whooping it up for the usual parading in the aisles. At the end of the second ballot, Cleveland went over the top with 683 votes; Hendricks had the same 45½ votes.

With New York thus accounted for, attention shifted to another vital and always doubtful state, Indiana. In the previous election, New York and Indiana had gone Republican. If the Democrats were to win in 1884, both states were needed.

So the convention chose for vice-president the man who before then had been the irritant in the voting—sixty-five-year-old Thomas Andrews Hendricks of Indiana. He did not want the second spot and so instructed the Indiana delegation, who fought in vain to block his nomination.

Shouts went up all over the floor to redress the wrong that had been done Hendricks in the disputed election of 1876. The vice-presidency must be his. The Democrats would never forget that Tilden and Hendricks had won the popular vote in 1876 by 300,000, but had the election taken away from them by a partisan Republican majority on the electoral commission.

One delegate raised a cry that almost became a slogan for the Hendricks partisans:

"He deserves it; give it to him for God's sake!"

The vice-presidential nomination went to Hendricks by acclamation, in spite of his unwillingness. Cleveland, too, was unhappy with the choice of Hendricks, but he was practical enough to realize that the Democrats could lose the entire Midwest, as they had in 1880. With Hendricks on the ticket, they might at least salvage Indiana.

Nomination of Thomas Hendricks proved to be a wise move, for the Democrats did win Indiana, by a margin of 5,000 votes out of 475,000. They won New York as well, by exactly 1,500 votes out of 1,125,000. These two states were enough to provide the margin of victory. Cleveland and Hendricks defeated the Republicans with an electoral count of 54.61 percent. The Democrats were back in the White House for the first time in twenty-five years.

Despite an unimpressive record, Hendricks was quite acceptable to a sizeable segment of the electorate. His dismal opposition to civil rights, heartily applauded in the South (which voted solidly to support both him and Cleveland), found sympathy in much of the North as well, including his own state of Indiana. America, in the 1880s, was no shining citadel of enlightenment.

A lifetime Democrat, Hendricks achieved prominence at an early age when he began practicing law in Indianapolis. In 1848, when he was twenty-nine, he won election to the lower house of the Indiana Assembly. Over the next twenty-five years, he ran for public office at least a half-dozen more times, and was defeated as often as he was elected. He served as a congressman, United States senator, and one term as governor of Indiana. Of this last position, he said that "any man competent to be a notary public could be Governor of Indiana."

His law practice, in the meantime, flourished; his firm represented a number of railroads and large corporations. His fortune grew, as did his local fame. One sensational case, in 1871, brought him national attention.

A fellow Indiana lawyer, Lambdin P. Milligan, had been arrested in October of 1864 during the third year of the Civil War, and charged with treason. Milligan and others had been members of a secret organization known as "Knights of the Golden Circle"; they used as a password "Nu-oh-lac," Calhoun spelled backwards. Ardently pro-South and antiblack, they preached what amounted to insurrection against both the federal government and the state government of Indiana.

Milligan was tried by a military tribunal, which argued that under the suspension of civil law then in effect, it had the right to try civilians. Milligan was found guilty of the charge of treason and sentenced to hang. He managed to stave off execution through various appeals until the Supreme Court, in 1866, ruled that the military tribunal did not have the jurisdiction it had claimed. Milligan was freed.

Two years later, Milligan filed suit against the members of the tribunal for "an alleged wrongful arrest and imprisonment." He asked damages of $100,000, and retained former Senator Thomas A. Hendricks as his counsel.

The entrance of Hendricks into the case immediately created countrywide interest, for he was the leading Democrat in Indiana. It also seemed to imply, as opponents of Hendricks had long insisted, that he had always been in sympathy with the objectives of the Knights of the Golden Circle and may even have been a member of that subversive group.

Hendricks would admit to membership in only one "secret society," the Odd Fellows, but his record as a congressional legislator spoke for itself. In 1854, as a representative, he voted for the Kansas-Nebraska Act and for repeal of the Missouri Compromise; during his single term as a senator, from 1863 to 1869, he opposed the draft, emancipation for the slaves, the Freedmen's Bureau, and the Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments (dealing with the citizenship and rights of former slaves). In his view, "the Negro was inferior and no good would come from his freedom."

With such an attitude, it was not surprising that Hendricks agreed to represent Milligan in his damage suit against the tribunal.

Hendricks won the case, although the jury reduced Milligan's claim from $100,000 to five dollars.

With all its residue of treason, conspiracy, and subversion, the Milligan case did no harm to Hendricks's political reputation, for some months later, in 1872, his fellow Indianans chose him to be their governor. In a Republican year, Democrat Hendricks won the governorship by 1,200 votes.

Loss of the disputed presidential election of 1876 was a bitter blow to Hendricks and he never forgave Tilden for his pliant submission to the ruling of the electoral commission.

Hendricks continued to hope that the presidency itself would one day be his, even though he held no other public office after leaving the governorship of Indiana in 1876. He suffered a serious illness in 1882, and that should have been enough to bring about his retirement at last from the conniving and trickery and stratagems of political life. But he could not retire, and two years after his illness, he permitted the Democratic convention of 1884 to believe that he was still in the best of health, and he accepted nomination for vice-president.

Thomas Hendricks was sixty-five when he was inaugurated the twenty-first vice-president of the United States on March 4, 1885. He presided at a special session of the Senate, which met for exactly 30 days to consider the new presidential appointments.

When the special session of the Senate adjourned on April 2, 1885, Vice-President Hendricks completed his final official duty. The Forty-Ninth Congress would not convene for its regular session until the following December. The Vice-President died exactly two weeks before then, on November 25, 1885.

For the nation, the death of the Vice-President was unexpected, but Hendricks and his wife had both known for some months that the end might come at any time. Only a week before his death, Hendricks had told an associate:

"All this talk about my being a candidate in 1888 is the veriest twaddle. I shall never be a candidate for that or any office again."

22nd Vice-President Levi Parsons Morton—Republican, New York, 1889–1893 (President Benjamin Harrison). Born: May 16, 1824, Shoreham, Vt. Died: May 16, 1920, Rhinebeck, N. Y.

Levi Parsons Morton

On the evening of November 25, 1885, Washington was abuzz with the news of Vice-President Hendricks's death. But more than his passing concerned the politicians and Congressional leaders. They were confronted with the sudden realization that the nation had no elected successor to the President.

The Forty-ninth Congress, scheduled to meet for the first time on December 7, slightly less than two weeks away, still had to choose a Speaker of the House and a president pro tempore of the Senate. It was often the custom of the incoming vice-president to preside over the Senate for a few days after his inauguration, usually during a special session called for the express purpose of confirming nominations made by the new president, and then to leave the federal capitol to return home. The Senate would elect a president pro tem to occupy the chair in the absence of the vice-president.

Thomas A. Hendricks had fooled everyone. He had reported to the Senate chambers for each day of its thirty-day special session in March. No one expected him to be so persevering. It may be, as was reported, that he had nothing else to do; or perhaps he had a premonition and feared this might be his only chance to officiate. Whatever his motives, he gave the Senate no opportunity to choose a president pro tem.

Now, on the evening of Hendricks's death, alarmed Washington began to wonder about President Cleveland's health. Under the provisions of the Constitution then in effect, a successor to the duties of the presidency would be named by the Congress until an election could be held. Under provisions of legislation passed in 1792, the president pro tem of the Senate would be the first successor, and after him the Speaker of the House.

Since neither branch of the Congress had as yet chosen its presiding officer, it was imperative that Cleveland survive at least until December 7, for it was unthinkable that the nation be without someone to lead it. Fortunately for America's peace of mind, President Cleveland sailed through the next two weeks in perfect health. In fact, he was fine for the rest of his term, so actually the question of a successor was never put to the test.

It would be reasonable to suppose that the country's leaders would have been chastened by the death of their elderly Vice-President, and would then have made certain that their next candidates for the second chair would be young and vigorous men in the prime of life. But no, not so.

The Democrats, who met first, in the early part of June, 1888, renominated incumbent President Grover Cleveland for a second term, and, as his running mate, they chose Allen Granberry Thurman of Ohio, seventy-five years old. Not to be outdone, the Republicans, who convened two weeks later, nominated a ticket that was just as geographically balanced as the Democrats', and almost, but not quite, as elderly.

The Republicans chose for president a lawyer from Indiana, fifty-four-year-old Benjamin Harrison, and for vice-president, a wealthy banker from New York, sixty-four-year-old Levi Parsons Morton.

Nomination of Indiana's Benjamin Harrison deeply disappointed the New York delegation, who had expected the call to go once more to James G. Blaine of Maine. Now they would accept no less than second place. Eight years before, the New York machine, headed by Roscoe Conkling, had contemptuously rejected the vice-presidency. This time, with Thomas C. Platt to lead them, they were not about to make the same mistake.

Nor would Levi Morton allow the main chance to elude him again. He remembered all too keenly that the vice-presidency, which he tossed away in 1880, would have made him the president a year later. If it were possible for lightning to strike twice, he wanted to be there when it happened.

He accepted the Republican nomination gladly. He did no campaigning, but concentrated his efforts on fund raising, where he could do the most good. As always, he was strikingly successful.

Along with John Wanamaker of Philadelphia, who used the direct approach, a circular that simply said, "We want money and we want it quick!", Morton raised enough funds to help win the White House back for the Republicans. Although the ticket of Harrison and Morton lost the popular vote by 10,000, they won easily in the electoral totals. They even won New York, a tribute to Morton and a slap in the face to New York's other candidate, President Cleveland.

The Republicans and Benjamin Harrison had ample reason to be grateful to their new Vice-President.

Levi P. Morton came to politics at a late age. With little formal education beyond a few years in a Vermont seminary, he devoted the first half of a very long life to the business and financial worlds. At the age of fourteen, he took a job as a clerk in a general store at an annual salary of $50. Two years later, he moved to a bigger store and a larger salary, $200 per year. By the time he was twenty-one, in 1845, he owned a dry goods establishment in Hanover, New Hampshire, doing an annual volume of $100,000 a year.

From Hanover he moved to Boston and New York, growing more successful and wealthier with each move. In 1863, helped along by an old friend, Junius Spencer Morgan (whose son was to achieve worldwide fame as J. Pierpont Morgan), Levi Morton expanded into international banking. Within a few years, L. P. Morton & Co., with branches on both sides of the Atlantic, was one of the giants in international banking, and Morton counted himself one of the richest men in the country.

His first entry into the political arena came in 1876, when he was fifty-two. He ran unsuccessfully for Congress as the Republican candidate in Manhattan's Eleventh District, which had the city's most fashionable residences and contained more wealth within its confined boundaries than many states.

Two years later, Morton ran for Congress once again, this time successfully; he served exactly two years. Unlike many of his colleagues, he did little orating, for he was totally unaccomplished as a speechmaker. He preferred to stick to financial matters, particularly in the international area, a field he knew intimately.

When the Ohio delegation, in 1880, informally offered him the vice-presidency, it did so with the full knowledge that he did not deserve it based upon his political record alone. But the Ohioans also knew that he was one of their more influential money men, a supremely successful fund raiser, a generous contributor to the Republican cause, and a trusted Conkling associate.

From later developments, it would appear that Morton was not disappointed when he was ordered by Conkling to reject the vice-presidency. They both had something far more important in mind.

After the Republican convention of June 1880, Morton took on the task of fund raising as financial chairman of the Republican National Committee. But it was not the welfare of the Republican Party that concerned him and Conkling. They wanted presidential nominee James Garfield to guarantee that he would appoint Morton the secretary of the treasury in his cabinet. For Conkling, the treasury would mean unlimited control of federal patronage, since it was the cabinet position with the most jobs. For Morton, it would mean supervision of $700 million in government bonds that were about to come due and would thus have to be refunded. On either account, it was a juicy plum for any banker.

But Garfield evidenced a streak of stubbornness that surprised and shocked the Conkling-Morton faction. At the advice of Midwestern newspaper friends, who warned him against the corrupting influence of to back down, and Stevenson was given the green light. As first assistant postmaster, he had a gigantic task facing him, one that had to be handled with tact. As a biographical sketch of him noted, he had to "serve his party's interests well and yet give as little offense as possible to the opposition."

Stevenson's job was to get rid of the country's fourth-class Republican postmasters; before he was through, he fired forty thousand of them and replaced them with people who presumably were more efficient and more deserving because they were Democrats.

"Naturally," went on the biographical sketch, "his course provoked scathing denunciation, although very little of the criticism came from the men actually removed from office."

For his remarkable display of pragmatic firing and hiring, Stevenson earned a not too flattering nickname—"The Headsman"—and an appointment by Cleveland to the Supreme Court. Cleveland made the appointment in early 1889, shortly before his first term was to end. But the Republican majority in the Senate was still smarting from the wounds inflicted by Stevenson's wholesale firings and refused to confirm him.

The Democrats, however, were eager to show their gratitude, and they rewarded him with the vice-presidential nomination in 1892. On the afternoon of June 23, after the previous session had kept the weary delegates at the icehouse convention hall until well past 2:00 A.M., the famous Hendricks Club of Indiana whipped up a momentary enthusiasm for their governor, Isaac P. Gray. But the New York Tammany delegation, which had been rebuffed by Indiana when it sought the aid of that state in rejecting Cleveland, now did the same to Indiana and refused to support Isaac Gray; their 72 votes went, instead, to Stevenson and helped to turn the tide in his favor.

It was by no means a united Democratic party that faced the Cleveland-Stevenson administration that began on March 4, 1893. Many Democrats voiced displeasure with their President, now serving his second term, while expressing admiration for Vice-President Stevenson. Six months later, although the country didn't know it, the admiration might well have turned to howls of dismay.

In an effort to reduce inflation and to blunt the damaging effects of a business panic that began to sweep the country in the spring of 1893, President Cleveland called a special session of Congress to meet on August 7. He and his associates were committed to gold, and were determined to remove silver as an adjunct. They wanted less money in circulation, not more. And they wanted the value of gold increased, to the detriment of its rival metal, silver.

But fate stepped in; a malignant cancer was discovered on the roof of Cleveland's mouth. The expert medical advice was immediate removal. But how to do it without alarming the country? How to do it without jeopardizing the special session of Congress? Support for Cleveland's position was by no means assured; the strength of his office and his actual presence in Washington were mandatory if his program were to succeed.

Hovering over this scene of uncertainty was the specter of Vice-President Adlai E. Stevenson, who would certainly scuttle Cleveland's gold program in favor of silver if he were to succeed to the presidency.

It was decided that the operation to remove the cancerous growth would be conducted in secret. Only a handful of people, including the Vice-President, knew of the operation, which took place on July 1, 1893, in the luxurious saloon of the private yacht Oneida as it slowly steamed up the East River of New York City's Manhattan Island.

Guided by a team of six specialists, the surgery involved removal of most of Cleveland's left upper jawbone; the excision was done from the inside of his mouth so that no external scar would show. The operation was a success, except that a second and precautionary operation was performed two weeks later, under the same secrecy, to remove an additional suspected malignancy. Cleveland was fitted with a vulcanized rubber jaw to replace the section that had been removed, and although the hard rubber was extremely painful against his raw, healing wound, his face at least looked normal.

With the return of the President to health and to activity, the Vice-President lost his chance for glory. The country was saved from the curse of silver, and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois served out the rest of his term in quiet and uneventful anonymity, rating no more than the usual footnotes devoted to surviving vice-presidents.

If history, however, has largely forgotten him, his fellow citizens did not. During the election of 1900 he received the unusual honor of being renominated for vice-president by three different parties: the Democrats, the Populists, and the Silver Republicans, who favored bimetallism and opposed the importation of Chinese labor.

Despite this tripartite support, Stevenson lost. Eight years later, he was again unsuccessful in a bid for the governorship of Illinois. He retired and died in Bloomington at the age of seventy-eight.

Roscoe Conkling wanted one of his own puppets, Stewart L. Woodford, nominated for the vice-presidency. But the convention, still savoring its success over northeastern party bosses, pushed for an anti-Conkling man and selected, by acclamation on the first ballot, a man almost no one in the counrty had ever heard of, William Almon Wheeler of Malone, New York.

Earlier in 1876, when there was talk of a possible Hayes-Wheeler ticket, Hayes wrote to his wife:

"I am ashamed to say, Who is Wheeler?"

Who indeed was Wheeler?

And why was he, of all possibilities, the chosen man?

A Hayes biographer reports that much of the New York delegation, when told they could have the vice-presidential nomination, made a huge joke of it by saying, "Take it, Chet," and "You take it, Cornell." The merriment ended when someone made an inspired suggestion:

"Let's give it to Wheeler."

Choice of W. A. Wheeler to be Hayes's running mate was the signal for tremendous applause from the convention, as reported by The New-York Times.

"The vote could hardly have been put for the cheering," said the Times.

But the assembled Republicans may have had other matters in mind, for the Times dispatch ended with this:

"The delegates did not wait to continue the applause, but rushed off in every direction for the hasty dinner, the car tickets, and the out-speeding trains."

Two weeks later, the Democrats selected Samuel Jones Tilden, governor of New York, and Thomas Andrews Hendricks of Indiana.

The election that fall had an unexpected and unprecedented result—nobody won.

Tilden and Hendricks, the Democrats, received 4,300,000 popular votes, while the Republicans, Hayes and Wheeler, had slightly more than 4,000,000. With 185 electoral votes needed to win, Tilden ended with 184 and Hayes had 166, while the remaining 19, from three different states, were claimed and disputed by both sides.

What followed this deadlock can only be described as a fight for power, with the presidency the prize. Plotting, counterplotting, and bribery were the weapons, aided and abetted by "murder, maiming, mutilation and whipping," as an observer reported the scene in one of the disputed states.

In each of the three contending states, Louisiana, Florida, and South Carolina, rival slates of Democratic and Republican electors insisted only they were legitimate and should be so recognized. There was strong evidence that intimidation, violence and corruption had been used by both parties to secure their own votes or to discourage, in many cases forcibly, the newly enfranchised black people from casting their ballots.

With a rancorous stalemate continuing for weeks and the scheduled presidential inauguration only a month or two away, Congress finally agreed upon an electoral commission to determine just exactly who had been elected. The commission was as close to nonpartisan as it was possible to make it; in its final composition it consisted of seven Republicans, seven Democrats, and one man who was supposed to be independent, but was more Republican than Democrat. As could have been forecast, the majority of eight voted in favor of the Republicans, Hayes and Wheeler.

Thus, only hours before the inauguration of March 4, 1877, Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio and William A. Wheeler of New York became the nineteenth president and nineteenth vice-president of the United States, respectively, by an electoral count of 185 to 184. Although the Republicans strongly resisted charges of fraud or theft, it must be evident that, from the nineteen contested electoral votes, Tilden and Hendricks certainly should have taken at least one. And one only would have been enough.

But the decision of the electoral commission prevailed, so the Democrats lost, even though they had amassed 300,000 more popular votes.

There is no hard evidence that the New York delegation actually offered William A. Wheeler to the Republican convention because of a joke, but lacking evidence of other possibilities, it makes as valid an explanation as any; no logical reason existed for nominating Wheeler. (The venerated but hardly venerable tradition of geography did not hold in his case, for the Republicans, in the election that fall, lost Wheeler's home state of New York, and two adjoining states, Connecticut and New Jersey. In the previous five elections New York went Republican four times.)

Wheeler had a brief moment of prominence in 1875 when he successfully arbitrated a governmental dispute in Louisiana with a settlement proposal that came to be known as the "Wheeler Compromise." But Wheeler had done nothing else in his ten years as a congressman to earn national attention. All that could be said on his behalf was that he was a modest man and enjoyed a spotless reputation, much like his presidential running mate, Rutherford Hayes.

Not even the Democrats could find anything in Wheeler to attack. They made a futile stab at condemnation by falsely accusing him of participating in the "Salary Grab" of 1873. In that imprudent piece of legislation, roundly condemned by public and press alike, Congress had voted itself an increase in pay from $5,000 a year to $7,500, with back pay of $5,000 covering the previous two years. It was this latter provision that aroused the most anger, not the raise itself.

Congressman Wheeler had voted against this measure. In fact, he so strongly opposed it that he even went to all the trouble of returning his entire back pay, which in his case came to $4,482.40 "after specified deduction." So that accusation bore no fruit at all, and the Democrats

Dear Sir:

I wish to procure a copy of the marriage license of James Hendricks to Sally Brown. They were married on 29 January 1838, in Adair County, Kentucky.

I have found the marriage date in a book, Marriage Records of Adair County, Kentucky, 1802-1840, published in 1975 by Ruth Paull Burdette which is in the Kentucky Historical Society Library. It states that they were married on the above date, but need an official copy of their license from your office.

I am enclosing my check in the amount of $3.00, which I hope will cover the cost of the license.

Thank you for your assistance.

Sincerely,

Mrs R. D. Nunneley

Dear Lynette,

Received your letter and the Hendricks Family, Xerox - it was very interesting and would really like to read the entire article.

My typewriter is really neat - It is an IBM Executive (about a 1976). I work at the Bartlesville Public Library in technical processing and my "usual" typewriter was in the shop for repairs. They loaned the library this typewriter while mine was being repaired. It had a for sale tag on it, so when they brought mine back. I told them they had just sold a typewriter - to me - I've had it for over a year and really enjoy using it, but most of all, think the carbon ribbon makes such good copy. The type size is also, great for charts.

Now to these Hendricks again. The old story, oft repeated, is that my James Hendricks is a cousin to VP Thomas Hendricks. I have, some long time ago, corresponded with a lady in Florida, Dorothy N. Lloyd, Box 6001, Hollywood Hills Sta., Hollywood, FLA, 33021, who says all Hendricks say they are related to Thomas Hendricks. The cute thing about the story that has been handed down in our family, no one cared for him, because he was the wrong political party!!

I am quite interested in one name on your husband's chart, that of Willis Hall Hendricks. My James Hendricks (1815-1875) named a son, Willis Vadon Hendricks, (1849-1907). We have all wondered where the name Willis came from and if it was a surname. It has not shown up in any research, either as a first or surname. with this one exception, Willis Vadon Hendricks. Do you have any ideas?

You tend to ramble...this one too...now let's back up to Dorothy Lloyd of Fla. Have you had any correspondence with her. If not, let me know and I will copy some of her charts on the Hendricks. Some of the names on her charts did go to Iowa, from PA. Archibald Hendricks (1801-1865, d Iowa) married Mary Paul· Ann Hendricks (1800-1870, d Iowa) married William Scott Henderson. If you need these, will copy them. Since you did not state where in Iowa your Hendricks were located, I missed a possible connection. Ann died in Henry Co., Iowa and Archibald in Lee Co., Iowa.

I would very much like to have the address of the Don Hendricks in Colorado with whom you have had correspondence. He may not be at all connected, but it is sure worth a try.

How sad that your George Alcock had the idea to buy Block Island and is not so honored. Would almost make me want to put up my own bronze tablet with his name on it. Do you suppose they would correct it someday?

Must close. Let me know about Mrs. Lloyd and the charts.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Mrs. Nunneley,

I was just checking an old OGS Report - Summer 1982 & saw you were researching the Hendricks line. I will enclose my husband's Chart and see if you think there is a connection. If you will return yours to me I will see if any of the names fit.

I have a number of census sheets with brothers & family - just let me know. I do know their were Hendricks in Pa & Ky also. We might have a fit!

Dear Mrs. Hendricks:

Thank you for the chart and letter. I am enclosing same and some family group sheets for my Hendricks family.

I have, for years, searched for the parents of James Hendricks (married Sarah Brown) without success. Had a researcher do work in Kentucky and she remained as stumped as wer have all been. Her only suggestion was that the name might have been Hendrickson, since she found those names prominent in the counties where my family originated. She found many tax records, some marriage records, etc., but was unable to determine just who was the father and mother of James.

Your state is, also, of interest to me. There is a possibility that another of my ancestors lived there. I am a descendant of Charles Rose of New Jersey (a Revolutionary War soldier from that state) and he is supposed to be a great grandson of Tormut Rose (married Hannah George) who, in 1660 was one of 16 men who purchased Block Island, Rhode Island. The original land remained in the Rose family until 1959 when it was sold. The island was divided into 17 shares. Sixteen for the investors and the remaining share for the minister. Many people have done research on this family, but some of it is still unproven. It is interesting that the family of my Charles Rose named sons Hopkins Rose and Greene Conner - both good Rhode Island names.

Again, thanks for your letter and let me know the Kentucky areas and I will go through the Hendricks material from the researcher and others to see if I have anything that helps you.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Mary,

I'm impressed by your typewriter! And your letter is so concise and informative. I tend to ramble and sometimes speculate. Have found on what I call my "fishing expeditions" I sometimes pull some lines together.

We lived in Ky at one time & I copied a few misc. Ky. Hendricks name. there were 2, Abraham & Theophilus Hendrick - who came to Bath Co, Ky. from Penna "by way of Maryland & Virginia". There was a Presb. minister Rev Hendrick who preached in Lewis Co Ky - he was "of Flemingsburg. Also a Capt. John Hendrick about 1826.

I've corresponded with a Don Hendricks from Colo whose Hendricks line came from Ky. I can't put my hands on his letters this p.m. but will try to locate his address for you. Also will xerox an origin chart.

Found your Block Is. ancestors interesting. One of my ancestors Dr. Geo Alcock were among the 1st settlers also. They met at the Alcock house to make plans & it was Geo. Alcocks idea to buy the land. He was there only 3 years & returned to Boston to die - in his early 30's. He's not listed on Block Is. on their bronze tablet & I pointed his name out to the Historical Soc. there & even found his parcels of land that were next to the ministers. Had a nice chat with the volunteer there who grew up on that same land. Fun!

Thank you for your charts. Will put them with the group that will sometime be tied together. Have gone to the files several times since I started this but have nothing new to add.

Thank you for your prompt response.

Sincerely,
Lyn Hendricks

Dear Martha:

I have copied my Hendricks material and will let you decide where to begin and what to do. Have copied my letters to Dorothy Lloyd so that you can see our "conversations" by mail.

I would like to employ you for an initial period of eight hours at this time and we can see where we stand at the end of this period of time. May be that we will need to go a bit further, but would like to start with that amount.

I am enclosing an envelope for your questions after going over the enclosed material. Let me know what else may be needed for you to get underway.

I am quite excited about this, my first venture, in hiring a genealogist to help me.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Mary:

Was nice to hear from you after all this time.

A few weeks ago I got out my grand mothers old purses looking for old letters. She always kept this in an old purse, along with other papers, obits & receipts she wanted to keep & when it was full she'd start another one. I ran across the enclosed Hendricks obits. Since I've turned all the letters of inquiry in a 3 ring binder over to the Hist Soc. I couldn't remember who was searching what, so I'm glad you wrote again. I don't know if these are your people, but you can keep them. I suppose the reason my grandmother had them was, she knew them & they all belonged to the Baptist Church in Nashville and this is where the services were. For the life of me I can't place the faces but barely remember the names. I was to small then or wasn't interested - probably both. I got interested after my grandmother died & could just kick myself for I know she could have filled in a lot of gaps for me. I'm like a million others I guess.

To save Cathy (my 6 yr old) the past I'm now in the process of typing up all I can remember or know about the people (past + present) the times + a personal glimps into the lives of special aunts + uncles, + grandparents whom I knew then I will bring it on down to us. I have 21 pages typed up + at that rate I could write a novel by the time Im done. HA But she will not want knowing about what is left of us. Some good, some bad, but she will Know it, Many little humorous stories the depression etc. She's the only reason I got into this to begin with and its opened up a new world to me. Ive ~~meet~~ met some very nice people, found relation + become bogged down with our own little county.

We are in the process of putting together a new Wash Co Hist. God – what a job. I hope it comes off as planned, but the people of Wash Co are doing like they did us on "Looking Back." Couldn't care less till it went out of business, now people talk about us Starting it up again. They completely sold out the Obit book I put to-Nashville Democrat gether 1903-1908 + have a few copies of LB left but its being sold + they're making money on it. We bought all the micro film of the Nashville Journal + put it in the library + bought a new electric typewriter for the Hist Soc + the rest of the $ the Gene. Soc had was turned over to the Hist Soc. to blow as they see fit. & this they seem to be doing quite well. As you can see I'm not to happy about the way they operate.

I hope someday we can get together a few cemetery books together to sell, but that seems down the line now if there's any money left over.

We are busy in the field now and Cathy is back in school for all day. (1st)

Made applebutter 2 weeks ago, been canning in between & trying to keep 3 yards cut, (cabin, his folks & ours.) It must all amount to about 7-8 acres each time. I do keep busy. Want to start cataloguing the Greenwood Cem this fall - hopefully. Its a big one. That should keep us busy for a year.

Well Ive rattled on long enough. Hope all is well with you & yours. Write when you can & take care.

Sincerely
Wanda

P.S. Our cabin has been busted into 3 times since May. (Aug & Sept)

HON. CHARLES S. LUKE.

The community was shocked Monday morning by the sad news of the death of Representative Charles S. Luke, who passed away unexpectedly after a very brief illness. The sudden bereavement came to the family without warning. Mr. Luke was seized with a bilious attack Saturday morning at the home of his parents, but his case was not considered serious. However, as he grew worse Sunday night, Dr. R. E. Vernor and Dr. Roscoe Vernor were called and gave medical aid. As the case assumed a critical aspect, Dr. R. A. Goodner was telephoned for. The message was barely sent when, at 5:50 o'clock a. m., Mr. Luke breathed his last. Mrs. Chas. Luke was in Chester at the time visiting her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Adderly, unaware of the fatal illness of her husband, and arrived several hours after he had departed this life.

Charles S. Luke, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Luke, was born at Elkton Sept. 24, 1871, and was reared in this county. In 1889 he came to Nashville. He was educated in the public schools and McKendree College and was admitted to the bar in 1896.

On June 24, 1907, he was united in marriage to Miss Lola D. Adderly, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Adderly, in Chester, by Rev. Belt, minister of the Episcopal church.

Mr. Luke served two terms as city attorney and in 1902 was elected as member of the state legislature and re-elected in 1904, 1906 and 1908. One of his last acts as member of the legislature was to vote for the primary bill which was passed last week.

Good-natured, kindly and pleasant-spoken, Mr. Luke was popular with all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. His services as a lawyer were in great demand and he was valued as a public speaker. He made many friends while in the legislature and was cordially liked by all his colleagues. He was a member of the Red Men, the Knights of Pythias and the Modern Woodmen of America.

He leaves a wife, one daughter, Helen Louise, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Luke, and two sisters, Misses Carrie and Eva Luke.

The father, David Luke, is seriously ill with pneumonia and his condition is aggravated by grief over the loss of his only son.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. David Luke, Rev. Rodman, pastor of the Baptist church at DuQuoin, officiating. Burial was made at the Masonic cemetery.

At the grave Speaker Edward Shurtleff and Lee O'Neil Brown, minority leader of the House, paid tributes to the departed. The following members of the Legislature acted as pall bearers: J. L. Flannigan, of East St. Louis, George Welborn, of Woodlawn, P. F. Murray, of Chicago, H. J. C. Beckemeyer, of Carlyle, Chester W. Church, of Chicago, and Jas. E. Etherton, of Carbondale.

Loving regard for the departed was tenderly shown by the beauty and fragrance of the many floral tokens.

The following members of the Legislature attended: Speaker Edward Shurtleff, of Marengo, J. S. Clark and Dan Kelley, of Vandalia, Lee O'Neil Brown, of Ottawa, H. J. C. Beckemeyer, of Carlyle, Chas. L. Scott, of Grayville, G. W. English, of Vienna, Thos. Tippit, of Olney, Robert E. Wilson, John Griffin, C. W. Church and R. F. Murray, of Chicago, M. S. Lint, of Mitchell, Geo. B. Welborn, of Woodlawn, John L. Flannigan, of East St. Louis, James M. Etherton, of Carbondale, W. C. Blair, of Mt. Vernon, and Wm. Stephenson, of Tilden.

Others attending the funeral were: O. M. Burgess, of Centralia, Alex Murray, of Equality, A. C. Millspaugh, of Mt. Vernon, C. C. Clayton, of Chester, Mrs. James M. Etherton, of Carbondale, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Teel, of Mt. Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Campbell, of East St. Louis, B. C. England and daughter Edna, of Jerseyville, V. J. Adami, of Coulterville, Geo. J. Heilig, of Jonesboro, Z. P. Forman, J. W. Caruth and D. H. Spencer, of Beaucoup.

Dear Mary:

Nice to hear from you again. Congrats on the new grand baby. The name Bradley has certainly stayed in your family. A very old family tradition. Kinda nice to dig up your roots & find this out.

The new History book is moving slow to say the least, but the book man kept extending our deadlines to Dec 1. when the board said to heck with it. So really the main work has just started. The book chairman sent out a letter stating it would be out in July, but I hardly doubt it. If you don't have it by Sept. write the Hist Soc & raise H___. Im allowing 2 extra months because they are only in the second stage (out of 3). The 1st stage took a long time due to lack of volunteers & so much being missed on the 1st reading. (spelling etc.) Several of us quit the project which didn't help matters any. I couldnt in good conscious continue with the project, knowing the screwing the Co. was giving us. They made our print smaller, took 80 earned pages away, raised our price 7.6% to name a few things. I got the company man told 2 mo ago & I think well at least get our print back. If not be prepared to use a magnifying glass. There are over 1100 family stories so it will be a wealth of information for the future

Dear Mary:

Nice to hear from you again. Congrats on the new grand baby. The name Bradley has certainly stayed in your family. A very old family tradition. Kinda nice to dig up your roots & find this out.

The new History book is moving slow to say the least, but the book man kept extending our deadlines to Dec 1. when the board said to heck with it. So really the main work has just started. The book chairman sent out a letter stating it would be out in July, but I hardly doubt it. If you don't have it by Sept. write the Hist Soc & raise H___. I'm allowing 2 extra months because they are only in the second stage (out of 3). The 1st stage took a long time due to lack of volunteers & so much being missed on the 1st reading. (spelling etc.) Several of us quit the project which didn't help matters any. I couldnt in good conscious continue with the project, knowing the screwing the Co. was giving us. They made our print smaller, took 80 earned pages away, raised our price 7.6% to name a few things. I got the company man told 2 mo ago & I think we'll at least get our print back. If not be prepared to use a magnifying glass. There are over 1100 family stories so it will be a wealth of information for the future but the whole project should have been handled different in regards to the past history. Everything came down to 15 days to gather this & we should have had a committee doing this from the beginning to glean newspapers etc. I was also on the board but have quit going due to their inability to put the book man in his place and also because I dont want to be a party to putting the Soc. in the hole to pay for the book. Fact is I become so disgusted I put my genealogy away & have quit. The only thing Im doing is gathering cemetery data. The Public Library is Zeroxing my copies (2 notebooks full) & I hope in time there will be a record there & the Hist Soc. In case one set is lost in a fire. As near as I can figure we have about 60 cem. catalogued. (large & small) As you well know - I never did see eye to eye with some of the board members & this was the last straw You mite try David Watts % Hist Soc. for research He does it for them when he has time.

Im on the Greenwood Cem board & we've been cataloging it. I want to bring their records up to date more thoroughly. We know a lot don't have stones, etc so Im busying going thru funeral records, court house records to find out whose buried there, even if we wont know when-we will have most of the names buried there. It won't be 100% but will do the best we can & hopefully they'll update their book to include all burials from here on out.

In regards to above I took the following from J.D. Mann Funeral records:

There is a lady in the Friendship Manor Nursing Home _ Nashville, Ill - 102 or 103 yrs old She's the last of the Lukes and she came from Elkton area years ago - her name is Carrie Luke. She is still very bright & looks like she did 40 years ago. Ive known her all my life. Went to Baptist Church here and her & her sister & my grandmother (mrs Lepa Smith) were always friends. I used to haul garden produce to them out of mom's garden till 15 years ago when I got married.

I'm enclosing a picture of Carrie & my Uncle Ed Peithman. They celebrated birthdays together at the home. Ed died last year, but he has a brother there also 102 yrs old. 3 people over 100 in same Home + 2 of them brothers.

Uncle Ed was the last survivor of the famous Dawes Commission which you may be familiar with as he helped survey Okla. You can keep the picture in case Carrie turns out to be a relative. Prentice Hendricks, Nashville Ill the man I told you about several yrs ago is related to her, so there maybe a connection. Im also closing an obit of Carries brother.

Hope this will be useful somewhere down the line and doesn't serve to confuse you.

Best Wishes + write again.

Sincerely
Wanda

P.S. Did you ever write the Elkton church Elkton, Ill.?

slaves) engaged in agriculture, commerce, and manufacturing and trades.

"Although more than one set of numbers often appears on the schedules, the system of numbering, whether stamped or written . . . is generally that which (1) runs consecutively from the beginning to the end of the volume, and (2) appears to be consistent with the numbering for other volumes for the state. Where a schedule begins on a page not numbered, an 'A' number (36A, for example) has been used for identification . . . ."[1]

The above system has been used throughout this index. All unnumbered pages were given an 'A' number or, in one or two cases where two unnumbered pages occurred consecutively, a 'B' number. This means that a name may appear, for example, on page 36A while part of the information concerning this person appears on page 37.

Counties have been abbreviated as follows:

Photocopies of specific pages of census records are provided for a fee by the Correspondence Branch (NNCC), National Archives (GSA), Washington, D.C. 20408. No form is now required. Use of GSA Request form 7029 has been discontinued.

As Val D. Greenwood points out in his Researcher's Guide to American Genealogy, there was a built-in "error factor" in the original census. We would like to add that there is a built-in human error factor in any index. Please be aware of both these deficiencies when shopping for your ancestor.

Your ancestor may have been in Kentucky in 1820, but, for one of many reasons, he may not be listed in this index. Over 70,000 heads of households are listed. We sincerely hope your ancestor is among them.

Death record & will, Indiana Co., Pa. & Westmoreland Co., Pa.; Indiana Co. Hist. Soc., Bathsheba Cem.
Pension record (on #6 Nathaniel's Civil War service) includes mg record. Photocopy appears clean. Could Mary Ann have fibbed about her age? Not found on censuses after 1850. Jacob may be first born? Maybe Mary Utzler prev. md + Mary Ann not a Hendricks?

Children: (Not necessarily in correct order)

Jamison should have been old enough for Civil War - apparently do not have enough info to find records. None found for John Hall - terribly common name. Especially with a wife Mary! They had a son Jamison Hall - if he could ever be found, that might be a lead.

Dear Dorothy -

I was thrilled to receive your letter and the Hendricks information. Our home has been "full" for the holidays, so waited to acknowledge until it was a bit quieter.

I am sorry to say, that I find nothing that ties my James Hendricks to Abraham. It is still only "oral tradition" that my James and Thomas A. Hendricks are cousins. It was told to me by an aunt, Myrtle Hendricks Grove(1886-1970)who was very interested in family history, when I was not! So, sadly, I ask no questions the day she gave me the crystal creamer and sugar that came from Kentucky to Illinois on the wagon, wrapped in the quilt, as were the other crystal items, etc. Sound familiar - then in 1975 I became interested in many such things, only to have no one to continue those good family stories. Why we wait until the last good source is gone is beyond me.

I do remember that Auntie M was not too thrilled that "cousin" Thomas was VP, because he was not of her party and she was politically active in Kansas. She was a bright and most interesting lady and was still a justice of the peace in her 70s.

I have, within the past year, located another Hendricks researcher in California, Lena Trumbull of Susanville, whose husband is a second cousin to my mother(we find). I asked her if she had any unusual family history she could share concerning our James Hendricks. She wrote - James was a cousin of a vice-president of the US, but their family was not too happy with his political views. We have both had quite a laugh over the same family views concerning people who have never met and did not know the other existed.

Now to my Great-great grandfather, James Hendricks. I know nothing, not parents, brothers, sisters - he was on the 1840 census of St. Clair County, Illinois(as James Hendrix) and continued living in St. Clair and Washington County, Illinois until his death in 1875. I had a researcher work in St. Clair County with no results. She found several Hendricks in early Illinois, but I can not tie anything to James.

I would like the name of your recommended Kentucky genealogist. Since I have had no luck and am a "beginner" I really need professional help. I have had such good luck on my husband's lines and have two back to RW, but my Hendricks, Mitchem, Johnson and Brown are stopped at 1800, so would appreciate the name of the person you feel may help me.

Hope we can keep in touch and will copy the information from the Illinois researcher for your Hendricks records and any correspondents. It was mostly notes taken, apparently, when doing research for many and done for me as a member of the St. Clair Genealogical Society(a free service to members). It might help someone.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Dorothy:

Got a letter off today to Martha Stamper of Frankfort, KY and am quite anxious to hear from her. I decided to write to her and ask her rates and what she needed and expected before sending a check, since I do not know her rates. I will hire her anyway, but felt a preliminary letter might be best. As soon as she gets underway and sends anything, I will copy it and send it on to you for your records. You are so good to share that what she finds may help me, you, or someone and I want you to have it.

You mentioned two well-known Dunkards - the only records I have found, church affiliation for these Hendricks are Methodist Episcopal(Kansas) and the Lively Grove, Illinois Baptist Church Roll beginning 1874 which listed Martha Hendricks, Sarah Hendricks, and Katie Crain. The church later moved to Elkton, Illinois and is now the Elkton Union Church(whatever that is). Sarah Hendricks was James' wife, Martha Hendricks, his daughter and Katie Crain, his step-granddaughter(the daughter of my great grandmother by her first marriage)confusing, huh? I have a letter my great grandfather George Washington Hendricks(son of James)wrote in 1899, in which he states that he, after some duties, might go to church - my mother says, doubtful. She does not recall him being so involved - Grandmother was, but not Judge Hendricks. So, if James Hendricks, at anytime, was a Dunkard, our family does not have such knowledge.

I will copy census records, etc., for Illinois and send them to you under separate cover. Although they have not answered my questions at this point, they may give a clue to someone who contacts you. Congratulations - you may become the Hendricks clearing house, if you are not already such.

Sincerely,

Mary —

Dear Mary:

I just found a family group sheet on James Hendricks in my files, sent me (probably 2nd or 3rd hand) by another correspondent. It seems to be identical to yours except you have info on "Nancy S. Johnson Crane" and he has only "Nancy S. Crain" with no other info.

I hope this may be of some help to you.

Dear Mary:

Thank you for your letter and all the lovely enclosures. I think the only thing you duplicated on was the family group sheets. Your copies of the first two Ky censuses are much clearer than the ones I have.

A quick look at the 1810-1820 didn't give much encouragement on parents of your James born 1815. Knox Co. formed 1799, so they (his parents) should have been there. Indexes are well known for inaccuracies and omissions. His father could have come and gone between censuses or be in someone else's household.

We'll hope Mrs. Stamper comes up with a clue from the tax lists or whatever.

I'm going to look through my Missouri files this weekend and see if I can come up with any possibility, as there were some Hendricks who went from Ky to Missouri then to Ill.

I will be out of town for a week or ten days early in March, so if it happens you don't hear from me as promptly as you expect, you'll know why.

I have always thought that comment on William Hendricks, Madison, Iowa was a misprint - someone wrote that to me long ago. I just looked in my zip book and find no Madison, Iowa. I suppose there's a possibility there's such a township and there are scads of Williams - but I think the one referred to was the one who had been Governor of Indiana - son of Abraham.

I tried to find out more about that Absolom Hendricks in Alabama - if I remember correctly, I found a marriage and a deed. That was all. I rather thought he was probably too young to be a brother of Abraham. I don't believe I have the 1830 census on him, if you find it convenient to send when you get access to the book again.

I need about 6 months steady work to get my Hendricks index up to date.

Sincerely,
Dorothy

My fee for research is seven dollars per hour, plus the cost of copies and postage.

I do not require a retaining fee, but will bill on completion of the search.

Please indicate the amount of time that you want me to spend on the initial search and send along enough information, posted on family group sheets and lineage charts if possible, to fill me in on the background of the family that you want searched.

Sincerely,
Martha Stamper

P.S. I was most pleased to hear my reccomendation from Mrs Lloyd, we have corresponded for some time.

My research load is heavy, but I usually get a report back to my clients within two to three weeks.

The Black lines were caused by my using a yellow lining pen on the original letter. I don't do that any more.

Think she may have gotten this from Don Hendricks.

Our great, great grandfather was No X Abraham Hendricks, born in 1801 perhaps in Kentucky as that is where he came from. Our great grandfather Abraham 'Squire' Hendricks was born September 6 1829 but we don't know where. Great, great grandfather is buried in Harrison County Missouri.

Carrol Co. Ohio

Abraham 'Squire' married Mary Ann Morrison February 14 1850. She was born February 18 1833. She died September 9 1859. 'Squire' died September 4 1911. I suppose Mary Ann Was buried in Ohio State. Why? What was said about Ohio? 'Squire' is buried in the East Lenora Cemetery as is his sister Kate Main (Catherine) born February 28 1827 and died August 17 1909. I've heard my grandfather say that his dad had gone to get salt. When he came home in about 2 weeks, Mary Ann had contracted pneumonia and died and the neighbors buried her. There were 10 children in 'Squire's' family. He had a twin and there were 2 other pairs. Besides the sister, Catherine, my dad said he had heard of Pete and Ned.

the twin? YES

John Wesley born April 16 1852 died January 20 1932.
Silas William born January 22 1854 died April 2 1914.
Willis [illegible] born September 15 1856 died September 9 1898.

In the fall of 1872 'Squire' Hendricks came to Norton county from Iowa Illinois. He staked 4 homesteads near Lenora and went back to Illinois. In the fall of 1873, he and two of his sons, Silas and Willis, came and wintered here. In January af 1875, John came to improve his claim. They came with ox team and brought cattle with them. They came down the Republican Valley in Nebraska. Blue stem was as high as the ox's backs all the way along the valley. 'Squire' and boys were not the only Hendricks who came. The others didn't like the Lenora vicinity so went back into Nebraska and they lost contact with one another.

Aunt Grace Musser married Ernest Brunson when she was 15 and he was 29 or 30. They had 7 children: Merle, Virgil, Guy, Velma, Opal, Dorothy and Goldie. All have passed away excepting Merle and Goldie. I never did see any of them. They lived in Portland Oregon then later to California.

Aunt Mabel was married your - about 15. She had one daughter - Josephine Cahill who was born in December of 1909. I saw her one time. After her mother was married the 7th time, Josephine committed suicide. She and I used to write to one another all the time. She was a real pretty girl.
Aunt Mabel's last husband was Carl Rinquist. They are buried in Los Angeles.
Aunt Grace's second husband was Bill Lovelace. Ive never heard officially whether Aunt Grace is dead. We have corresponded for years and I haven't heard from her since before Christmas. She and Aunt Mabel were identical twins.

I have heard these 5 Hendricks tell about some of their pranks. It was really entertaining. One I remember. They would be together in evening trying to do something for excitement. They would decide on a bachelor or a fun couple that need to be [illegible] They'd gather all the noise makers they could find and sneak to their place - generally a dugout - then all cut loose at the same time. The culprits would come barging out - half scared to death,,yell at them, sick the dogs on them and one old man would go so far as to shoot at them (probably shootingin the air) Since my Dad was the youngest, he said the others always outran him getting away.
My dad has always told me so many things about 'Squire'. He really had a lot of love and respect for him. Since 'Squire' raised his 3 little boys - I expect he really knew what my grandad John went through raising his 3 little boys.
Grandpa 'Squire' have Dad and Uncle Charley each 40 acres of land. They each build their farmsteads.on these 40's - across the fence from one another. If 2 brothers ever loved one another, those 2 did. They always farmed together and helped one another - saw each other every day until Dad and Mama moved to Norton in 1937 to try to make enough salary to keep his home. Uncle Charley was lost so they moved to Cheyenne Wyoming. Uncle Charley was a dear uncle.

who is this?

I got this letter from Don R. Hendricks November 1976. His address is 2548 Waldean, Colorado Springs Colorado 80909. Maybe you'd like to corresnd with him.

We are looking for information on our end of the Hendricks Family. I hope that you can help us. The farthest back we were able to go was 1801. That was the year that [redacted] was born. Not for sure where he was born but that he came from Kentucky, perhaps born there or moved there with his family to Kentucky. At the age of 18 or 19 he was married and ~~my~~ great great grandfather Eli was born at Cape-Girardeau Missouri. We don't know if they had just moved there from Kentucky or were moving into Missouri enroute to [redacted] where they joined other members of the family. There they were engaged in farming. Grandpa Eli and his family later moved into [redacted] and also farmed there, [redacted] where both he and [redacted] are buried.

We are trying to locate facts on the family prior to 1820 wnen Eli was born, who were other members of Abraham's family, his father, his mother? Did they move to Kentucky or was he born in that state? What county did they live in? Later census that I was able to find him in stated he came from Kentucky - but where born we don't know. We sure would like to find some record of someone that had an Abraham in it. Someone said that some one or or more of the family moved into Tennessee. We had heard that they came from Pennsylvania but have no record of the county there.

We have quite complete records since 1820 - so if this would help anyone we would be glad to supply same.

We did at one time have some relatives in Phillipsburg. A cousin by name of Mrs. Hallie Parker - she was a daughter of a great uncle name of William Riley Hendridks - but we didn't know them.

I had a great uncle who was an attorney in Atwood and also had the bank there for a number of years. His name was Robert Stracy Hendricks, finally died in Topeka and buried there. He was alos a Representative to the State House there.

(Jack Hendricks is County Attorney at McCook Nebraska now.)

I have the original letter that your Aunt Bell (Regester) sent me in 1950. I've copied this from it.
Memories of Bill Hendricks by Mrs. Otis Regester who was born at Lenora Kansas February 17 1879 and died December 27 1966 at Glendale Cal.

I rember being in grandpa's [redacted]) store in Lenora and him giving me some candy. He had the first general store there and was also Post Master. Before there was a town, the Lenora Post Office was about 2 miles west of where they established the town. Grandpa wanted and tried to get them to call it Spring City - but they continued with the name Lenora.
One thing not quite clear in my mind is how and when my mother and flather met. [redacted] and [redacted] were married in [redacted]. They settled an abandoned claim near Lenora that same year. Papa and Mama made a living by trapping. They had traps set clear to the head of Elk Greek. Beaver, muskrat, and mink were thick in those days, also a few buffalo herds and Indians and occasionally an elk.
We three older children, Al, Myrtle and myself were born in that dugout. A flood came up in the middle of the night when I was a small baby and my mother had to wade waist deep, getting us all out. Almost everything was washed away and they had to move in with Jesse and Elizabeth Wilmot (Myrtle Kent Hendricks' grandparents). They lived at the bend of Elk Creek, farther north. Friends and neighbors got together and built a log cabin on higher ground for Papa and Mama. Papa was away at the time of the flood. Mama was alone with her 3 babies and Charlie Parker, a son from Uncle Joe Parker's first wife, lived with us for many years. Mama rolled me up in her feather tick and managed to grab a few clothes. Charlie carried Al and Myrtle out. Etta was born in the log cabin. But as it had been hurriedly built, was not warm enough in winter so they built a sod house the next year. Clarence was born there. I remember the night he was born. Being absolutely nuts about babies all my life is why I can see him so clearly and one of the proudest moments of my life was the day mama let me hold my baby brother, a and I just short of four years of age.

who is this?

Could it be the brother of Laurence K. Dubois's wife? I have her listed as Lois Bonnie

Laurence K Dubois is the father of Medora Emma

Or the 2nd husband of Medora's sister?

who is this?
Grandpa Squire would have been Squire Abraham
Was his name
Abraham Robert? or should this be
brother?

The Parkers were first cousins of the Hendricks. They were real musical people. Joe Parker gave violin lessons. My grandpa John Hendricks learned violin from Joe Parker. He (John) could ply by note or by ear. He used to play for old time dances. He'd leave his 3 little boys, take his violin under his arm and walk to his appointment. My dad - Willis - said he'd get home by early dawn having earned 50¢ fpr tje evening's work.
Bell wrote that we used to have relatives around Almena - Perrines. Minnie was a playmate of mine and we were the same age. Her mother's name was Mary Morrison, a relative on Grandma Hendricks' side.

In 1875 [redacted]ks and [redacted] DuBois shot a buffalo on what we knew as the Bill Marquis farm - northwest of Lenora. In the same year Silas tried to shoot an elk on what we know as Frame Belden farm on Elk Creek north of Lenora. He had a carbine rifle but could not get the shell to explode. Gladys heard John, Willis and Charley tell this tale and laugh until the tears came. Willis, Charley, Fred, Bill and Clarence plus neighbor boys had horse races from the hill north of Lenora right down main street to the south cemetery. After playing around out there for sometime, they would calmly ride their horses back through town - going around on side streets. This was happening about the turn of the century. Uncle Hi DuBois was town marshal,

Dear Folks;

I want to thank you for the Hendricks info. appoligize for the delay in answering, for I to get perturbed if I don't get an answer in what I think is due time. I've been waiting for what I thought was a couple of hot leads which didn't amount to what I thought. So I guess one shouldn't count the chickens or something. I thought that I would have some breakthru for several people.

I think that we are perhaps related from all the common facts, probly the best is the name of Abraham being passed down thru the family. I'll send you our family tree as far as I've been able to find that I can verify. We never use facts that we can't verify for sure, either by bible pages or census records, sometimes from courthouse records, for when we get something we go there and check it.

We'll go for two weeks Oct7, to Missouri where we shall to establish something at Cape Gireadeu, where G.G. Grandfather was born. His Father was on census records from Kentucky. He was Abraham and Eli was the one born at Cape G, Mo.

Your uncle Lawrence called us last sunday from Denver, they were visiting someone there. I told him we would stop and see them on our trip East, so they didn't come down which I wish they had.

Your Abraham and ours are from differant dates but I still think there is a connection.

Anyhow we'll stop and check things over. We hope something fits.

We just can't find anything before 1801 when our Abraham was born.

So we thank you very much and hope that the new assignment works out fine for you Richard.

I work for Sears R. 20 years now two more to go to 62 for retirement.

If anything else turns up please let us know.

Dear Mary:

Thank you for your letter and will try and answer your question. The Hendricks info came from the "History of Wash Co, Ill 1879 book." Earl wrote the story on schools & I needed filler for the rest of the page so I added the names. That was all that was listed. So I can't be of much help to you other than that.

Since you mentioned the name Hood, may I suggest you write to Lawrence Hood, Oakdale Ill. He is quite a historian for the Oakdale area & of ~~course~~ course has the same name. Perhaps he can help you. Also a member of our society Mrs. Willis Coulter, ~~Oakdale~~ Coulterville, Ill perhaps she could give you some clues for an SASE, in both cases.

I am enclosing some cemetery listings which maybe beneficial to you. It at least gives you an area to work with.

Hist Wash Co 1879 Early settlers of Lively Grove were John & Isaac Crane came from TN 1838, Are these yours? This is all that is said.

In Hist of St Clair Co, Ill - P. 324 - Oct 1-1814 John Hendricks entered 160 acres NE qt of sec 36. (French Village Prec.)

P. 283. John Hendricks - SW corn of T 2 - 8 in 1812

P. 284 Fayetteville Prec. Heirs of G. Hendricks 303 acres sec 8 & 9 on Apr 15, 1815

P. 286 Survey 386 claims 523,400 acres made by Theo. G. Hendricks Nov 29, 1798 for militia duty in 1790. etc

P. 206 City of Belleville Wm Moore & Wm Hendricks & Felix Scott were 1st Board of school Trustees.

P. 129 Pvt Thomas J Hendricks mustered out Oct 16, 1848 Co E 6 Reg Ill Vol. organ. May 1847. Capt Hook Co.

This is all I have on Hendricks name & of course none of it may be yours, but since you mentioned St Clair Co I got my book out & looked

You do have a big job. I copied partial obits from 1903-1908 in a extinct local paper. I was amazed at the paper. the writing, words, humor etc. I really enjoyed going thru them. I'd like to have kept them, but was glad to barrow them. I'd like to see them microfilmed as they are only ones left,

Glad you enjoyed "Looking Back". Was real proud of the last one. It was a lot with pictures in our area Don't know ~~it~~ how will top it. The pic of the 1 room school was a pencil sketch Mary Ann did. as our X mas gift to members. Hope to do more of these so people can get a look at what our area has. That Bldg is still standing and looks exactly as the photo. She's quite good at pencils + oils.

The pictures of the Hanging was actual photos taken from a newspaper back then. I did the story for our local paper for bi centennial along with a few others. It was cut somewhat from original, but it makes good reading of local History.

Well I must close + hope some of this is helpful to you. Best wishes + Kindest regards

Sincerely

Wanda

P.S. Happy Holidays.

V. 8. Probate record A - 1818 - 1840s

Be it remembered on the 4th day of Sept in 1820 Wm Johnson produced last will of John Johnson dec.

I John Johnson being sick + in bed in State of Ill Wash Co. on 22 day of Aug 1820 I resign my soul to god etc.
give my personal + real Est. I give unto my beloved wife Sarah Johnson real est to be disposed of as she sees fit at her death likewise to Mary Neal + Archibald the bal of my said est with exception of 1^{00} to each of the rest of legatees + I leave Sarah to be executrix + dear friend Archibald Bruce also.

Dear Mrs Nunneley.

The above is a partial copy of a will of John Johnson who died in ~~[illegible]~~ 1820, so I don't know if this is yours or not, but doubt it. Neither is Wm Johnson will.

I also looked in 1850 Cens. + it lists Augustus P Johnson 21 Ger Farmer, Frances 17 TN, + Mary A 2/12 Ill So I hardly doubt he is a brother to Nancy since he was born in Ger.

I made a phone call to Prentice Hendricks of N-ville + he knows nothing about his back-ground only that the Hendricks are buried in Elkton, Ill. (South of Oakdale) There is a church there and maybe you could write to the Pastor. Now I just found picture they celebrated 100 yrs in 1975. Its Elkton Union Church John Reinhardt is superintendant of Sunday School. Write to him. Perhaps he could copy tombstones for you. Prentice grandfathers name was Wm but that is all he knew.

Want to thank you for the nice things you said about "Looking Back". Three of us put this out and it has to be a labor of love, what with all the headaches + flack we get locally from some of the Hist Soc members. We didn't know if we'd go for the 2nd yr but as it stands now I guess we will. Notice will be in 4th book as to what happens.

You must come to Wash Co + visit. It is one of the cleanest looking communities you'll ever see, Well kept, homes, yards, etc. People have wrote back to the paper who have passed thru + praised it to hi heaven. Especially N-ville. I don't mean to brag but I haven't seen a place yet I'd rather live in than N-ville. Addieville still has the look of a town out of the late 1800 + most of the buildings date from that area. Even has a blacksmith shop - 1 of 2 in the county. Oh well come see for yourself. You'll enjoy it. The later part of May the Jaycees have the Maifest + this is something. Parade etc - one big County get together. One of our LB society members was here this year + stayed for this. Think they enjoyed it. The Alps Motel is beautiful + they stayed there.

Will run your query in 4th book + hope you get some action. All for now. Best Wishes

Sincerely
Wanda Jean, Groennert

Dear Mary:

I was delighted to receive your letter of Dec. 12 regarding Hendricks - the more of us get together on this line, the more chance we have to get all the problems straightened out and perhaps some day find Abraham's (1749-1819) parents.

First of all, I can complete the family for you of Abraham Hendricks and Ann Jamison. I have it as completely documented as I think it can be. If you find that this is your line, I can photocopy the records for you at whatever the cost of photocopying might be.

Abraham's son Daniel is my direct ancestor. The Jamison Hendricks who is "lost" is his son by his second marriage to Mary Utsler. The Jamison Hendricks, son of Abraham, is the younger Jamison's uncle.

Your statement that your James Hendricks is a cousin of Thomas Andrews Hendricks if of great interest to me. I hope it may be a clue to finding a brother of Abraham - family tradition says he had a brother who went to Kentucky.

Please don't get upset at anything I may say until you have seriously considered it and made me prove it, if you question it. All of Abraham's sons went to Indiana, except Daniel, who stayed in Pa. Jamison was probably the last to go to Indiana. John (father of Vice President) passed through Ohio (I've never tried to find how long he was there, but not too long). I do not know of any of Abraham's sons who were in Kentucky at all and ~~not~~ to have a son born there in 1815. All the records I've seen indicate born either Pa. or Ind. (except the Vice President).

William Parker Hendricks started a genealogy. It is incomplete and has some errors - dated 1892. I will try to get a photocopy of that for you also, for your information. I obtained a copy from the Indiana State Library and a revised copy from a John Hendricks in California, who is probably deceased by now. (Descendants of Abraham, Indiana line mostly).

I have about two full pages of claims to relationship to Vice President Thomas Hendricks. Some of them I can disprove. Some are probably claiming relationship because of "Thomas" and/or "John" - there are many so named, unrelated. Some may be second or third cousins; some may be related through the maternal line.

Now may I tell you my theory? I'll try to make it brief. I think Abraham named his first son Thomas for his wife's father and his second son Daniel for his own father. Living neighbor to Abraham in Westmoreland Co., Pa. 1790 was Daniel Hendricks, Sr. and Daniel Hendricks, Jr. (father and son, deed) I think they were Abraham's father and brother, but there are those who think they are brother and nephew. (My Daniel was still in his father's household in 1790.) Both those Daniel's disappear from Fairfield Tp., Westmoreland Co. (I don't have my records at hand, but I think it was after 1810 - I can let you know for sure.)

I have not been able to find the families of those two Daniel's. I do know Daniel, Jr. had a wife Mary (deed). That is correct, as my Daniel with his first wife Nancy signed a deed after Daniel and Mary did - so that identification is correct. Well, there's nothing like repeating myself!

Now, here's a coincidence - in 1850-60 Monroe Co., Ohio are Thomas, Daniel, and William Hendricks, all born Pa. 1788, 1789 and 1800 - all names similar to Abraham's ~~youngest~~ children and the same time period as Abraham's youngest. So far all I have found on them is that a Daniel died (aged) 1872. He may be the father of a Daniel Hendricks who served in the Civil War - his death certificate states born 1836 Westmoreland County, Pa., father Daniel, mother Hannah Brewer, wife Susannah. He died in Brown Co., Ind. So - I'm going to have to go back to Westmoreland to see if I can find where in Westmoreland Co. he may have been, because principally I have searched Fairfield Tp. There are too many coincidences - these just might belong to a brother of Abraham. One of the above also had a son William who was in the Civil War and died in Kansas - I have not yet tried to find out more.

One more angle - Absolom Hendricks witnessed the will of Thomas Jamison (father of Ann (Jamison) Hendricks) in 1774. He was also taxed same area as Abraham and Daniel Hendricks. He might be a brother. I've researched an Absolom Hendricks in Ky. - no proof found. He had sons William and Cambridge (why "Cambridge"?). I also researched an Absolom who was in Maryland - both apparently were about Abraham's age. And an Absolom in Virginia, but I doubt he might be connected.

If you have any questions, don't hesitate to ask. You might spot something I've missed.

One more thing - I'm sure I have had correspondence with at least one (maybe two) people on George Washington Hendricks. I can't send you anything on that this time. Most of my records are at my daughters in north Florida. I will be going up for Christmas and will bring them back so I can tell you next time.

One finds so many mistakes in these early genealogies, biographies and histories that I'm always open to correction. Many Hendricks have been incorrectly identified and once it gets in print, it's almost impossible to keep it from being continued. I only treat such as clues and try to find documentation to prove or disprove it - which is why I'm still searching after 17 years.

I hope for a continuing correspondence with you - shall we dispense with the SASE, therefore?

Sincerely,

Dorothy

Do you know any of James' brothers & sisters?
Who is on the 1810 and 1820 census that might be his parent?
I have an excellent Ky researcher, if you need one.

Dear Mary:

I spent the weekend mostly evaluating your information and digging into my files. Here are my conclusions.

Margaret Hendricks must have been a widow. 1810 census she had 3 minor sons & 3 daughters, at least 2 were minors. Was one of them Vaden, perhaps? You need to follow up on him, with that name in your family - a very unusual name. Sounds like a surname - many people did use family surnames as given names. Maybe Margaret's maiden name Vaden? "V" & "B" easily misunderstood in speaking. I suppose it's not impossible she could have been a much older sister, but I doubt it. You mention her being in someone's household in Ill. - a married daughter? When does she disappear from censuses? Did she have a will?

I like tax lists (keeping in mind if they're taxed only on land they could be absentee owners). All these epople appearing together in the same areas points to relationship. If you're sure of James' birthdate, then you need 1820 census enumerations. You can't count on indexes, they missed a lot and misspelled names. You have the 1810 - John appears to be same age bracket as Margaret; Joshua appears older; I don't see Reuben and didn't take time to see if he might be in someone else's household.

I did not know Ezekiel had a will. "Early Wills of Ky" (King) listed Ezekiel's inventory Aug. 1810. Since Martha Stamper questioned his wife's name, I'd get a copy and study it closely - could it be "Marg." for Margaret? Too bad there aren't Court Minutes available. I'd still try to find something to follow up on settlement of estate. This may be wild, but my thought is perhaps Ezekiel & Margaret (if she's his widow) are James' grandparents. Many girls married young in those days. My arithmetic says it's possible. What do you think?

I'd also have county histories checked; there just might be a biography on somebody that would give you a clue.

Don't let name spelling throw you. I've found it spelled differently in the same documents. Also one brother may be "Hendricks" and another "Hendrickson". Clerks were apt to spell it any old way. You have to watch for it without the "d", too.

I have been informed by other Ky. counties their marriage records sometimes were just on slips of paper. You know the record was once there to have been published. Then incorrectly filed, lost, or "snitched". Then you have to accept the published record and hope it was copied correctly. I know how delighted you are to get the marriage record.

No-one I know has yet identified Margaret. You probably know more about her right now than anybody. None of my correspondents on Ky. Hendricks, and several ~~s~~went to Ill., are in the right county on either end. The one I was hopeful about was Madison Co. -- so can't help there.

Knox Co. was formed from Lincoln - you might want to have that checked.

I'm sending a list of land warrants pertinent to those names on the tax lists. There is a book on this giving additional information, which I didn't copy when I made the list for my use long ago (water course, patent). If you want to investigate deeds further, send a copy to Martha (save time and money). I've found deeds in unexpected places (and unexpected names), containing valuable information. I'm surprised there were no Knox Co. deeds - with Reuben, Joshua and John taxed 30 acres each in 1813. Could be they got caught in the mess that occurred with land records and lost the land. Might also be explained in Ezekiel's will - which might also explain why Margaret wasn't taxed for land. Incidentally, if you order a copy of the will and want to send it to me, I'll be glad to help transcribe it. I've had a lot of experience reading these old wills and deeds. I usually do pretty good unless the writing is too horrible or too faded.

On that 1836 tax list, considering the livestock, slaves and males for Margaret, she must have been living on acreage - wonder who was taxed for the land? It might be interesting to know who her neighbors were. Not that that would help genealogically -

Wow! You must be busy with a wedding coming up. Don't overdo.

A few more comments and I'll wind this up. Since Gerrard Co. mentioned with Brown - "Early Wills of Ky." (King) - Bk B, 1805-1813 Will Index lists Henry Hendricks.

"Ky. Rec., V. II (Ardery) - Wm Wright will Oct. 17, 1802 - probate July 1806, daughter Margaret Hendrix. (Wrong locality - Bourbon & Boyle Co. estates)

"Ky. Cem. Rec., Vol. 1 (Ky. Soc. DAR) - Knox Co. Four Mile Graveyard, John Hendrickson 11/12/1819 - 10/2/1859 (probably the will Martha sent you).

I wonder why your James named his first son George? There was a Rev. Veteran George Hendricks (Hardin Co., I think) whose records were transferred to Indiana. I can't think it pertains here - no George's in the area Knox, Adair, etc.

Caroline Crabtree said she'd check to see if she had anything on your James when she gets back from vacation. I'll send her these other names, too - OK? She might be able to find a correspondent, at least.

With my experience with researchers, I'd say Martha did a great job for you at a very reasonable price. You've got some good clues and makes it easier to ask for specific information. I always ask my researchers to include anything else they may run across when searching for a specific - sometimes turns up something I didn't know about. Most do, anyway, but not all.

I too have a Brown line - but from Hardin Co., then Indiana. One of my PAUL girls md Patrick Brown. (not my direct line, Brown). I don't know anything about his ancestry.

Once we find out for sure if Ezekiel is connected, I'll search further. I know I have something, but can't remember if it's N.C. or Va. I'll also keep an eye out for Joshua - seems like he'd be easiest; Johns are too, too numerous. I did note a couple Reubens in other lines, apparently not this Ky. one. The name Vaden is unfamiliar to me, but I'll keep an eye out, just in case.

Another suggestion - if you don't already have them - try to find all the census records on these people. I don't know what to say about those that turn up in 1836-7. Could be sons, or could be newcomers. I didn't have time to check what you may have sent from Ill.

Good luck, and let me hear from you. Be patient and persistent.

Sincerely,

Dorothy

HENDRICKS FAMILY RECORD.

First generation.

Thomas Jamison
Ann Roberts, widow

Abraham Hendricks was born in the year ~~1750~~ 1749. We have no knowledge of his parents nor of the place of his birth. He was married to Ann Jameson(Jamison or Jamieson) of whose parents or place of abode I am also ignorant. However it is known that Ann Jameson was by birth a gentlewoman of Scotch ancestry. She had one brother, William Jameson, (who died unmarried) & one sister Mary; the two sisters marrying brothers. (not proven) wrong—I have his family as published in a historical account.

It is also known that the Hendricks family were of Hugenot descent & came from Holland to America. Also that Grandfather Abraham Hendricks, had three brothers, one migrated to Alabama, and one to Kentucky--no further record. Not proven Abraham & Ann Jameson Hendricks came to Ligonier Valley, Pa. some time previous to November 12, 1782, for my father, their son, William, was born there at Palmer's Fort on that date. Grandfather Hendricks' bible, containing his family record, was burned about 1885 and we have no notes from it.

Abraham Hendricks died in Ligonier Valley, June 2, 1819, age sixty-nine years. Ann Jameson died at the same place, Jan. 23, 1835, age eighty-one years. (1980 - I have documentation that will clear up these dates)

(note from family Bible at V.K.H. "Abraham Hendricks born Nov. 4, 1750. Ann Jamieson, born Nov. 4, 1753.)

There are now,

There are no tombstones marking any graves of that early period to be found now in the old churchyard. If there ever were any, the obliterating finger of time has so defaced or hidden them that there is no relic now recognizable. The dates & facts noted here are obtained from some notes left by my father & they are very meagre.

not found — may have been Daniel

Abraham & his brother, William, married sisters & were among the earliest settlers of Ligonier Valley. They, with other settlers, lived in Palmer's Fort to protect them from the attacks of Indians The Indians were in the employ of the British & had massacred the settlers of Wyoming Valley on the 3d day of July, 1778, only a short distance from this beautiful vally of Ligonier. The settlers lived in the fort, keeping their stock & implements of husbandry carefully secreted there, only taking them out for use in the field & to give water to their stock. They attended their crops in the adjacent country during the day. All persons repairing to the shelter of the fort at sundown; at which time the gates were fastened for the night & not opened again until sunrise.

They acquired lands from the State--Pennsylvania--& Abraham built himself a stone house of two stories on his farm. He removed to this house from the fort & resided there until his death. This house is about three miles from the fort & was built with intent to resisting any predatory attacks from Indians. It stands on Hendricks Creek & is built of the creek limestone, with walls some two feet thick, having a door & two windows below, with windows above them on the sides. The windows have heavy shutters & the door is of heavy oak with hinges reaching across to strengthen them. There are no openings in either end of the house although there are caps & sills set in the wall. In the apex of one gable is a smooth stone bearing the inscription "A.H. 1796". Thus giving the initials of the owner & the date of erection. The house was still standing in the summer of 1889 when I visited it & was as staunch as ever.

(Mrs. Krull saw this stone, saved from the house, Dec. 1936 on the original ground.)

The family of Abraham & Ann Jamieson Hendricks consisted of nine children, six sons & three daughters.

2/19/80 I didnt think you'd be interested in the 4th generation. I'm sure I found Jamison Hendricks had no issue. I'll have to see what my source was.

Dear Mary:

I received your Feb. 2 letter. I think you handled the Ky. researcher very satisfactorily. I have had some very bad experiences with researchers - as well as some very good ones. You used the experts recommended method. I have every confidence that if there is anything to find, Martha Stamper can find it.

Hendricks clearing house? Perhaps Hendricks junk yard is more fitting -- I do wish someone would start a Hendricks Newsletter. As long as I'm working, I just don't have time or I would.

I'm anxiously waiting for, hopefully, your tax list for 1815 which might give me a clue. I'm going through my records hoping I may find a reference from some other state that might tie into your James. I'm also keeping an eye out for a George Washington - so far none of them seem to be the right one.

I haven't even made a good dent in my records yet - a clue to James' father would certainly be helpful.

Sincerely,

Dorothy

Dorothy N. Lloyd

P.S. I have 3 new correspondents on my own direct line — things are looking up!

Dear Mary:

I was delighted to receive your letter and enclosures. More Williams and Johns - oh, boy!

My researcher is Martha Stamper, 225 Conway St., Frankfort, Ky. 40601. You may use my name, if you wish. She has done super-excellent work for me.

If she can find your James on an 1815 tax list - no, that's not right. Find someone who might be his father, I should have said, then she can go both ways on tax lists to find out when he arrived (if he was taxable) and when he left. If he owned property, she can perhaps find deeds which might be helpful, and if he died there, perhaps he had a will or administration. I don't know what other sources she might have available for that county, but she is resourceful and knows her work.

I'm sending a copy of the 1800 and 1810 census indexes (be sure you tell her you have them, so she doesn't waste time on that). If she finds someone who might be James' father, then you would want the enumeration. The 1800 census was based on tax lists. Knox Co. was formed 1800 from Lincoln Co. I don't see anyone on that list that might be pertinent. Indexes are not always accurate or complete. I find only Margaret in 1810 - you might want the enumeration on her to see how many in her family. I thought I had something in my files on her, but so far I haven't been able to locate it.

Mrs. Stamper may also have material available on Illinois - it wouldn't hurt to ask her what is available. I doubt that James migrated to Illinois alone - his father may have been the one that migrated. Or possibly James and other members of his family went together. You need to know what other Hendricks were in the same area as James.

You say you're new at this - hope something gives you a clue. You need censuses, deeds, wills or administrations, possibly county histories, marriages searched. If you'll send me copies of what Mrs. Stamper finds, with possible clues to James' father, I'll check my other files to see if I can find a connection. The most logical migrations to Ky. were from the Carolinas, Va., Pa. If he didn't arrive in Ky. until after 1810, that opens the door a little wider.

Do you know what religion? I have a correspondent who will answer queries only if they pertain to Dunkards. Two well-known Dunkard Elders in Ky. were James and John Hendricks.

I know exactly what you mean about waiting too long. I did exactly the same - my grandparents could have given me much information and family stories, but I wasn't interested at the time.

Keep in touch.

Sincerely, Dorothy
Dorothy N. Lloyd

P.S. If you want to save time, send her a check to start. I don't know what she is now charging for new clients - most everybody has raised prices.

ANCESTOR'S SERVICES

My ancestor's services in assisting in the establishment of American Independence during the War of the Revolution were as follows:

Copy of letter from State Library of Pennsylvania--
"I find that Abram Hendricks was a member of Capt. Mathew Grieves Com. of Buck Co., Militia in 1780. It was shortly after that he removed to the frontiers and served in the Ranhing Forces of Westmoreland Co.

Yours truly,
Wm. Eyle (State Librarian)

The original is appended to the paper of which this is a copy.

From an old family of Huguenots the Hendricks are descendant. In 1749 Tobis Hendricks was a collector of taxes in East Penn. from Twt. in Cumberland Co.; in 1750 Abram Hendricks appears on the rolls of the Freedmen of Commonwealth. Abram Hendricks (my great grandfather) was a man of high character and wide influence. In 1792 he was chosen to the Legislation where his career was eminently known and honorable. Reelected in 1793, 1796 and 1797. He was a man of strong religious faith. His wife was from an old Scottish family, The Jamison's, and possessed the strong character which always belongs to her race.

The above is an extract from, "The Life and Speeches" of Thomas A. Hendricks - Governor of Indiana 1873-77 - Vice-President of U. S. 1884, Pg. 41, 42.

Thomas A. Hendricks was a grandson of my great grandfather, Abram Hendricks. My cousin, Mary Stewart Carey #19146 D.A.R. #28076.

OUR PIONEER ANCESTORS

THE HENDRICKS FAMILY

ORIGIN

The HENDRICKS, (or HENDRIX) FAMILY is said to have come from HOLLAND in the early 1600's. The tradition has come to us that ADAM and FREDERICK HENDRIX, or perhaps their father, came over with HENDRIK HUDSON in 1608 on his second trip, and that they were related to him. (A.N. A CORNELIUS HENDRICKS was with HENDRIK HUDSON, I have found no further proof of the above tradition).

It is established however that the origin of our HENDRIX FAMILY in the United States was two brothers ADAM and FREDERICK HENDRICKS, who landed on MANHATTAN ISLAND, at NEW AMSTERDAM, now New York. They were immigrants of some means as they became owners of real estate in New Amsterdam.

The descendants of Adam emigrated to PENNSYLVANIA, OHIO, INDIANA and MISSOURI. One son, JOSEPH HENDRIX, was the father of Adam Hendrix, who settled at Fayette, Howard County, MISSOURI in 1839, and died there in 1876. This Adam was a banker, and from him descended the Rev. E. R. Hendrix, Twentieth Bishop of the Methodist Church, South, and J. C. HENDRIX, ESQUIRE of BROOKLYN, NEW YORK.

It is fairly well authenticated that FREDERICK HENDRIX was the father of 3 sons: Henry, Joseph and Peter, and several daughters, names not known. This Joseph went to NEW JERSEY and his descendants migrated to KENTUCKY, OHIO and INDIANA. From this branch, descended GOV. THOMAS ANDREWS HENDRICKS of Indiana (1872) (b. Zanesville, Ohio 1819 - d. 1885, Indianapolis). He was the 21st VICE-PRESIDENT of the UNITED STATES(1885-1889).

HENRY and PETER HENDRIX migrated to MARYLAND, in the late 1600's or early 1700's. The well known tavern "Blue Bal" near Baltimore was kept by the Hendrix's. Peter's descendants spread out into SOUTH CAROLINA and through out the South.

HENRY HENDRIX, SR. in whom we are primarily interested in this History lived in CECIL COUNTY, MARYLAND, near ELKTON. He married about 1745, and migrated to ROWAN COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA. Here he bought land, near SALISBURY, raised a large family, and died in November 1786, an aged man, leaving his will. Some of his children remained in NORTH CAROLINA, others went to SOUTH CAROLINA and scattered southward, while others migrated thru KENTUCKY and OHIO, and settled in INDIANA.

HENRY HENDRIX, JR. (A-4), is one who migrated to INDIANA. It is he, who married MARTHA POE DAY (101.13.1), daughter of JOHN and ABIGAIL POE DAY (101.1.3) and joined our HENDRIX and DAY FAMILIES.

Let us read an interesting article about MARYLAND, then a Sketch of HENRY HENDRIX, SR. and his wife, RUTH KNOTT, followed by his Will.

I went through the Missing Titles folder tonight and did a shelf search for the books listed in the folder. I found several of the titles and have left the notes on them on the desk in case you wanted to look at them before discarding. One was missing in 1992 and I suspect the copy on the shelf is a replacement.

Dear Mary,

I appreciated your tracing me down on the phone. Wish more that have written, and didn't get through to me, would use that method, but alas, I'm afraid that a lot have given up. I'm been in limbo for almost a year now, and my genealogy is so backlogged, along with correspondence, that I doubt ever getting back to where I was when I quit last January. Spending the entire year, trying to get a divorce, making adjustments at 66 years of age, after 24 years of marriage, spending two months in Tulsa, with my mother deathly ill and hospitalized, then losing mother and my brother was almost devastating to me. Add that to spending six months upstairs in a bedroom surrounded by three teenagers was taxing to say the least. But I'm now about to level out. I just hope and pray that I can get caught up with correspondence, and get back to my genealogy...and also, have time to order my regular publications, some 26 of them, and get queries in them, so people can locate me. I didn't have the money last year to do so.

Now, I've rounded up the books. Much or really all of my genealogy, which is my entire office and part of the garage was just moved in. I've never got things straightened out, nor do I know where everything is, so just finding the books was by luck...since I remember little at times. I can't recall the other names you talked about.

I've checked the 1840 Census for Sevier County, and the Jones there were as follows:
Following each name is the number of free white males, followed by a slash, then the number of free white females, then another slash, ending with the number of slaves and free colored persons. Free white males and females are broken down by age groups as follows:

Under 5, 5-10, 10-15, 15-20, 20-30 etc.

I might add that this was a small county, which covered a very small area. It was a part of Hempstead County until 1828, when it was organized.

My Benjamin F. McCravens (Benjamin M. Cravens) on the Census, lived in Madison County, and his father, Joseph McCravens lived in Jefferson Twp, yet they lived across the river from each other, within a block of each other, on the Saline River where it intersects Highway 70 now. I have a lot to learn though I've researched this area for many years, have gone back there, etc, but I can't get back much further than where I now am. I do know that in 1843, the part that Benjamin F. McCravens lived became a part of Polk County, and I looked forever trying to find out what happened to him.

He was named Coroner, and other positions within Polk County, and as I told you, eventually had 21 children. No record of his marriage to Anna ???, ca 1834. I know my great grandmother was their first child, b. Nov. 1835, and died in October, 1894 near Mineola, AR. Two of Benjamin's sisters married Gideon James and Edward Graham, but both died not too many years later. One left one son, and the other left 3 or 4 children (James'). Ben also had a crippled sister, and there was a lot of court records regarding Amelia McCraven...as the state paid them $60.00 per year to care for her. She apparently was more spastic, and unable to dress or care for herself, but was never violent in anyway. They originally came from South Carolina, moving to Smith Co. TN ca 1808. I'm not sure when they went to Hempstead Co, but do know they were in Sevier Co. by 1828.

My Emily B. McCraven married James Waggoner in Polk County, and they had nine children, with my grandmother being their sixth child. At the time of their marriage, Emily was 15, and James was 44 years of age. I'm back to his father, Jacob Waggoner, that I've traced to New Madrid Co. (now MO), but at that time was Louisiana Territory in 1801. He married Lydia Beren or Boren, and to my knowledge, had three sons...and probably a lot more, and she must have been dead by 1814, when Jacob left there. He spent part of his time in St. Louis, and part of it in Union Co., IL, and was in Hempstead Co. AR by 1824, when his son, John married Jane Campbell, dau. of the earliest white settler.

Of the Waggoner children, Mary A. Waggoner m. John W. Ward, 20 Sept. 1877; Susan Catherine Waggoner m. James Robert DOUGLASS in 1881 (Howard Co. AR) (My grandparents); Robert Hilliard Waggoner m. Fanny C. Hunter on 19 July, 1888 in Howard Co., AR; and Martha I. Waggoner m. Asa Davis on 17 July 1884. Off the top of my head, It seems that I had a marriage for Lucy V. Waggoner, but can't remember who she married. I've never found any record of who Wm. B.E. Waggoner, b. 1849 in Polk Co., or his sister N. J. Waggoner, b. 1851 might have married, lived or died. I do know that they also had a brother, James H. Waggoner, b. in Jan. 1853, that died when he was 21 on 6 Apr. 1874, in Howard Co. AR and is buried in Brown Cemetery near Umpire Twp, (Howard Co. AR).

On the McCraven children (21 in all), I have little information COMPILED and on Family Group Sheets. Ben and Anna ?? McCraven had at least seven children that lived:

Emily McCravens b. 5 Nov. 1835 Sevier Co., m. James Waggoner ca 1848 Polk Co. AR
Rebecca McCravens, b. ca 1837, Sevier Co., m. James Buck 7 Sep. 1853 Sevier Co. AR
Eliza McCravens, b. ca 1846, Polk Co. AR m. Jim Burke, bur. Overturf Cem.,
Martha A. McCravens, b. 22 Mar. 1857, Polk Co., m. Calvin Overturf, b. Dallas Co. AR (1858-1935) ((I've found no record, naming any children born between 1848 and 1857, but she did die (Anna McCravens) of Child Bed Fever, which would indicate that she was having children during that time when Martha A. McCravens was born.))

In August, 1859, Anna McCravens died of Child Bed Fever, and Ben married again, this time to a woman named Hannah ??? I've been contacted by one person that claims that Anna and Hannah were sisters, and gave me a name that I could never find anywhere for their maiden name.

Anyway, ca 1863, Ben married Hannah, and I know of at least 8 children b. between ~~1846~~ 1864 and 1879. Of those children, Angaline McCraven, b. 1865 married John Overturf. The rest I cannot account for. I may eventually find letters that I've received over the years that will name the spouses of the others...but so far nothing.

As I told you on the phone, the area of Polk County was organized along with parts of three other counties, and a new County was formed, named Howard County. This was in 1873. By mistake, someone listed a James Hilliard Waggoner (bro. to my grandmother) as being born in Umpire Township, Howard Co., and I found that while researching Census in New Iberia, LA (where my grandmother was born) I'd never even noticed Howard County in AR before, and certainly had never heard mother or my grandmother mention Howard County...and was totally flabbergasted, when I found that the Sulphur Springs part of Polk County became Howard County in 1873.

Most of my McCravens and Waggoner's records were in Polk County, and all of those records were destroyed prior to 1883, and there was absolutely nothing, so I thought "Oh boy, maybe I can find something about them in Howard County. I've ordered two large books that Howard County put out, and the first one was definitely worth buying, as it gave the birth and death dates of my great grandmother. However, I went to where she was buried, and someone has removed the tombstone and done away with it...so the only record I've got is from the "History of North Howard County", published probably ten years ago. The second book they wrote and which I paid $50 or 60.00 for, is worthless, because about all it covers is information on people since 1900. My families were long gone from the area.

I wanted to mention that, though Benjamin F. and Hannah McCravens are given on the 1880 Howard Co. Census, he must have died shortly thereafter, because I found where she married a Jesse Tisdal in 1882, and they must have left Howard County shortly after that. I know they did get married in Sevier County, but find no record of marriages, etc., after that time. I suspect they may have gone to Texas or even maybe to California. But I lost all of their children after 1882.

Now...for the 1850 Polk Co., AR Census, I'll list what Jones' show up. I'm sorry that I didn't hold on to the other two family names that you gave me.

years of age. I'm back to his father, Jacob Waggoner, that I've traced to New Madrid Co. (now MO), but at that time was Louisiana Territory in 1801. He married Lydia [illegible], and to my knowledge, had three sons...and probably a lot more, and she must have been dead by 1815, when Jacob left there. He spent part of his time in St. Louis, and part of it in Union Co., IL, and was in Hempstead Co. AR in 1825, when his son, John married Jane Campbell, dau. of the earliest white settlers.

Of the Waggoner children, Mary A. Waggoner m. John W. Ward, 24 Sept. 1877; Susan Catherine Waggoner m. Isaac Robert DOUGLASS in 1881 (Howard Co. AR) (My grandparents); Robert Williard Waggoner m. Fanny C. Hunter on 19 July, 1888 in Howard Co., AR; and Martha L. Waggoner m. Asa Davis on 12 July 1886. Off the top of my head, it seems that I had a marriage for Lucy V. Waggoner, but can't remember who she married. I've never found any record of who Wm. H.C. Waggoner, b. 1863 in Polk Co., or his sister M. I. Waggoner, b. 1871 might have married, lived or died. I do know that they also had a brother, James H. Waggoner, b. in Jan. 1875, that died when he was 21 on 4 Apr. 1896 in Howard Co. AR and is buried in Bethel Cemetery near Umpire Twp. (Howard Co. AR).

On the McCraven children [illegible], I have little information COMPILED and no Family Group Sheets. Ben and Anna McCraven had at least seven children that lived:

Emily McCravens b. 5 Nov. 1835 Sevier Co., m. Isaac Waggoner ca 1849 Polk Co. AR
Rebecca McCravens, b. ca 1837, Sevier Co., m. James Buck 7 Sep. 1853 Sevier Co. AR
Eliza McCravens, b. ca 1844, Polk Co. AR m. Jim Burke, bur. Overturf Cem.,
Martha A. McCravens, b. 26 Mar. 1851, Polk Co., m. Calvin Overturf, b. Dallas Co. AR
(1850-1857, I've found no records, naming any children born between 1848 and 1857, but she did die (Anna McCravens) of Child Bed Fever, which would indicate that she was having children during that time when Martha A. McCravens was born.)

This one makes me think a bit, since my Benjamin F. McCraven named his children a lot of the names that this L.M. Jones did. He had an Eliza, Mary Ann, Henry W., Martha I. His daughter, Emily later named her first born in 1849, William B.E. Waggoner.

Also, I bet that Eliza, 28 F., had first married a Baker, and that Monroe, 10, Josiah J. 8, and Rhoda P. 6, were from her first marriage.

It's obvious here, that the wife/mother had probably died within the year.

Looks like the 1860 might do you some good, and possibly the 1870 too, but it looks like your family for the most part may have left that area. A lot of families did, fighting was so heavy during the Civil War in Polk and Sevier, all of that Western part of Arkansas was totally ravaged by the Civil War. All you have to do is look at the difference in the size of the 1860 and 1870, to see how many less people were there in 1870, than were in 1860.

Thank you, and hope this will be of some help to you.

Dear Mary C.

Its nine oclock and Im through cleaning up this A.M., ~~and~~ so I wanted to get a letter off to you before the postman came.

I was real glad to hear from you again, missed your cheery letters.

Its been so hot and dry here we havnt been doing anything except the most necessary ones.

Today is raining and its cooler, so we're hoping the drought and heat wave is broken. From all reports, tho its been everywhere.

Im sure your mother & father 60th anniversary was lovely. tho lots of work am sure it will always be a lovely memory. Are you the only child?

Sorry about your car & do trust you got full paymt. on it.

Rudy is working with his birds. he has 42 young birds for the races beginning in 16th of Sept. extending to Oct 21. There will be a race each week end. The last will be 500 mi.

Rudy has Homing ~~po~~racing Pigeons & belongs to a club.

Then 5 clubs form a Combine and they have a futurity race.

Every member buys bands for the birds $2.00 a piece, they ~~enter~~ or buy then so much money paid for entering by each one. The Winner gets the money. Theres 1st 2nd and 3rd prizes

Its very exciting & lots of fun.

Summer will soon be over and school again. Seems like the days fly by.

Sometime when you have the time write me Kenneth & Jerry's address and will write them at Christmas time.

Any time you want to ask me anything do so. Will ans to best of my ability.

Dont forget to send me a snapshot of you when you all have an extra. please

Must hurry.

Lovingly

Dear Mary Dick and Family:

Thank you very much for the addresses of the Nunnely Boys. Also information about them and your children.

Its been so hot here and no rain except for couple little showers but am sure will make it thro and have some relief soon.

Rudy is real busy now taking his young birds out.

Took them out this A.M. early 15 miles. Tomorrow will go 5 miles further for 20. He has 42 and realeases them in 4 groups. He times their release and I watch & time when they come in to know how long it takes. one group this A.M. made in 22 min.

thats not very good but a starter. The races start 9th of Sept. so they should do better by then.

Just had an invitation for 14th of Aug. to golden Wedding anniversary. of some friends The Harry Starr's Jr. in Okla. Mounds He reminded me in a letter that I had cooked their wedding supper. Had forgotten about it, but was a nice reminder and brought to mind many sweet memories of people George & knew in the long ago past.

Rudy & I went to Dallas 3 weeks ago Sunday and I called some cousins living there and it was enjoyable to talk to them. They had been to Old settlers reunion in Smithville

The 21st of June. So they told me news of many back there but so many are deceased & some to feeble, or just cant make the trip anymore.

Ola Grace was born in Smithville Ok. "I remember" but you see Smithville was Very small only abou 100 people Mostly Indians Choctaws & Cherookees There was no Dr. and birth certificats unheard of.

The mail carried by horseback and when the rivers were up no mail.

My oldest son was born there in 1919 and he didnt have a birth certificate, untill much later.

Idabel the Co. seat was 60 miles from Smithville and was like a far a way country in those days. as horseback was only way of traveling in those days.

Im telling you this so you will understand.

Okla became a state in 1907 and we moved there in 1905. our mail came to Smithville I.T. Indian Territory and it was really wild in those days.

Well must write some more letters and want to catch the postman. So By Bey

Write when you have time and dont forget a snapshot of you.

Dear Mary,

I was very glad to get your letter and news of your family.

Its so easy to lose touch of kin and loved ones, because we all get involved in our own affairs and time slips away.

Sorry Ive been so long in answering and giving you the information you wanted.

Ive done the best I can as my family bible is put away & dont have access to it but it wouldnt be much help as to grandparents of Ola Graces. for they died so long ago.

Any way my husband Rudy was in the hospital in Corsicana
35 miles W. of here

when your letter came, with a bad kidney infection. Dr Hall a urologest in Corsicana. made many exrays & tests of him found mass in left kidney. To be sure. We took him over to Baylor Hospital in Dallas. and they found it was a cyst not cancer, This took several days, then when we came home I was completely exhausted, for I drove over & back home every day

Any how He is much better and they can or know how to treat him now

I'm telling you all this so you'll understand why I'm so long in writing you Really glad if I can be of any help anyway to anyone.

You should be proud of your family. & I am for you

Wish Ola Grace could have known. She was so sweet

only six years old when I joined the Henderson family."

Is it very cold in Bartlesville? Remember George & I went there once for a ballgame. When we lived in Keystone.

Remember me to all your family & to Goldy when you see her. She was always so nice & sweet to Ola Grace will always love her for it. and being so good to Her Boys.

Must close and get this in the mail today.

Sincerely
Evelyn Perusek

Dear Mary Dick & Daughter.

After such a long long time I've finally gotten together all the information I can give you about the Henderson family

I've put down some names & dates in your book. also corrected some dates. and think what is there is correct.

Im really glad to do this for you altho it isn't very much help Im afraid, but its all I know.

My immediate family's date are correct and thats all Im sure about. so didn't write in any I wasn't sure about.

I've been real busy getting garden planted, yd cleaned etc. my garden, po. beans tom & Beets all growing beautifully.

Just two weeks ago the woods was beautiful with dogwoods redbud tulip trees, still blooming some.

Had to stop for a while.

Rudy was taking some 2 pigeons to a friend in Tyler, for futurity race in Sept., asked me to go along. It was a beautiful drive. Everything so green & fresh looking and the road side covered with Texas bluebonnets Indian paint brush, and red clover.

Really enjoyed going, had a nice Visit with our friends over there.

Rudy hasnt been feeling Very good of late but seems better now.

We're planning a trip to Ohio next mo. if we are physically able.

Past week Ive about finished my spring house cleaning.

Just have one closet and the kitchen and den to go. hope to get them done this week.

Trust you all are well and happy.

Im sure you are busy it seems everyone is especially so in the springtime.

It was good to get better acquainted with you all thru letters and hearing about your activities.

Hope you'll write to me Occassionally and keep me posted on the Nunnelly families.

Tell Golda Howdy! for me when you see her and give my best to everyone.

Again I'll say this information isn't much but its all I know. ha!

May God Bless you always.

With Love
Evelyn

P.S. This picture of Dick in the paper Ive kept for a long time. If you dont have one thought you might like to keep it. if you do you can send it back to me sometime.

Grandpa Henderson served in the civil war when Very young. He was wounded in battle. Shot in the leg. after sometime when his leg had healed so he could walk with a cane, he was dismissed from active service, and sent home In those days the boys had to get home the Very best way they could. Along the way he and a companion were walking through a densely wooded section of the country, when they were attacked by a pack of wild wolves. They finally found an old barn close by and climbed up on it and fought the wolves off with grandpas walking cane

After a day or two the wolves gave up & went away.

Grandpa and his friend then went on to their homes. of course They were exhausted

After much care and good food they were soon allright again.

I was a very small child when I heard this true story, but it was thrilling and exciting to me.

Dont know the date or just where it all happened but its true.

Dear Mary, Kathleen & Dick.

It was so nice to hear from you again, and to know all of you were well and happy. Glad you talked about me as its nice to be remembered.

Would love to see you all again, but don't know if it will ever be possible. I'm getting up in years, 78, altho so far I'm pretty well and active, My husband isn't to good but feeling better now that the sun is shining again. We too have had lots of cold ice and many snows which is unusual for here.

Ive been busy, my best friend and neighbor moved to Arizona Fri. So Ive been helping her to get things ready etc.

Then last Sun. took Rudy to the emergency Room at Hosp. He had a dizzy spell and as he has a heart condition we were worried, however it was poor circulation and they've improved that so he's much better now.

Im telling you all this so you will know why Im so long in getting your information about the Henderson family Haven't forgotten you.

Will do it soon, so just forgive me & bear with me a while longer.

Have an interesting story about grandpa. Will Write it for you later also.

Trust you & family fine and Happy

(over)

Do you want me to put the dates names etc on the forms or just put them down on paper and let you do it. I might mess it up. so let me know.

Dear Mary & family

Sorry to be so long again in answering your lovely letter. but Rudy had another flair up with his kidneys so now the Dr is wanting to operate and take out the prostrate gland, which is infected and enlarged. So he's taking lots of anti Biotics to build him up for surgery.

He Rudy has ordered a group of young birds from New York & New Jersey and will be getting them soon so he has to get them & get them settled before the operation also he hasn't seen his daughter Virginia, who lives in Dayton Ohio. ~~that he hasn't seen~~ for quite some time, so we want to take a run over there first, too.

Of course we've been quite busy He with his birds & me getting my little garden planted. its up & growing nicely. also my flowers, Then I'm doing a painting 24 x 36 for a Lady and that takes time.

Then have to write my children and several grandchildren. Rudy's folks and a host of cousins & friends. So it seems I'm always way behind with my writing.

So glad to have news of Ola's children and grandchildren If she could just have known she would have been so proud of them.

Yes Aunt Zoyle writes me and she has been sick quite a bit since Ed died. Think she really grived a lot and that doesn't help any.

Give my love & Best to Golda, Rosene and Chester, any others whom you think I know, always loved the Keystone and Tulsa Okla friends, Is Herby getting better?

My children all well and busy as usual. My oldest son had surgery on both feet Mon 11. You know he's worked in P.O. so long and been on his feet so much.

anyhow. The surgery successful and his feet will be fine now. He'll be home Thur. 11th April.

It's beautiful today, sunny & warm. Lots of flowers blooming and the dogwoods really outdid themselves this year.

Will must stop and run to the store, & do a business deal for Rudy.

May God Bless you all, always.
Lovingly
Evelyn

You asked for some information about "The Hendersons" and also my childrens births etc. So will put them on another page.

Dear Mary,

I was very glad to get your letter and news of your family.

Its so easy to lose touch of kin and loved ones, because we all get involved in our own affairs and time slips away.

Sorry Ive been so long in answering and giving you the information you wanted.

Ive done the best I can as my family bible is put away & dont have access to it but it wouldnt be much help as to grand parents of Ola Graces. for they died so long ago.

Any way my husband Rudy was in the hospital in Corsicana
38 miles W. of here

when your letter came, with a bad kidney infection. Dr Hall a urologist in Corsicana. made many exrays & tests of him found mass in left kidney. To be sure. We took him over to Baylor Hospital in Dallas. and they found it was a cyst not Cancer, This took several days. then when we come home I was completely exhausted, for I drove over & back home every day.

Any how He is much better and they can or know how to treat him now.

I'm telling you all This so you'll understand why I'm so long in Writing you Really glad if I can be of any help anyway to anyone!

You should be proud of your family. & I am for You

Wish Ola Grace could have known. She was so sweet

only six years old when I joined the Henderson family."

Is it very cold in Bartlesville? Remember George & I went there once for a ballgame. when we lived in Keystone.

Remember me to all your family & to Goldy when you see her. She was always so nice & sweet to Ola Grace will always love her for it. and being so good to Her Boys.

Must close and get this in the mail today.

Sincerely
Evelyn Perusik

SOURCE: History of Benton, Washington, Carroll, Madison, Crawford, Franklin, and Sebastian Counties, Arkansas. Chicago: The Goodspeed Publishing Co., 1889.

Thomas E. Henderson was born in Cass County, Ga., September 7, 1840, and is a son of James and Nancy (Brown) Henderson, natives of the same State. In 1850 the family moved to Sevier County, Ark. After farming four years there they moved to Polk County, where the father died in 1855. The mother died in Franklin County in 1880. Thomas E. grew to maturity in Polk County, on the farm, and during the latter part of 1861 enlisted in the Fourth Arkansas Infantry, Confederate army, under Col. McNair. He served in several minor engagements, and was once taken prisoner, but made his escape in about twenty-four [p.1244] hours. He was discharged for disability about a year after enlisting, and then returned to Polk County, and after his recovery engaged in farming. He was married in that county April 11, 1865, to Miss E. D. Ransom, a native of Alabama, who was reared in Franklin County, and daughter of George Ransom, now deceased, but formerly of Virginia. After his marriage Mr. Henderson farmed a year in Polk County, and then in January, 1866, located in White Oak Township, Franklin Co. He moved upon his present farm in 1873. This place he has cleared and enlarged, and it is now one of the nicest farms in the neighborhood. He lives in a good one-story residence, has two tenement houses and comfortable out-buildings, and devotes about three acres to fruit raising. Mr. and Mrs. Henderson have three children: Maggie, wife of Prof. H. A. Nickell; James W. and Mary E. Both our subject and wife are members of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, to which all their children belong. Mr. Henderson is an elder in the church and an active worker.

Dual Concert Plays To SRO

A dual concert featuring the combined talents of the Flowing Wells junior and senior high school bands recognized Saint Patrick's Day.

The Junior High had the honor of starting off the evening of entertainment. They chose as their contributions to the program Do-Re-Mi from "The Sound of Music," Arrowhead Country; Hymn of Praise; Smooth Flight; featuring a cornet trio composed of Mike Metzinger, Martha Rupp, and Don Bates; Peter Pan Overture from "Peter Pan," and Carnival for Percussion, featuring the percussion section.

The band cabinet officers are President, Don Bates; Vice President, Dan Capps; Secretary-Treasurer, Maureen Sullivan; Librarian, LuAnne Kelly; and Band Manager and Publicity, Sal Caccavale.

Then it was the High School band's turn. They opened their concert with the theme song, "Leprechaun's (Bugler's) Holiday" featuring the trio of Tim Sullivan, Lovilla Elliott, and David Spencer. A wild "Bossa Nova" tune chased the Leprechauns around. After the Leprechauns finished Bossa Novaing they marched to the tune of Sabre and Spurs March (guest conducted by Mr. Robert Rubin. The Leprechauns sat the next number out and listened to the clarinet soloist, David DeSimone, play Serenade. Cafe Rio, a Latin American number, and Finlandia, a tone poem, were followed by highlights from "Exodus" and the final number, Blue Flame March.

The concert's success is credited to the fine work of the High Schools Band Cabinet officers, which are as follows, President David DeSimone; Vice-President, Tim Sullivan; Secretary, Helen Holzman: Treasurer, Peggy Beavers; Librarians Ellie Douglas and Maryann Peterson, Publicity and Historian, Mary Lou Echternach; and Band Manager, Paul Fisher.

The bands are conducted by a fine and capable director, Mr. John Hokanson

Original Art Work Displays

Campbell Plaza Shopping Center will be the scene of the three day sixth annual teenage art exhibit sponsored by the Tucson Student Art League. The original works of art by young entrepreneurs will be on display April 3 to April 5.

Any interested individual between 13 and 19 years may participate by entering any number of original works in any art medium except sculpture, with each entry matted, framed, or mounted and ready to be hung for display. All works of art will be accepted at the Quater Studio of Art, 228 S. Tucson Blvd., between the hours of 4 to 5 p.m. March 23-25. Entry fee is 25c per project.

A board of Tucson Student Art League members, under the supervision of their adult advisor, Mrs. Florence Quater, will select from the entry field the art work they feel best represents the efforts of Tucson's teenage artists. Final awards will be presented April 25 by a prominent local and national professional artist.

Now entering their tenth year of activities, the Tucson Student Art League is a group of art-minded adolescents who meet together to gain knowledge of the trade, as well as experience in exhibiting their work with artists on their own level of accomplishment. The League is also active in civic projects such as the development of a picture concept for blind children, and keeping the pediatrics ward of Tucson Medical Center decorated with drawings for the enjoyment of the ward's young patients.

Judy Mack, president of the League, urges no one to refrain from entering "on the basis that you may feel your work is not skilled enough for acceptance.

"Instead, let's all help to show that teenagers can be productive and not destructive."

AHS Features Brotherhood At Assembly

"Brotherhood Now or Never" was the theme of Amphi's brotherhood assembly today. The assembly was initiated by returnees from Anytown, a hypothetical town where students of all races and religions live together for two weeks and try to gain a better understanding of themselves and of each other.

The Amphi ensemble opened the program with "Let There be Peace on Earth." Eddie McDonald gave an original reading of "Dreams of Destiny" during part of the selection.

"The purpose of this assembly is to spread the word about Anytown and to demonstrate that every town can be Anytown in spirit, love and peace," explained Michelle Geller, master of ceremonies, in her introduction speech.

"If I Had a Hammer" and "Blowing in the Wind," audience participation songs, were led by Marvin Barg, and Anytown counselor. David Krebbs, an Aphi student, read "Old Man Atom." Anytown experiences were then related to the students by Sara Campbell, Patti Nussbaum and Linda Elliot, who were Anytowners last year. "Boundryline," a movie which tried to depict the meaning of brotherhood and demonstrate how it can be put in practice, followed the speeches. Michele Geller then read a poem "Any Human to Another."

Gary Loutzenheiser, an Amphi senior, summarized the program, in his closing speech. "No Man is an Island," sung by the ensemble, concluded the assembly.

Elections Restricted

Because of previous "cheating" in elections, this year new, more stringent voting rules will be in effect during the upcoming student federation elections at Catalina.

The new procedure is being initiated so that "any chances of cheating by students will be cut down," according to Dianne Fleming, assistant head of student body elections.

This year, students voting in the primary elections April 7 and the finals April 14 will not use voting machines as before. Instead, balloting will be done in homerooms where strict voting practices will be followed. Each homeroom teacher will count the number of persons absent and abstaining and turn in this list with all the ballots to the student council.

Students absent or abstaining will later be allowed to vote and turn in their ballots.

If the count of the number present does not tally with the number of votes and abstentions in any homeroom, no ballots from that homeroom will be counted. In addition, any ballot filled out incorrectly will be disregarded.

Besides the new voting rules, there are two new qualifications for students seeking office. In addition to a 2.5 average and no semester 4's, 5's or U's, each candidate must have attended Catalina the previous semester and cannot have conflicting activities such as sports.

For example, a student participating in an activity the same time as student court will not be allowed to run for court.

The more rigid qualifications are designed to help prevent elected officers from quitting their posts.

PHS Girls League Presents SLRIG

By RALPH GALVEZ
Pueblo Correspondent

Last Friday night the Girls' League at Pueblo had its annual SLIRG show. Composed of girls from all four classes, SLRIG is girls spelled backwards.

The show started with a Mexican theme. Alma and Alice Cota performed the Mexican dance Guadalajara. Next, there were various dances, songs and skits put on by the rest of the cast. Among them was Miss Eloise Ramirez, a senior, who read The Creation.

"Uncle Herbie, we love you yeah, yeah, yeah, yeah," was heard along with screaming and hair pulling as the "Beatletts" came on. Pat Alarcon, "Ring-a-ding," was drumming away at the drums so, the house fell down to the point where all the girls went chasing after him.

Eight-year-old Lupita Alarcon then gave everyone a lesson in "I'm Learning About Love."

The all girl show concluded with the singing of "I Enjoy Being A Girl."

The purpose of the girls' show is to raise as much money as possible for a scholarship that will be given to an active senior girl.

The nightwatchman Mr. Stanley White said "They had pretty good talent, but more publicity was needed." Terry Martinez, a spectator, said, "It was sharp! !, Just the best." Janie Phebus, Freshman Class President, stated "I liked it; it was inspiring." Still another person, Marylin McKinnley, stated, "It was real cute; a lot of hard work was put into it and it was really worthwhile, especially the Bugs."

The usherettes were Josie Haro, Terry Martinez, Olivia Rodriguez, Penny Rodriguez, Irene Herrera, Pat Flores, and Dolores Ordonez.

Amphi FFA Active And Successful

The Future Farmers of America Chapter at Amphi is one of the most active and successful clubs in the state. The FFA participates as a club in team and individual competitions held at various field days.

At the Arizona State University field day the chapter received second place in team competition in the poultry division. The team included Tom Clark, Dan Joyce, and Doug Riley. Dan and Tom also placed fourth and fifth respectively in individual competition.

UA Student President SHS Speaker

"A leader is like a turtle in that they both have to stick their necks out to get anywhere." So spoke Peter Dunn last Thursday evening at Salpointe's leadership conference.

Mr. Dunn is president of the associated students here at the U of A. After Fr. Randall introduced him and gave a few words on leadership, Mr. Dunn spoke his views on the subject. He pointed out the necessity of being willing to break tradition and occasionally standing alone in defense of something you believe.

Most of the students who attended this conference are hopeful of being elected to a position on next year's student government.

Following Mr. Dunn's speech the assembly broke into four groups; Hecter Vargas spoke on the duties of presidents and vice presidents, Richard Mulvihill on the rewards and problems of student council representatives, Pat Whitehead on the jobs of the secretaries, and Elizabeth Jaskoski on the responsibilities of the treasurer. After each of these talks, the floor was open to questions and discussion.

The students look forward to elections this spring.

Depositions Asked In Tribal Claim

The Indian Claims Commission at Washington, D.C., has asked the Papago Tribe for depositions to substantiate claims for payment of damages for nearly 3 million acres of land.

Eugene J. Johnson, tribal chairman who appeared before the commission, said a decision would not come until depositions to "bolster up exhibits" can be presented.

He referred to nearly 250 exhibits presented at the trial to substantiate the tribe's claim that the land, which includes the city of Tucson, was taken illegally from the Papagos in about 1800.

The exhibits were presented by Bernard L. Fontana of the University of Arizona, who represented the tribe as an anthropologist and testified at the hearing.

Johnson said the tribe is endeavoring to prove that the land between the Santa Cruz and the San Pedro rivers once was occupied by the now extinct Savipari Tribe, members of which married into the Papago Tribe.

The public is invited without charge. The school is off Sabino Canyon Road.

Rubi Prefers Manager To 5-Man Board Plan

County Supervisor Pete Rubi said yesterday that Pima County would be better off with a county manager and a personnel director than with a five-man Board of Supervisors.

Rubi told the South Side Young Democratic Club, "If having two more supervisors would help the board, I'd say, 'Wonderful,' but I don't think it will.

"Once our three-man board gets the facts, we make decisions much faster than the City of Tucson does with its seven-member council," Rubi said at the Spanish Trail Motel.

"WHAT WE need is a county manager or administrator and perhaps a personnel director to take care of some of the hiring. This takes up a lot of the board's time."

The Democratic District 2 supervisor explained that about half of the county's 1,300 employes are hired by elected officials such as the sheriff and county attorney, while the other half is directly under the Board of Supervisors.

Rubi also said that the county should buy some land now "with an eye toward a future bond issue.

"THE COURTHOUSE, the sheriff's office, the juvenile detention home and other facilities are overcrowded," Rubi said. "We're building a new jail and sheriff's office, and we're going to move the assessor's motor vehicle division to the county shops, but we still need more space."

Asked about the future of County Engineer Walter Burg, who was asked last month by Supervisor Dennis Weaver to resign, Rubi said:

"I would criticize anyone who lets the newspapers do the hiring and firing. Mr. Weaver was not speaking for me.

"I'll make a statement on this matter if and when the board takes action."

Democrats Ask Firing Of Bohannan

The South Side Young Democratic Club yesterday called on Gov. Paul Fannin to remove Robert C. Bohannan from the State Welfare Board.

In a resolution adopted unanimously by 25 club members, the Young Democrats praised Rep. Robert Hutto, D-Maricopa, and State Democratic Chairman Robert Allen for criticizing the handling of a conflict of interest suit against Bohannan.

The suit concerned investments Bohannan made for the state retirement fund when he was a member of the State Retirement System Board's investment committee.

In speeches last week, Allen and Hutto charged that Atty. Gen. Robert Pickrell is not prosecuting the Bohannan suit because the statute of limitations will take effect on April 7.

Copies of the resolution were sent to Fannin, Hutto and Allen.

Merger Plan Includes Levy's Here

NEW YORK — (AP) — Two major department store chains — Bullock's, Inc., and Federated Department Stores, Inc. — have announced tentative plans to merge.

Federated has 12 divisions operating 60 stores in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Wisconsin, Florida, Arizona, California, New Mexico, Texas, Massachusetts, Tennessee and Ohio.

Federated was established in 1962. Its 1962 fiscal year sales 1992. Its 1962 fiscal year sales exceeded $860 million.

Bullocks, founded in 1906 and headquartered in Los Angeles, operates six stores in the Los Angeles area, one in Palm Springs, Calif., and its I. Magnin & Co. division has 17 stores in California, Washington, Oregon and Arizona. Bullock's has annual sales of about $196 million.

Under the merger plans, announced yesterday by officials of the two corporations, Bullock's stockholders would recieve 1.4 shares of Federated common stock for each share of Bullock's common stock.

Bullock's has about 9,800 shareholders and Federated 17,000.

The announcement said:

"It will be a condition of the final agreement that a ruling will be obtained from the Internal Revenue Service that the (stock) exchange will be a so-called 'tax-free' exchange.

"Following receipt of such ruling and other required clearances and approvals of governmental authorities . . . the stockholders will be asked to consider and vote upon the proposal."

Sex Life On Campus Linked To Many Ills

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Most colleges ignore student sex activities if no unfavorable publicity develops, says a Stanford University professor.

"A few colleges have tried to take a stand against pre-marital sex," Prof. Louis B. Mayhew said yesterday. "But this is viewed by students as unrealistic."

Mayhew, director of Stanford's Community College Planning Center, told a meeting of the American Personnel and Guidance Association that sexual freedoms have caused many problems for students. So have parental demands to achieve and problems of adjustment to college life.

"There has been an alarming incidence of suicide, hypertension, ulcers and the use of narcotics among college youth," said Mayhew.

The covert approval of college administrations toward sex has forced "students to search for their own standards and to lose respect for the teachings of the college in other spheres as well," said Mayhew.

"Not having respected adult guidance, the large number of college women who cease to be virgins during their undergraduate days grapple with a heavy load of guilt which may in part be responsible for the high dropout rate of women.

"Society has emphasized preoccupation with sex. It has produced contraceptives and opportunities for premarital sexual experimentation without the older threats of pregnancy or venereal disease," Mayhew said.

In general, Mayhew said, students "get along rather ineptly on a thin diet of human happiness and healthy pride."

"But, and this is the bright spot, they do have a desire and the courage to keep going," said Mayhew. "They wish for more happiness and more meaning in their lives.

"They have a hope that the future will somehow be better."

IN CYPRUS DISPUTE

Finn Calls Mission 'Thrilling Challenge'

GENEVA —(AP)— U.N. Secretary-General U Thant today appointed former Premier Sakari S. Tuomioja of Finland as mediator in the Cyprus dispute.

Tuomioja, a 52-year-old politician and diplomat, said he would take up his work in the strife-torn east Mediterranean island by the middle of next week.

His appointment was approved yesterday by Greece, Turkey, Britain and the island's two feuding communities.

Tuomioja, who has been Finland's ambassador to Sweden, said he would go to Stockholm later today to clear up his affairs there and would fly to New York Sunday for further consultations with Thant. The secretary-general came to Geneva for the opening of the U.N. Trade and Development Conference and was to return to New York later today.

Tuomioja described his mission—to try to bring a permanent peace between the feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriot communities — as a "thrilling challenge." But he stressed that he was aware of the great difficulties facing him.

He said the Finnish government had given him a six months leave of absence, but "nobody can tell how long it will take." The mediator's mandate from the security council is for only three months, but it would undoubtedly be extended if factions and nations involved desired an extension.

With Tuomioja's appointment, the United Nations was almost ready to begin its two-fold task of enforcing a peace between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots and trying to mediate their bloody communal dispute.

The Cyprus post will be Tuomioja's third U.N. assignment. The late Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold sent him to Laos in 1959 on an economic mission. He also spent three years as executive secretary of the U.N. economic commission for Europe.

In addition, they will hear a talk on the burgeoning auto industry from G. C. Curran, the Ford Motor Co.'s district manager.

One-House Legislatures Foreseen

CARSON CITY, Nev. — UPI — The governor of Nevada foresees the day when his state and maybe all others will have a one-house legislature if the U.S. Supreme Court decisions continue their present pattern.

Democrat Grant Sawyer told students of Lincoln High School that he was against a unicameral legislature because it does not provide a check and balance system.

"I think we have to recognize the Supreme Court has been holding in a series of decisions that legislation on the state level should be considered by persons who have been elected on a population basis.

"If this trend continues, and I believe it will . . . then there is not much sense in having two houses that are based on population only."

Me when I was

Grandpa's of him ~~Story~~ in the war

Grandpa Henderson's Parents either came from Ga. or Tenn. Ala. The South anyway. They left when the slaves were rel. freed and negro Lizz stayed with them and come with them to Ark. and lived with grandpa untill his wife died. Then she lived with the Children. mostly with J D Henderson as Aunt Anna worked most of the time always helped out to any in emergencies She was over 100 yrs old when she died.

Grandpa Henderson Served in the Civil war when very young He was wounded in battle. Shot in the leg. after sometime when his leg had healed so he could walk with a cane, he was dismissed from active service, and sent home In those days the boys had to get home the very best way they could Along the way he and a companion were walking through a densely wooded section of the Country, when they were attacked by a pack of wild wolves. They finally found an old barn close by and climbed up on it and fought the wolves off with grandpas walking cane after a day or two the wolves gave up & went away.

Grandpa and his friend then went on to their homes. of course They were exhausted After much care and good food they were soon allright again.

I was a very small child when I heard this true story, but it was thrilling and exciting to me.

Dont know the date or just where it all happened but its true.

Ive just given you the high points as Im not a very good story teller.

We regret to record the death of one of our most venerable and estimable citizens—the Rev. Wm. Henderson, better known as "Uncle Billy." He died at his residence, in this county, on Wednesday, the 8th inst., at the advance age of 89 years. For many years he has been fully consecrated to the work of the ministry in the Methodist E. Church South, the whole burden of his cry, through a long series of years, was "Behold! Behold the Lamb!" When death came he was ready—a full ripe sheaf for God's garner—whither he was gathered to shine and sing forever. He leaves behind him an aged and afflicted companion, several children, and a host of friends, to mourn their loss.

Obituary.--- At his residence in Bartow county, on the 6th day of April last, Rev. William Henderson, aged eighty-nine years.—This venerable servant of God was a member of the M. E. Church South, for sixty years. For five years, he lived a private member, but feeling that he was called to preach the Gospel, he obtained license, and from that time he devoted himself to his Master's business. For thirty-five years he preached in South Carolina, at that time there were, comparatively, few preachers, and hence his field of labor was wide. In those days, ministers, more frequently than now, adopted the Apostolic plan of going two and two together. He identified himself with Rev. Barnett Smith, and like Paul and Silas, they went forth, and obeyed the divine command, preaching in every nook and corner of Laurence District, and frequently in the adjoining Districts hunting out new ground and establishing new preaching places, frequently at private houses, holding Class-meetings, and prayer-meetings, visiting the sick and building up the church in every way in their power. He never let an opportunity of doing good slip wherever he might be thrown, whether on the Sabbath, week day, or at night, he was ready to work in his Father's Vineyard—whether to preach or exhort, or to do any service for the Lord, either at home or abroad. Frequently while traveling on a journey would he preach at the house where he stopped for the night, and on first acquaintance would so ingratiate himself with the people, that they would regret his departure, and solicit him to come again. Sending an appointment before him, and leaving them behind him for his return journey, he then made his very business avocations instruments for labor in the cause of the gospel. About twenty years after, he removed to this country, and settled near Cassville, where he died, continuing to preach and fill his place in the church as he had formerly done, until his failing powers confined him to his bed from which the old man left us for Heaven. He was a man of extraordinary constitution, and retained his strength and vivacity until his eighty-fifth year. It was not disease which terminated his life, but the sands of his existence gradually wasted away, and it only remained for him to yield up his life and go to his reward. The last days of his life were spent in talking of his willingness to depart and his anxious care for the church and his Christian friends. The preaching of the Gospel was his ruling passion, and his love for it was manifested in the closing hours of his life. One night a short time before his death, while some of his friends were on a visit to him at his house, he was lying asleep on his bed, suddenly, to the surprise of all he gave out a hymn, raised the tune and sung it through as if at a meeting, then took his text and preached aloud. The next morning on being asked about it, he told them that he was at a Camp-meeting. Familiarly known as "Uncle Billey," he was beloved by all who knew him, and now when we think of his goodness, his faith, and his long life of unwearied devotion to Christ, a gladness fills our heart in the same confidence, that he has his home now in the mansions of the blest in Heaven. Confident of his acceptance in the full assurance of faith, he spake in the closing moments of life, in raptured terms of the prospect just before him, and giving directions as to his burial, the place where he should be laid away, and who should preach his funeral sermon, he closed his eyes in peace and went away to the heavenly hills, Rev. J. L. Pierce discharged his funeral obsequie, before a large and deeply affected congregation, preaching from the appropriate text "For our conversation is in Heaven." And thus another aged pilgrim has passed the desert through and entered into the promised land, another soldier of the cross has fought the fight and won the crown. Behold we count them happy which endure. Blessed are the dead which died in the Lord.

Situation of Germantownship in Pennsylvania
6 English miles from Philadelphia.

The township comprises 5190 acres of land the lines of which can be seen on the present sketch from boundary tree to boundary tree. It belongs to the Ffurt and Crefelt purchasers in equal parts as already remarked elsewhere.

The Scuylkill, no. 2, is about a half hour ways from it, and in still weather we can distinctly hear the waterfall, no. 1.

From said Scollkill flows a creek called by the Indians Wesehetkinn, no. 3, and it spreads out into different little tributaries through our township. Yet another creek also runs through our township called Wingacocum, no. 4, on which Gerhard Heinrichs intends to erect a mill, no. 5., close behind his town lot.[50]

In the town Germantown, as it was laid out several years ago, 54 townlots have been taken up and all except 7 are already occupied. Our Company has therein 5½ lots which are, with the exception of one, all cultivated and seeded, the rest, however, having been laid out to the hereditary tenants.[51] The Comp.'s lots are noted under 6 with + and their house is situated upon the two first ones + +.[52]

The long street through the middle of the place is 60 and the cross streets 40 feet the lots, however, 14 rods wide. The inhabitants are as follows in the following order: On the east side, 1. Peter Keurlis, 2. Thunes Kunders, 3. Jan Lensen, 4. Lenart Arets, 5. Reinert Tissen, 6. Jan Lücken*, 7. Abraham Thünes*, 8 and 9 Gerhart Heinrix, 10. David Scherges*, 11. Wolter Simens*, 12. Derick op den Kalck*, 13. Wigard Levering, 14. Hermann von Bonn*, 15. Gerhard Levering*, 16. Heinrich Sellen*, 17. Isaac Schäfer*, 18. Heinrich Buchholz*, 19½. the Ffurt Comp., 20. Cornelis Bom*, ½, Isaac Dilbreck*, 22. Ffurt. Comp^{e}., 23½. Jan Duten, 24. Andres Suply.

On the west side, 1. Jann Strepers, 2. Derick op den Graef, 3. Hermann op den Graef, 4. Abraham op den Graef 5. Willjam Strepers, 6. Paul Wulf* 7. Johannes Bleikers* 8. and 9. Ffurt Company, 10. Jacob Schumacher, 11. Isaac Jacobs, 12. Jacob Tellner, 13. Heifert Pape* 14. Jacob Klümkes* 15. Cornelis Sjoert, 16. Hanns Peter Umbstet, 17½. Peter Schumacher, 18½. Jacob Tellner* 20½ Aaron Wunderlich*[53] 21½. Andres Kriskum, 22. Claus Tamson* 23. Hanns Millan* 24½.

[50] A mill, the first to be built within the bounds of Germantown, was eventually constructed on this site in 1691/92. The project was untaken by the Gemeinde of Germantown because of the capital required would have been too great for one person to bear (Raths Buch minutes for the 4th and 5th sessions in 1691 and 1692). The mill produced linseed oil, a flax product. The "fundamental articuln" passed by the original settlers gave the community the right to build a mill a person's land after the owner was compensated for property. Just after the government in Germantown was closed in 1707, the operation was taken over by a group of Quakers from Philadelphia (Exemplification Book No. 6, p. 249, CAP). Though the mill did not last past the 1750's (Christian Lehman Papers, HSP), the area was known by later historians as the location of the Hendricks and Shoemaker houses, one of which was called the "Rock House."

[51] The German term for hereditary tenants is Erbpachter. This word can also be translated as fee-farmer or copy holder, both of which are English legal terms for a form of lease holding of land. Though the Frankfurt Company may have considered their conveyances of land to be hereditary leases or Erbpacht, in reality they were simply deeds, not leases, granting land in fee simple with the reservation of a perpetual ground rent, a common type of land holding in Pennsylvania.

[52] This would be on the west side of Germantown Ave. between Penn and Coulter Streets. Though Pastorius' wife Enneke Klosterman had the right to 30 acres, which she acquired in Germany in 1685 with the other Mülheimers, Pastorius chose to live on the Company's property. Enneke's land was finally assigned in 1689 and located on the west side at number 22 on Pastorius' list (GtnL 39: 64-65). It was probably sometime after 1689 that Pastorius and his family moved to his wife's property.

[53] Wunderlich, whose name does not appear in any other Germantown records, must have rented this land because he does not appear in the title to the property. He did, however, come over in the same ship as Hendricks, Schumacher, Umstett, Schäffer, and Buchholz ("A Partial List," PMHB 338). It is quite possible that Aaron is related to Georg Wunderlich, a Dutch trained physician, who was a Quaker resident expelled from Danzig in 1677 (Joseph Besse, A Collection of the Sufferings of the People Called Quakers, for the Testimony of a Good Conscience ..., v. 2 [London: Luke Hinde, 1753], 433; Wilhelm Hubben, Die Quäker in der deutschen Vergangenheit [Leipzig: Quäker Verlag, 1929], 98).

A Hendricks was one of 15 families who founded Germantown, Pennsylvania side,[18] was settled by Johannes and Arnold Cassel sometime late in 1686. On 15 March 1687 Abraham Isacks op den Graef bought the lot next to the Cassels[19] and sold it to George Walker, the first occupant, on 22 May of the same year.[20] The March date is further supported by Jacob Jansen Klümpkes van Glebbich's sale on 7 May 1687 of his lot, number 14 on the list.[21] Jacob Telner's second lot on the west side is numbered 18½, indicating he owned 25 acres, that being a half lot.[22] It was not until 9 May 1687 that Telner purchased the additional 25 acres, which would raise his holdings to one lot or 50 acres.[23] The third and most important clue to the date of the map is the reference to Johannes Cassel being a recent arrival. On 31 March 1686, Cassel and his son Arnold signed a contract in Frankfurt am Main to settle land in Pennsylvania for the Frankfurt Company.[24] It was not, however, until almost a year later that he and his family arrived in Philadelphia on the ship Jeffries. The exact date of their arrival is uncertain; but it must have occurred sometime between December 1686 and February 1687.[25] Taking both the land holders' list and the commentary into consideration, the map would date from either December of 1686 or January of 1687.[26]

[18] The purchase date of Freÿ's lot is unknown. The only source of information on him purchasing this lot is a recital in a 1762 deed which leaves the date blank (probably because the page in the original deed book was torn). Freÿ, who was from Altheim in Alsace, came to Germantown in October of 1685 as a servant to Gerret Hendricks of Kriegsheim ("A Partial List of the Families who Arrived at Philadelphia Between 1682 and 1687," The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography 8 [1884]: 338). He probably acquired this lot soon after his service was completed.

[19] Ewige Erbpacht: Francis Daniel Pastorius, attorney and co-partner of the Frankfurt Company, to Abraham Isaacs opden Graeff, dated 15 day 1 month 1686[/7], "Grund- und Lager- Buch," 199, HSP. Though the deed gives the year as 1686, it states that the transaction occurred in the sixth year of William Penn's proprietorship which would make the year 1687 in the Gregorian calendar.

[20] Deed Poll: Abraham Isaacs opden Graeff to George Walker, dated 22 day 3 month (May) 1687, "Grund- und Lager- Buch," p. 202, HSP. Op den Graeff would have been living on his original town lot in lower Germantown.

[21] Bill of Sale: Jacob Jansen Klümpes to Cornelus Siverts, recited in PDBk D., No. 20, p. 447, CAP. It is possible that after Glebbick sold the property he rented from the Siverdts who lived elsewhere in the town.

[22] The number 18½ can not be read as signifying that Telner owned one and a-half lots or 75 acres. All the deeds to the property clearly state that Telner came to own 50 acres, or two half lots, here (GtnL 42: 86).

[23] Deed Poll: Thones Kunders to Jacob Telner, dated 9 day 3 month (May) 1687, recited in PDBk G., No. 11, p. 382 and Exemplification Book No. 7, p. 356, CAP.

[24] Contract: Johann Jacob Schültz, Jacobus van de Walle, and Daniel Behagel, of the "Pennsylvanian Company," to Johann and Arnold Cassel, dated 31 March 1686, "Grund- und Lager- Buch," p. 253, HSP.

[25] "A Partial List," PMHB 8: 329; which was published from the original in the HSP collections (Am 213). This source states that the Jeffries arrived on "20 1/m 1686." As the transcription of the Frankfurt Company contract clearly states "Signatum Franckfurt den 31ten Martÿ Anno 1686" (Gregorian calendar), it would have been impossible for the Cassels to have signed this paper several days after their arrival even if the calendar difference is factored in. Because the later deeds to this property repeat this date rather than correct it (GtnL 42: 87-88), the contract's date is valid. One can not read the year of the ship's arrival as 1686/7, or 1687 in the Gregorian calendar. This is because another Kriegsheimer, Sarah Schumacher, who came on the same ship with her family bought some land in Cheltenham Township on 29 day 12 month (February) 1686[/7] (recorded 16d 3m 1687 in PDBk E., No. 1, Vol. 7, p. 515, CAP). The deed explicitly states that she was a resident of Philadelphia County and present to pay the purchase money. It is, therefore, the month not the year of the arrival which is wrong. A close examination of the original manuscript at the Historical Society of Pennsylvania reveals that the date was written at the edge of a page which had later been cut short (several lines above this entry were missing the final letters in the words). The month appears at the very end of the line with only the first digit surviving. This means that the ship docked in Philadelphia in either the 10th (December), 11th (January), or 12th (February) months of 1686 under the Julian calendar. (It should be noted that Richard S. and Mary M. Dunn, et al., editors of The Papers of William Penn [{Phila.: Univ. of Pa. Press, 1986}, vol. 3, 1685-1700, 65, n. 80] unaware of the other sources repeat the mistake of the transcription.) Since Sarah Schumacher purchased her land in late February 1687, they were probably in Philadelphia about a month before. Placed within the context of the immigration from Kriegsheim, the 1686/7 date is not unreasonable. On 8 May 1685 Gerhardt Hendricks, Hans Peter Umstadt and Peter Schuhmacher petitioned the Palatine government at Hochheim for permission to leave Kriegsheim (Paul Michel, "Täufer, Mennoniten und Quäker in Kriegsheim bei Worms," Der Wormsgau 7 [1965]:47). Three months later all three men were in Rotterdam signing contracts with Dirck Sipman for land in Germantown (GtnL 39: 40; 42: 65, 85) and arrived in Philadelphia in October ("A Partial List," PMHB 8: 338). Johannes Cassel and Sarah Schumacher probably had more business matters to settle which delayed their departure until around September 1686.

[26] One should note that there is one minor discrepancy with this conclusion. Pastorius gives the name of Herman von Bonn as the owner lot number 14 on the east side. The title to this property shows Bonn receiving a deed from Pastorius on 10 August 1687 (recited in PDBk E., No. 7, Vol. 8, p. 137, CAP). It is likely, however, that Bonn had occupied the property in 1685, when the lots in this area were being assigned. Since the original settlers of Frankfurt

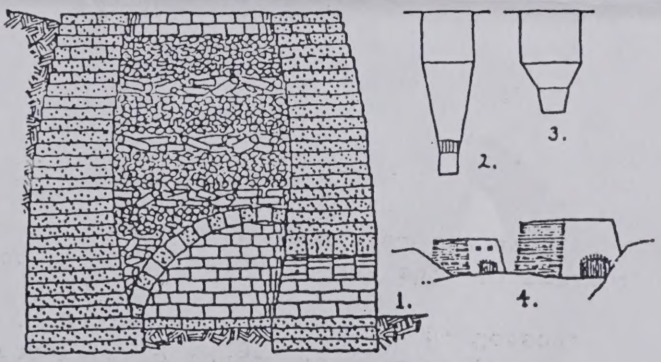
THE LIME INDUSTRY OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA

The lime industry was one of the most important factors in the development of Plymouth and Whitemarsh townships. Lime was produced as early as 1688 and was used extensively for mortar, fertilizer and iron production during the 18th and 19th centuries. By 1836, there were over 50 limekilns along Plymouth Creek. The 1850 census for Plymouth Township shows that there were 28 limeburners among the total male population of 729. This figure does not include those who identified themselves as farmers, but who also owned a limekiln. By 1858 there were over 75 limekilns in operation, producing over 100,000 bushels in one burning.

Limeburning continued throughout the 19th century. By 1900, the smaller lime burning operations in the Plymouth Meeting area were no longer able to compete with the high capacity, coal fired kilns of large companies such as G. & W. H. Corson.

The process of burning lime: the main reason for lime industry was able to prosper in the Plymouth Meeting area was because of the abundance of readily available limestone. One early type of time burning involved quarrying the stone and then layering it in a pit with a fuel source such as wood. The wood was then ignited and the stones heated to such a high temperature that they were chemically and physically reduced to lime. The burning process was a long one. Large kilns using coal as fuel would have to be tended for days to ensure that the temperature was consistent and the burning complete.



LIME KILNS.
1. Common type, built into a hillside. Often lined with firebricks in the 19th century. Sometimes fuel and lumps of limestone were placed in alternate layers, as shown here; sometimes fuel was burned only at the bottom.
2-3. Variations in shapes and proportions of the common lime kiln.
4. Kilns near Spring Mill, Pa., 1852.

From: Plymouth Meeting Historical Society Newsletter.

In the large kilns, the limestone and fuel would be layered in the interior funnel of the kiln. The arch opening and tunnel leading back to the tail of the funnel provides both a source of draft (air) for the burning and then a place to remove the lime after burning.

In 1989 I visited Plymouth Friends Meeting house in Plymouth Township (Friends from Plymouth, England purchased Plymouth Township in 1686 and Friends have been meeting there continually since 1708) across the street from one of the old lime kilns. This is a beautiful meeting house. The Meeting House is located next to the DICKINSON farmstead, which is an 18/19th

THE DESCENDANTS OF CORNELIUS TYSON AND REYNIER TYSON - A SERIES By Cathy BERGER.

Many of you are familiar with Cathy's work on the OP DEN GRAEF (all spellings) family. Last year we published her OP DEN GRAEFF-UPDEGRAF-UPDEGROVE: INDICES & PEDIGREES OF KNOWN DESCENDANTS OF HERMAN OP DEN GRAEFF, from the eleven volumes of Clyde UPDEGRAFF SHANK and Dr. Franklyn E. EDWARDS research. The article I did in the KREFELD IMMIGRANTS & THEIR DESCENDANTS last issue, Volume 9 #1, AND WHO WERE THE PARENTS OF CORNELIUS TYSON? has inspired her again. She has been computerizing the descendants of the TYSONS and we will be publishing these in a series. We will begin with the descendants of CORNELIUS TYSON'S GRANDSON, CORNELIUS' DESCENDANTS.

By way of an introduction: What we do know or believe about CORNELIUS TYSON, is he was probably born in Krefeld, Germany in 1652. He died 9 May 1716 and was buried in Axe's Graveyard, Concord School, Upper Cemetery, among brother Mennonites. His arrival in Germantown is believed to have been in 1684.

He married Margaret --?-- and his eldest son was named Matthias. In May of 1708 Margaret, wife of Cornelius took part in first communion (among eleven) by Mennonite Bishop GOTSCHALK. In his will, Cornelius states he is a weaver. We know he sent children to the school of PASTORIUS.

Cornelius' eldest son was MATTHIAS, b 1682 in Krefeld, d 1766 in Perkiomen Twp., Montgomery Co, PA, m Barbara SELLEN (c1700/1769, d/o Henry & Mary SELLEN. Both Matthias and Barbara are buried in the Lower Skippack Cemetery, Creamery, PA. His will dated 2 Sept 1758/probated 30 April 1766 (Phila. #286, V. N, p530) mentions his eight children and eleven grandchildren. Cornelius (extr), John (extr.); Henry (blind), dau: Sibilla & Barbara; Margaret, wife of Jacobus PENNEBECKER (child: Matthias, Henry, Barbara and Jacobus); Peter's child: Mary, Barbara, Cornelius, Catharine & Joseph; William; Benjamin; and Joseph. Land records for Matthias can be found in Germantown 1712; Phila. Deed Book E7, V9, p9 May 1719; and his signature was on a petition for a cart way (Skippack Pike) in 1713; listed as a landowner in Skippack and Perkiomen Twp. in 1734; another petition in 1728 asking for protection from the Indians in Perkiomen Valley.

Cornelius' daughter Barbara m Madtis KUNDERS/CUNRADE (s/o Thones KUNDERS) 5th mo. 29th, 1706. Madtis dead and left a will dated 8-29-1725 in Germantown, Philadelphia Co. Their seven children were all minors at the time of his death. He appointed his younger brothers, John and Henry as guardians to his children, who were: Anthony, Margaret, Cornelius (descendant chart to follow), Magdalen, William, John and Matthias.

Cornelius' daughter Alice m Rev. John CONRADS a Germantown Mennonite minister (not to be confused with JOHN/JON KUNDERS/CUNRAD(E)(S), brother of Madtis and 3rd son of Thones KUNDERS mentioned above. Alice is listed as a member of the Germantown Mennonite Church in 1708.

Cornelius' third daughter is Williaminse, (1690/1769) m Paul ENGLE of Germantown, both are buried in Axe's Graveyards, as her parents are. He last daughter is Yanicken/Fannirse/Fanny, wife of Lawrentz HENDRICKS. She died after 1753.

For more on this family check CORNELIUS TYSON DESCENDANTS 1652-1986, Compiled by Genevieve A. KERR-TYSON, 1987.

It is hoped that by publishing Cathy's work we can help TYSON descendants find which TYSON they descend from --CORNELIUS or REYNEIR. Many TYSON researchers have found it difficult to tracing back through this family in part due to the ongoing naming patterns. It is often difficult to distinguish which Cornelius or Matthias you descend from when every son (note, the large number of children) names his sons the same names his brothers name theirs sons.

We begin the charts with CORNELIUS TYSON, s/o the immigrant Cornelius TYSON's son Matthias:

acres detached was the southeast corner. The Black Horse hotel was erected in 1745 and continued to be kept as such down till 1826.

Joseph CONARD chose for his share the southwestern end of his father's plantation, whilst Benjamin took the half nearest Blue Bell and the Skippack road. It was only for a brief time that the latter held possession, for the hand of death was soon upon him, and he died without issue. He had married Margaret RICHARDSON. On the 7th day of May, 1759, only eight months after his father's death Benjamin CONARD in turn made his will, devising his share of 110 acres to his wife, and this was the end of the CONARD ownership of this portion. His widow, ere two years had passed, married Thomas WHITE, on the 4th of June 1761, and Joseph CONARD, the other son, gave a formal release to WHITE for 112 acres.

That half of the original CONARD plantation that had been devised to the younger son Benjamin soon became divided into fragments, the history of which we will trace somewhat. Thomas WHITE soon became involved in debt so that the Sheriff seized his property after the space of seven ~~years. This~~ Sheriff was William PAN who on the 14th of May, 1766, sold the whole to Herman HENDRICKS. The latter was the owner during the Revolution, and is ~~supposed to~~ have lived at the REX premises. He retained possession until his death, in 1784. His children were Leonard, Elizabeth, Margaret, Rosanna, Rebecca, Sarah and Hannah. Before court, on the 19th of March 1784, the plantation was awarded to Leonard, the eldest son, he paying to the other children their respective shares.

The HENDRICKS ownership ended after twenty-two years, by its sale in 1786 to Joseph ~~HALLOWELL, chainmaker~~, but only two years after the farm changed hands again by its sale to Frederick FETZER. Henceforth it became divided into several portions, which pieces will be traced somewhat in detail.

THE SLINGLUFF FARM. The small farm of 23 acres belonging to William H. SLINGLUFF was detached in 1812 by its sale to Samuel LUKENS by William McDOWELL. LUKENS was a man of small size, and a Quaker by faith, who lived here a life time. He attended Gwynedd Meeting twice a week regularly, always attired in a bottle green coat, and riding in a chair. His ownership continued from 1812 till 1858. At the latter date his executors sold the same to Samuel JONES. The later transfers have been 1855, JONES to Jacob CRAFT 1856; CRAFT to John JONES who died in 1868. In 1869 it was purchased by William SLINGLUFF the present owner.

THE REX FARM. This old homestead is situated a short distance northeast of the Plymouth road. This farm was included in 85 acres sold by Frederick FETZER in 1798 to James McDOWELL. Twenty-four acres had been detached in 1796 by the sale by FETZER to his son Andrew, of a place lying near Blue Bell. It would be tedious to relate at length the many subsequent transfers, and which may be condensed as follows: 1800, Administrators of James McDOWELL to Elisha EVANS; 1802, EVANS to William McDOWELL; 1808, McDOWELL to Edward JOHNSON; 1809, JOHNSON back to McDOWELL; 1810, McDOWELL to John FITZWATER; 1818, FITZWATER to Frederick RUMER; 1831, RUMER to George --ERPER. The latter held 48 acres here for upwards of half a century. Finally, in 1882 the last transfer was made to Henry REX.

THE STREEPER FARM. The STREEPER and WALTON farms of 25 acres each and lying northeast of the REX place were detached in 1812 by their sale by John McDOWELL to Charles JONES. The latter owned it forty years till in 1853 there were 59 acres transferred to John FITZGERALD of Worcester. The later changes have been, 1865, to William SMITH; 1869, SMITH to Casper SLINGLUFF; 1873, SLINGLUFF to Charles Y. FISHER. William WALTON came into possession of his present farm in 1888 by purchase from John BALDOEF. The writer has not been able to satisfactorily traced the earlier history of these lands. In 1769, one Dennis CONARD sold 29 acres to Isaac SHOEMAKER. This bordered on the Skippack road. The latter held possession till 1791, when he sold to Jacob DAGER. Then the transfers were: 1796, DAGER to James WOOD; 1798, WOOD to John FETZER; 1808, FETZER to John McDOWELL.

THE STOCKDALE HOMESTEAD. The STOCKDALE dwelling is at the junction of the Plymouth road, and a road running towards Hickorytown. The farm comprises 56 acres, and is the only portion of the lands of Henry CONARD that yet remains in possession of his descendants, after a period of 178 years. It was the upper or northwest half acres detached was the southeast corner. The Black Horse hotel was erected in 1745 and continued to be kept as such ever till 1820.

Joseph CONARD chose for his share the southwesterly end of his father's plantation, whilst Benjamin took the half nearest Blue Bell and the Skippack road. It was only for a brief time that the latter held possession, for the hand of death was soon upon him, and he died without issue. He had married Margaret FITZWATER. On the 7th day of May, 1759, only eight months after his father's death Benjamin CONARD in turn made his will, devising his share of 119 acres to his wife, and this was the end of the CONARD ownership of this portion. His widow, ere two years had passed, married Thomas WHITE, on the 4th of June 1761, and Joseph CONARD, the other son, gave a formal release to WHITE for 119 acres.

That half of the original CONARD plantation that had been devised to the younger son Benjamin soon became divided into fragments, the history of which we will trace somewhat. Thomas WHITE soon became involved in debt so that the Sheriff seized his property after the space of seven years. This Sheriff was William PARR who on the 26th of May, 1768, sold the whole to Herman HENDRICKS. The latter was the owner during the Revolution, and is supposed to have lived at the RIX premises. He retained possession until his death, in 1784. His children were Isaac, Elizabeth, Margaret, Rosanna, Zacharias, Sarah, and Jacob. [illegible] years later, on the 4th of March 1786, the plantation was adjudged to Isaac, the eldest son, he paying to the other children their respective shares.

The HENDRICKS ownership ended after twenty-two years, by its sale in 1790 to [illegible], but only two years after the farm changed hands again by its sale to Frederick FETZER. Henceforth it became divided into several portions, which places will be traced somewhat in detail.

THE SLINGLUFF FARM. The small farm of 22 acres belonging to William H. SLINGLUFF was detached in 1812 by the sale to Samuel LUKENS by William McDOWELL. LUKENS was a man of small stature and a Quaker of [illegible] and lived here a little time. He attended [illegible] Meeting [illegible] a week regularly, always attired in a bottle green coat, and riding on a [illegible]. The ownership continued from 1812 till 1848 [illegible] the latter date [illegible] to Samuel JONES, the later transfers have been 1848, [illegible] JONES who died in 1868. In 1872 it was purchased by William SLINGLUFF the present owner.

THE RIX FARM. This old homestead is situated a short distance northeast of the Plymouth road. This farm was included in 83 acres sold by Frederick FETZER in 1798 to James McDOWELL. Twenty-four acres had been detached in 1794 by the sale of FETZER to his son Andrew, of a place lying near Blue Bell. It would be tedious to relate at length the many subsequent transfers, and which may be condensed as follows: 1800, Administrators of James McDOWELL to Elijah EVANS; 1802, EVANS to William McDOWELL; 1808, McDOWELL to Edward JOHNSON; 1809, JOHNSON back to McDOWELL; 1810, McDOWELL to John FITZWATER; 1818, FITZWATER to Frederick RURER; 1832, RURER to George EPPER. The latter held 68 acres here for upwards of half a century. Finally, in 1882 the last transfer was made to Henry RIX.

THE KIRKNER FARM. The KIRKNER and WALTON farms of 19 acres each and lying northeast of the RIX place were detached in 1812 by their sale by John McDOWELL to Charles JONES. The latter owned it forty years till in 1853 these were 19 acres transferred to John FITZGERALD of Worcester. The later changes have been, 1863, to William SMITH; 1866, SMITH to Casper SLINGLUFF; 1873, SLINGLUFF to Charles F. FISHER. William WALTON came into possession of his present farm in 1888 by purchase from John BALDWIN. The writer has not been able to satisfactorily traced the earlier history of these lands. In 1760 [illegible] Thomas CONARD [illegible] 24 acres to Isaac [illegible]. This bordered on the Skippack road. The latter held possession till 1791, when he sold to Jacob [illegible]. Then the transfers were, 1796, [illegible] to James [illegible]; 1799, [illegible] to John [illegible]; 1808, [illegible] to John McDOWELL.

THE STOCKDALE HOMESTEAD. The STOCKDALE dwelling is at the junction of the Plymouth road, and a road running towards Hickorytown. The farm comprises 56 acres, and is the only portion of the lands of Henry CONARD that yet remains in possession of his descendants, after a period of 170 years. It was the upper or northeast half

THE WILL OF EDWARD JONES, MERION, PHILADELPHIA COUNTY, PA: I have run queries from time to time in an attempt to locate proof of who the parents of my JANE JONES wife of Henry CUNARD (c1710-1762/Montg Co PA) was. Speculation is that she was the daughter of EDWARD JONES and his wife Catherine. I have never located documentation. Howard W. HOLMES, who also descends from Henry and Jane, down through their MARKS descendants as I do, sent a copy of a will abstract from Philadelphia County. While this is is not our Edward JONES - maybe he is yours: Will #177, page 1536 -

CORRECTION AND ADDITIONS ON THE CHILDREN OF EDWARD CUNNARD: In the KREFELD IMMG, Volume 9 #2, p26 listed on the chart of Edward CUNNARD, Sr. fourth daughter, we spelled her name as 'TAMELA' and it should have been 'PAMELA.'

NEW! NEW! INFORMATION ON EDWARD'S SON JARRETT: Jarrett, seventh child of Edward CUNNARD and his wife, Judith HIRST, was born 8 Jan 1790 in Loudoun Co., VA; m Leare (or Laura) PYLE; d 24 Oct. 1871; lived in Jackson County, OH. After his death his wife applied for his pension from the War of 1812. Widow's Pension No 714, certificate issued 14 Feb. 1871. Claim dated 18 March 1878 before Clerk of the Common Pleas Court of Jackson Co., OH, states she married 'Jaret Cunard in Jackson Co, OH on 13 March 1833 by John B. GILLILAND, J.P.' She resided in Scioto Twp. at the time of the claim, and was 78 years old. (A discrepancy: shown in the date of the marriage as 16 March 1829 and her name spelling 'Lear PILIS was given 'by the soldier.') Records show Jarrett CUNARD served in Capt. John MORTON'S Co. of 38th Reg. Infantry Division, Norfolk, VA from 20 June 1814 to 2 June 1815 and was honorably discharged. She received a pensoin of $8 a month beginning 9 March 1878 admitted 1 August 1878. Her death is estimated as 'about 1891.'

Dear Mary:

I am sending you a print out of what I put into the data base on the Hendricks, I would think that I have done something wrong with dates and spelling, but I will get another one to you as soon as I do some more updating.

Also are a copy of Vaden and Cora marriage license and the photo of Vaden and Cora.

Also some other photos that I am sending you.

Along with some other information on Thomas and anything else that I might have on the Hendricks line.

I will keep you updated and anything that I find on our line.

Thanks for everything,

Sincerely,

Judy

the vicinity of Marietta. Some of them settled in the Prairie, and from that circumstance it was called Yankee Prairie. One of these immigrants was Rev. Daniel Hilton, a minister of he Baptist church. For many years he was pastor of the Fountain Creek Baptist Church. Several of his descendants reside in the county. Daniel M. Barker, a native of Vermont, settled in the New Design prairie in 1818. In 1854 he removed to Red Bud where he died. He had nine children, Hiram, Lewis, Albert, Miron, Eveline, Melcena, Susan, Eliza and Daniel Perry, of whom Lewis alone now resides in this county. Several became residents of Randolph county. Zebediah Barker, the father of Daniel M. Barker, settled a mile and a half west of the present town of Burksville, on land now owned by H. Johanning.

With the Ohio immigration came the Norton and Gilman families which settled on Dry run, south of Burksville. Moses Varnum, born at Belfast, Maine, came from Ohio with his family in 1818. Jewett and Justus Varnum were his two sons and he had two daughters, one of whom married Daniel M. Barker. Jewett Varnum made an improvement in the northwest quarter of section seventeen, township three, range nine, and Justus on the southeast quarter of section eighteen.

Among later settlers in the precinct were Eben Alexander and John Durfee, who came about the year 1837, and entered land on Horse Creek. They built a saw mill on Horse creek. Richmond Durfee, a newphew of Alexander Durfee, started a store half a mile northwest of the present Burksville station, the first store in this part of the county. After a year or two it was removed to the Horse prairie, near the county line. He afterward started a store in Red Bud. The Durfees were natives of Fall River, Massachusetts, and came to Illinois from Ohio. Harrison Druce, a native of the State of New York, settled where he now lives, in section sixteen, township three, range nine, in 1842. John Murphy and his son James settled near Cambria station in 1840. Soon after 1835 a number of families of Irish descent settled in the precinct, among which were the Sennot, McLaughlin, Burns, Dugan, Lynch, Donahue, Cooney, Dwyer and Butler families. St. Patrick's Catholic church was established in their neighborhood.

There are two stations of the St. Louis and Cairo railroad, Cambria and Burksville stations, within the limits of the precinct. There are three post-offices, Burksville and New Design, at Burksville station; and Tipton at Cambria.

BURKSVILLE.

The commencement of the growth of the town of Burksvi was the starting of a store in 1851 by John G. Bur hardt and John Metzler Burkhardt was a resident St Louis. Napoleon Fitzpatrick was taken in as a partn in 1854, but in about a year afterward disposed of interest to the other members of the firm. The store w purchased in 1857 by Paul C. Brey, and the same ye Jacob Miller, subsequently a resident of Red Bud, w made a partner. Afterward Mr. Brey became again the so owner, and continued the store until 1864, when Fran Schifferdecker obtained an interest, which in 1866 he so to Alexander Durfee, who died in 1868. The store w burned in 1872, and Mr. Brey then formed a partnersh with Anton Langsdorf, which continued till 1874, sin which time the business has been carried on by Mr. Langsdorf.

The second store was established in 1856 by Mir Barker and Rudolph Kuederle. Frederick Zimmerma and George Baum also carried on the mercantile busine for a time. The original town site was owned by John Brown, who sold the lots in parcels. The name of Burkville was given the place in 1857 in honor of John G. Burhardt.

An addition known as "Hendricks' addition" was th made in 1858 by Gerhardt J. Hendricks, and one in 18 by Fred Burkhardt. A post office was established in 18 and Paul C. Brey appointed the first postmaster. He r tained the office till his removal from the place in 187 since which time the position has been filled by Ant Langsdorf. The town contains about twenty dwellin houses, and has a population of about one hundred an twenty.

There is an Evangelical Lutheran church, and one the same denomination two miles and a half south. Th business interests of the place are now represented as follow merchants, Anton Langsdorf and Charles Boehne & So shoemaker, Frederick Zimmermann; saw mill and blac smith shop, Frederick Meyer; blacksmith, William Enric wagon maker, William Klein; harness maker, Jac Blette; hotels, Fred Burkhardt and Anton Conrad. Burkville is nearer than any other town to the geographic centre of the county. At Burksville station on the railroa two miles distant, a store is carried on by Jacob Berger.

Dear Mrs. Nunneley,

I hope you will forgive the tardiness of this acknowledgement and the data you sent on the Hendricks family. You asked for family sheets and I had delayed hoping to get some filled out. I usually write up my families in a manuscript form instead of sheets and I had so little on that line I just had not put it into a better form.

You were very generous to send me all of this material and I hope the enclosed will assist your postage costs, etc. I am very appreciative and hope that I can turn up more on these families which I can share with you in the future.

I believe the Hendricks family was not an extremely early family in Kentucky as I have checked my Old Kentucky Deeds & Entries (usually prior to 1800) and find only the following (there were lots of Hendersons but no Hendricksons). Knox, Adair, Russell & Casey Counties, KY were all original part of Lincoln County for which there are no Hendricks entries):

George Hendricks entered 1,000 acres of land on the east branch of Huston's Fork in Fayette County entries Jan. 4, 1783.
George Hendrick entered 400 acres on Huston's Fork in Jefferson County entries on Feb. 5, 1780.

The following two men received military warrants for land in Kentucky (though may have sold them and never actually settled in Kentucky):

Benjamin Hendrick received a Warrant (#4300) for 100 acres on July 3, 1787 for having served 3 years as a soldier in the Virginia line.
Elijah Hendrick received a Warrant (#3) for 200 acres on Aug. 2, 1782 for having served 3 years as a Sergeant in the Virginia Continental line.

Byrd Hendricks of Amherst County, VA sold 500 acres of land on Chaplin's Fork, Glenn's Lick on July 20, 1795. (I must say that I was surprised how few Hendricks entries there were in these early Kentucky land records).

I do have a copy of an older version of the International Genealogical Index (IGI) which covers a lot of the early Kentucky marriages, though it is very incomplete. I did check for a marriage of Hardy Johnson - presumably to a Miss Hendricks. I did not find Hardy Johnson listed at all or a Johnson-Hendricks marriage. It certainly would seem that Margaret Hendricks, age 77, in 1850 is our ancestress. When I get to the Federal Records center next I plan to look that actual census entry up. Some of the Johnsons seem to be born in Alabama and migrating from North Carolina (Hardy) to Alabama and then into Kentucky is very unusual. Alabama people usually went on westward.

Some of the Johnsons seem to be born in Alabama and migrating from North Carolina (Hardy) to Alabama and then into Kentucky is very unusual. Alabama people usually went on westward.

However, I am very interested that Margaret Hendricks listed her birth place as De. I am presuming is Delaware. I have checked some indexes for Delaware and find no Hendricks, but I do find that a large Hendrickson/Hendrixson family lived in Delaware and were members of the Holy Trinity (Old Swedes) Church at New Castle. I also found two entries for the surname Badin/Badden (no Vadens). I think that is an important clue as Vaden/Baden, etc. could be a surname, even Margarets.

I don't think our Hendricks can be confused with Henderson, but in early records - particularly pre-1800, I would continue to be aware of Hendrickson. Hendricks is most surely a shortening of Hendrickson and Hendricksdatter (the femanine patronymic) and the fact it is sometimes spelled Hendrix and I find the Swedish name spelled Hendrixson makes me suspicious they are one in the same. Although our family had obviously dropped the "son" by 1810 and seemed to stick to it pretty faithfully, we should watch for Hendrickson prior to 1800.

The following from the Old Swedes Church records may be of interest, even though they are too early:

Henry Badden married Hannah Bean in May, 1747.
Maria Badin daughter of Reinold and Catharina Badin christened Sep. 8, 1742.
John Hendrickson married Margret Sennex (or Sonnex) June 28, 1772. (They had a daughter Margret christened June 22, 1777).

There were not in my IGI many entries for the time period which would help us, but I don't know if they are not later records or just that the later records have not been entered into the index. However, it is something to think about.

In looking back over the tax lists, it is interesting that Margaret Hendrick appears the tax lists in 1811, not long after Ezekiel Hendrickson died in Dec. 1809.

I went back to the IGI under Virginia and did find the following: Tobias Hendrickson married Peggy Wright on May 13, 1789 in Berkeley County, VA (now West Virginia). Berkeley County, VA is at the mouth of the Shenandoah Valley and a migration down the Shenandoah and through the Cumberland Gap into Knox County, KY would be a well travelled migration route. There were some Wrights who belonged to Old Swedes Church at New Castle, but that is, of course, a very common surname.

I would be pleased to hear any further thoughts you have about the above.

Cordially,

Chris H Bailey

Dear Mrs. Nunneley,

I thank you for your interesting letter of March 25th concerning the Hendricks family. I'm sorry to say that I know little more on the Hendricks family than I did in 1989 and fear that I will be able to give you much of interest. I hoped to get back to Frankford, KY and do more work in the Kentucky Historical Society before now, but have spent a great deal of time working on some finishing some books on other families and have not gotten back there.

I did hear from a Jack Hardebeck from San Diego, CA concerning the Hendricks and he seems to be a descendent of Vaden and Sylvania (Brown) Hendricks through their son William, brother of my Emily M. (Hendricks) Scott. I will enclose a copy of Jack's letter and my reply to him as it recounts some miscellaneous Hendricks notes which I collected. Unfortunately, I did not hear again from Jack Hardebeck, so I learned nothing more about William Hendrick's family or descendants.

I did make a brief visit to Washington County, IL some years ago. I checked the Washington County deed index (checked 1821-1858) and found no deeds for Vaden or Sylvania Hendricks. There may have been some for your John, but I was not aware of him or had a reason to look for him at the time. Neither Vaden nor Sylvania had probates in St. Clair or Washington Counties, IL.

I have not found an indication that there were many Hendricks families in Casey or Russell County, KY. I see that you note your James Hendricks was born in Knox County, KY. This family seems to have been moving rapidly to be found in at least four Kentucky counties in less than a generation.

I would be very pleased to learn more about the tax lists you found for Vaden, Margaret and your James. If you have run across clues about their ancestry, I would be pleased to hear of them. Although I cannot be of much help at present, I may uncover material in the future as I do try to get back to certain families periodically as I can get a chance to make trips for genealogical purposes.

Perhaps something in the enclosed will be of help. I hope to hear from you in the near future.

Dear Mrs. Nunneley

I thank you for your letter of Jan. 31st and the additional information on the children of William and Nancy (Luke) Hendricks. Very interesting items.

I had never really thought much about Sylvania (Brown) Hendricks being a sister of your Sarah (Brown) Hendricks. One reason was the common nature of Brown. Although I have often run into sister and brothers marrying, in this case the brothers did not marry in the same county. That certainly doesn't prove anything, however.

Vaden and Sylvania (Brown) Hendricks were married in Russell County, KY Dec. 4, 1828. The only other early Brown marriages there (before 1840) were Leny Brown who md. Alen Bernard May 25, 1828; Henry Brown md. Ann Wilson Mar. 3, 1833; Margaret Brown md. Josephes Bernard Jan 26, 1835; Berryman Brown md. Lucinda Wooldridge Jan. 14, 1839 and Jacob Brown md. maria Agree on Jan. 14, 1839 (same date as previous).

The 1830 census lists no Hendricks in Russell Co., KY, but does list Hezekiah, Jacob and Joel Brown. Vaden and his mother Peggy Hendricks are enumerated in Casey Co., KY in 1830 and also listed in Casey County were the following Browns: Elizabeth, Jesse, Sally, Thomas and Washington. I have never seriously pursued any of them.

I will let you know if anything new turns up.

Cordially,

Chris H Bailey

I have quite a bit of info on Emily Hendricks who married William H. Scott (she died 27 Oct 1878) and Scott married #2 Mrs. Matilda Tennessee Cooper Elkins. I received this material from Chris H. Bailey, 230 Center Street, Bristol CT, 06010 several years ago. Have had no contact with Chris in recent years, so do not know if Chris is still doing research.
Would you like me to send you the Emily material.......let me know.
My branch of the Hendricks family, Judge George Washington Hendricks, son of James and Sarah Brown Hendricks, moved from Washington Co. IL to Labette Co. KS in 1883. Again...not far from Nowata and Bartlesville OK. Indeed, a small world.
Talk again when you have a bit more time, but do let me know if you want the Emily material.

Dear Chris,

Will respond to your letter of 19 Dec 1992, but with little further information concerning our Hendricks family.

Thank you for the copy of the picture and additional information. I have gone through my Hendricks file "again" and "again" and have pulled together a few items I may have neglected to send to you. These small items were sent to me in 1980 by two researchers I hired in St. Clair and Washington Cos. in IL. The following applies to our families:

WPA-Newspaper file, 1840-1940 (sent by St. Clair researcher, but may apply to Wash. Co.)

8 Nov 1940
Died, Thomas Hendrick, born 1863, son of the late William and Nancy Jane (nee Luke). Married in 1887. (newspaper not given)

"Looking Back from Washington County, Illinois"(quarterly no longer published) Vol 2, No 4, 1978 - page 16:

Washington Co IL marriages, Book B, 1857-1858
12 Aug 1858 - William Hendricks to Nancy J. Luke

J. D. Mann Funeral Home Records, Nashville, IL. (sent by researcher in Washington Co.)

W. L. Hendricks, husband of Ellen, son of ________ Hendricks and Nancy Luke. Born 26 Jan 1870, died 23 May 1953.

I have, again, checked the 1850/1860 census for St. Clair and 1850 census for Washington Co., but do not find a Thomas Hendricks, the probable son of Vaden and Sylvania Brown Hendricks. During both 50/60 Thomas, if born during the first year of marriage of Vaden and Sylvania, he would be living in his own household. He could be about 21 years of age. Maybe he served in the Mexican War (1846-1848) and had not returned to IL by 1850. I note three Thomas Hendricks/Hendrix in the 1850 census index, but the locations do not place them near Washington or St. Clair Co.

To add to this confusion...is there a relationship between Sylvania Brown who married Vaden Hendricks and Sarah Brown who married James Hendricks?? The only thing I know about Sarah Brown is that she was born in Garrard Co. KY on 5 Jan 1817 and died in Washington Co., IL on 18 Feb 1880 (both dates from a family Bible) She married James Hendricks on 29 Jan 1838 in Adair Co. KY (family Bible and vital records, not now extant but in a published book). A Walter Brown was security for the marriage in Adair Co. KY and a Walter Brown lives near James and Baden Hendricks in St. Clair Co. IL in 1840. Walter is not on the 1850 census of St. Clair or Wash. Co., IL. Living in the household of James and Sarah Brown Hendricks, 1850 St. Clair Co., is; Susan Brown, ae 65, b SC; Mary Brown, ae 40, b KY and Brazell Brown,

Mary		Brown	b ca 1810	per 1850 census
Sarah		Brown	b 5 Jan 1817	per Bible
Brazell		Brown	b ca 1824	per 1850 census

The only Brown family in St. Clair in 1840 who has a female age 50-60 (Susan) is a W. G. Brown who is 60-70. There are numerous persons in the household of various ages. W. G. is not on the 1850 census. I also, am unable to locate a household in 1840 St. Clair near James or Baden Hendricks with a female who might be Margaret Hendricks.

The more I work on these lines, the more confused I become...

In the July/Aug 1992 Genealogical Helper, a Mrs. Lillie Eaton of Joplin, MO placed the name of Ezekiel Hendrickson, d 1809, Knox Co. KY in the Roots Cellar section. I think I will drop her a note and offer the tax records and such that I obtained from my KY researcher. Maybe she has a copy of the will of Ezekiel naming the wife, Marg? or Mary? as mentioned by my researcher. Will let you know if I hear from her.

If you find any information concerning the 1812 widow's pension for Margaret, wife of Thomas Hendricks/Hendrickson, I will be interested in your findings.

Sincerely,

Mary Nunneley

Dear Mr. Bailey,

Thank you for writing to me, sorry to be so delayed in answering.

I have enclosed a short list of the descendants of George Hendricks. I am descended from Willian and George Tenant Hendricks. Your Emily M. Hendricks was not a descendant of George.

There were other Hendricks families living in St. Clair County. A John Hendricks or Hendrix came around 1812 and had at least 4 sons who married and lived in the area. In the census of 1840 two other Hendrix show up--one James and one BADEN or VADEN HENDRICKS which I think is probably your ancestor. He had a daughter of the right age. And it seems to me your great great grandfather Samuel Vaden Scott was probably named for his two grandfathers.

I don't know what happened to Vaden in 1850. I do not find him in the census. I know he is listed several times in the newspapers of the 1840's as having letters at the post office. I know there are no probate records for him as I have checked them many times. I go down to St. Clair County several times a year as my mother still lives there and each time I go down I do some research at the court house. When I am there next time I will check the deed records for you to see what they show about Vaden Hendricks.

I will also check what I can about Monroe, Randolph and Washington Counties to see if the marriage is there. But I do not expect to find it. In researching my family line in St. Clair County there are many marriages that were not recorded. I have found evidence for some in deed and probate records and others are never proved.

I also quickly checked the census indexes for Kentucky and found a Vaden Hendricks in 1830 in Casey County, Kentucky.

I know I haven't been much help but I will keep my eye out for Vaden Hendricks as I continue research in St. Clair County.

Sincerely,

Jody Moeller

Dear Ms Bailey:

I have recently noted your query in the Illinois State Genealogical Society Quarterly, Spring 1989 issue, on page 57. It concerned a Vaden and Peggy (mother?) Hendricks of St. Clair and Washington Cos. in Illinois. I have researched the Hendricks/Brown family for many years with little success, but do know my Hendricks and your Hendricks seem tied together in some manner. I employed a researcher in Kentucky in 1981 and she found Vaden, Margaret (also shown as Peggy) and my James Hendricks together on several tax lists. The three disappear and next show up in St. Clair Co., Ill., by 1840 where my great-grandfather was born on 15 Nov 1840.

The following is my Hendricks family of St. Clair and Washington Co., Ill:

James Hendricks - 4 May 1815 (Knox Co. KY)
25 Oct 1875 (Washington Co. Ill.)
married on 29 Jan 1838 in Adair Co., KY, to

Sarah Brown (dau of ?Walter and Susan) 5 Jan 1817 (Garrard Co Ky)
18 Feb 1880 (Washington Co., Ill)

ISSUE:

George Washington Hendricks	1840-1916
Burzell Hendricks	1843-1879
Mary Louise Hendricks	1846-1880
Willis Vadon Hendricks	1849-1907
John Hendricks	1851-1869
Joseph Hendricks	1853-1869
Martha A. Hendricks	1855-1882
Sarah E. Hendricks	1857- ?

Your Vaden Hendricks married as Hendrix to Sylvena Brown on 4 Dec 1828 in Russell Co., KY. This county adjoins Adair Co. where my James Hendricks married Sarah (called Sally at her marriage) Brown on 29 Jan 1838.

I would be happy to share material concerning these families if you are still researching the Hendricks.

I am enclosing an SASE for your convenience to reply.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Mrs Nunnely

Chris Bailey shared a letter of yours regarding "our Hendricks family" (my mother was a Hendricks from Nashville (Washington Co) + Marissa (St. Clair) Illinois

Yesterday I received a new book by Charles R. Haller, Heritage Books, Inc (1-301-390-7709) 1540 E Pointer Ridge Pl., Bowie Md 20716 - $35.00 via UPS. "Across the Atlantic + Beyond". Great for origins of the Hendrickses + the name + Germantown Hendricks etc etc etc. I now no longer wonder if my mom's name was Dutch, Belgian or German. All 3 countries spawned Hendrickses!

All the best Jack Hardebeck

Hi Judy...
Glad you like the material but as you can see, I really did not have much on Vaden and Sylvania Brown Hendricks. Feel pretty certain, unproven, that your Vaden and Sylvania and my James and Sarah have a close family tie. Vaden and James are on tax lists in KY and living next door to each other on the 1840 census of St. Clair Co. IL. Something I did not touch on, because it is a mystery......in KY there is a Margaret (also called Peggy) on the tax lists next to James and Vaden. She goes to Casey Co. KY (same as Vaden and probably James). In 1850, she is living with a Hardy Johnson family in St. Clair Co., age 77, born Delaware. Chris Bailey and I tried for years to find her a husband in KY. The researcher I hired in KY, also tried to find one through the tax lists and was unable to do it. The 1850 Margaret with the Johnson family could be someone else, but I doubt it.
I will look and see if I can find the connection of Chris Bailey to the Vaden Hendricks family.
Will continue to look for info on Vaden and Sylvania, because I am certain they are a part of my Hendricks family. Why would our side of the family continue to use the name Vaden for some of the sons...........also , Sylvania lived next door to my great-grandfather, George Washington Hendricks, on one of the census records.
We must keep in touch and share our material. If only we could find the parents of Vaden and James.......I have tried for years with no luck........but will not give up.
Look forward to your pictures.

Hi: I am the happiest person in the world. You have done it. And I cannot thank you enough for all of your help.

We have made a connection and you have answered so much that I have been looking for years.

The photo was wonderful. I made the photo that I have of Vaden Hendricks and Cora Robinson his wife and I am dropping it in the mail to you. Also sending you a photo of my Uncle Tom who is the grandson of Vaden and Cora. When you see the photo of my uncle Tom and you look at George Washington you will see the Hendricks in the two of them.

And just wait till you get my photo of Vaden and then you look on the pictures of the family and you will see that it is him to a tee.

My mother just cannot wait to see the picture. I have lots of photo of Cora when she got older but none of Vaden in his later years. My Mom said that she does not have any of him, I have all of the photos that my Mom had.

OK, question???? I did not have much on Emily which I am glad that you did. I am looking at her husband William Scott and I am seeing that he died in Farmington Mo. in 1903. And that Emily died before him. Well, Thomas Jefferson Hendricks moved to Farmington Mo. and also died in Farmington in 1908. I have been trying for years to find the grave of Thomas Jefferson Hendricks and I think you have helped me out with that one. I see that William Scott is buried in Greene Cemetery, St. Francis Township, St. Francis MO. I am thinking that Thomas Jefferson Hendricks must be also buried in that cemetery, Any way it is a place to start to look for him.

The letters that you have written to Chris Bailey, I have a question for you does he fit into the family line someplace? Well, I must go and get to reading more on what you have sent to me. I will be up all night and will not get my house cleaned tomorrow. \

Again Thanks, Please let me send you a check to cover your postage and making the copies for me. Please let me know. I will mail you my photos in the morning at the post office.

OK I have found something. It has to. I got out all of the military records of Thomas Jefferson Hendricks and guess what????? Thomas had to be born in 1830 and not 1823. On his records it stated that he was 34 when he enlisted in 1864.

So then I went and got out the old letter from Lois Meyer that was written to my G Uncle Harley Hendricks in 1943 and she had Thomas being born in 1823. She has to be wrong.

I am sending you a copy of all of the information that I got long time ago at the library in Sparta IL. It is from the work of Lois Meyer. This all has to be wrong.

I also sending you a copy of the information that I got on George W. Hendricks and I have always said that he must be some relation because I have a photo of him and my Uncle Tom who was the son of Smiley Hendricks looks just like Charles.

Also sending you a photo of my Uncle Tom and my brother Robert who to me looks like Hendricks. My brother favorers my Uncle Harley. Also sending a picture of Vaden Hendricks and Cora. The picture must have been taken when Vaden and Cora just got married.

Ok Me again: I going turn all of my papers and I found

A John Henry Laney Br. 2/9 1844 died 2/21/1870 Washington Co. IL. married 3/19/1867 to Mary Louise Hendricks Br. 4/3/1846 St. Clair Co., IL. d. 6/9/1880 Washington Co., IL.

James Hendricks Br. 5/4/1815 Knox Co., KY d. 10/25/1875, Washington Co., IL. Married 1838 Adair Co., KY to Sarah Brown Br. 2/5/1817 Garrard Co., KY d. 2/18/1880 Washington Co... IL.

Do you have any idea as to where they were buried. If we can find out I will go grave hunting for us.

Looking at the map and looking at Thomas Jefferson Hendricks military records.

He stated he lived in Elkton, IL. Washington Co., IL. in and then in 1873 he moved to Oakdale then to Elkton and then Nashville and in 1881 he moved to E. St. Louis, IL.

Then Thomas and Martha moved to Missouri by that time his son Vaden and Cora were married. Elkton and Oakdale are in Washington Co. and so is Nashville. My mother who is 79 said that she can remember Grandma Hendricks who is Cora talking about Tildon, but Tildon is in Perry Co.,

I am going to go thru all of my papers that I have copied over the years at different libraries in Southern, IL.

Lets hope by spring that we will be able to find out where they are buried and then on a Saturday I will go grave hunting. I love to do that.

Hi: sorry it took me so long to get back with youn, but I was gone to Switzerland and I just got back Sunday.

I think that you are correct. And I have been going in the wrong direction.

It does click. You see Thomas and Martha had a son that they named Vaden who married a Cora Robinson. so it could be that Thomas father was a Vaden. who was married to Sylvania Brown.

You said that on the photo that you have. the name of Cora holding a Harley yes, Cora and Vaden had two sons, one was Smily and the other was Harley.

Could you please make a copy of the photo I will be glad to pay you and mail it to me or do you have a scanner and you can scan it.

What other information do you have on the Hendricks???? I have Family Tree Maker and would love to have a Gedcom file of your informaion.

Thanks Judy

Hi Judy,
I E-Mailed you once before, but did not hear anything........did I send it to the wrong person??
I really think your Thomas Hendricks is the son of Vaden Hendricks and Sylvania Brown. Those of us doing Hendricks research in St. Clair and Washington Cos in IL have placed a Thomas as a son of Vaden and Sylvania. Not much is known of Thomas and he is not listed with his mother and siblings in Washington Co. in 1850........the Black Hawk War ???
I have a copy of a picture given to me by Chris Bailey, several years ago. Chris is a descendant of Emily M. Hendricks (dau of Vaden and Sylvania) who married William Scott. The picture has the following identified people:
George Swopsher (holding daughter)
Mrs. Swopsher
Grandma Scott holding Flossie
Uncle Tom "Hendrix" (he is a very old bearded gentleman)
Grandpa Scott holding Lillie
Cora "Hendrix" holding son Harlie
Daughter Hendrix
Vaden "Hendrix"
Young George Swopsher
Smilie "Hendrix"
Elmer Scott
Gertie Scott (a young girl who identified the people when an adult)
George, Mary Swopsher's boyfriend
Do you know these people?
My connection...I, along with others, believe that Vaden Hendricks is a brother to my great-great grandfather, James Mary: Yes, thanks so much. I will print what I have and send you copies this week-end. I have traveled to Washington Co many times and have lots of information.

I have to go to a meeting tonight and will get on line in the norming and contact you again. I have other things to tell you.

Thomas Jefferson Hendricks is buried in Farmington Mo and I have not been able to find him yet, but I will someday.

Also I have a picture of a william Hendricks that looks just like my uncle Tom who was the son of Smiley Hendricks who was married to Ruth Willis.

Smiley Father was Vaden and Cora.

I have some information that might be of interest to you. It was said that James Hendricks who was the school teacher his Father was William. I will make copies of all that I have on the Hendricks.

I have all of the war copies of Thomas Jefferson Hendricks it is said that he was born in Clay Co., Ky. I have found land grants with his name and the name of James So that is the reason that I have alsways thought that James was the Father of Thomas Jefferson and that William Hendricks was the father of Emily,

A Lois Meyer did lots of reach on the McClurkens in the 40's and Thomas Jefferson Hendricks married Martha Ann Mcclurken in Perry Co., IL.

I will get with you later.

Dear Mr. Hadebeck,

I thank you for taking the time to write about the Hendricks family. My 3gg mother, Emily M. (Maples?) Hendricks was married September 12, 1856 in Washington County, IL to William H. Scott (1835-1903). Emily was born October 22, 1836 in Casey County, KY and died October 27, 1878 near Sesser, Franklin County, IL. I descend through her son, Samuel Vaden Scott, b. August 23, 1862 at Freeburg, St. Clair County, IL (the Scott family had settled in St. Clair County about 1797).

Emily M. (Hendricks) Scott was the daughter of Vaden Hendricks who was married December 4, 1828 in Russell County, KY to Sylvania Brown. Vaden Hendricks appears in the 1830 census of Casey County, KY nearby a "Peggy" Hendricks who may be his mother. "Baden" Hendricks was enumerated in the 1840 census of St. Clair County, IL.

Vaden Hendricks had died by 1850 and his widow and four children were enumerated in the 1850 census of Washington County, IL (house #1241, p. 72):

Sylvania Hendricks	42	F	KY
William Hendricks	19	M	KY	Laborer
Emily Hendricks	15	F	KY
Nancy E. Hendricks	11	F	KY
Mary J. Hendricks	9	F	IL

Additionally, I found on p. 67 living in the home of William Kennedy (age 40, b. Ireland, farmer and his wife Eleanor, age 36, b. SC:

William Glenn	17	M	PA	Laborer
James Glenn	19	M	PA	Laborer

The marriage records of Washington County, IL (besides the marriage of my Emily to William H. Scott) give:

Miss Mary Jane Hendricks to James Glenn - November 16, 1858.
(Bk. B, p. 109)
Miss Nancy A. Hendricks to Wm. Glenn - February 4, 1859.
(Bk. B, p. 124)

I am certain the above Hendricks girls are the sisters of my Emily and daughters of Vaden and Sylvania (Brown) Hendricks. Sadly, I did not find a marriage in Washington County, IL for the William Hendricks, their brother. However, I did find the following later Washington County marriages (the later ones give much more information about the person):

Richard W. Atcheison, 27, b. Washington Co., IL, Laborer, residing in Washington Co., father: Peter Atcheison, mother: Martha Barkley; married Mary Jane Hendricks, aged 20, b. Washington County, IL and residing there, father: William Hendricks, mother: Nancy Luke. Richard and Mary Jane were married July 20, 1880 at Nashville, IL (this was the first marriage for both).(Bk. D, p. 29)

also:

Amos Dintelman, aged 22, b. Washington Co., IL, living at Elkton Precinct, father: John Dintelman; married Maria L. Hendricks, age 18, b. Illinois, living in Elkton Precinct, father: William Hendrick, mother: Nancy Luke. They were married December 26, 1882 at Nashville, IL (first marriage for both). (Bk. D, p. 66.)

I presumed, but do not have proof, that William Hendricks, father of Mary Jane Hendricks (b. abt. 1859/60) and Maria L. Hendricks (b. abt. 1864) was the same William Hendricks who was aged 19 in the 1850 census and not yet married. It seemed probable that he married Nancy Luke prior to 1860 and had a daughter Mary Jane about that year that he named after his sister. This William could have been married in St. Clair County but I have not checked the St. Clair County marriages past 1840.

Since your grandfather no doubt lived into the period of death certificates, have you ever gotten such a certificate to see if his parents names were listed? Have you ever looked for the death certificate for William Hendricks (md. Nancy Luke). Even he could have lived into the time of death certificates.

I would be interested to know more about his family and if you know who his brothers and sisters were. It seems to me a real possibility that your grandfather was a grandson of Vaden and Sylvania (Brown) Hendricks, but as I say, I have no proof that the William who married Nancy Luke was their William (b. abt. 1831).

Unfortunately, I do not have more on the Hendricks or Brown ancestry. As I noted, the 1830 census of Casey County, KY listed a "Peggy" Hendricks on the same pages as Vaden and I supposed she could have been a widow and his mother. In 1830 a Jacob, Joel and Hezekiah Brown were enumerated in Russell County, KY and Elizabeth, Jesse, Sally, Thomas and Washington Brown were all enumerated in Casey Co., KY. I have not had the time and opportunity to look further into those families.

I would be pleased to hear from you again.

Cordially,

Dear Chris,

Received your Hendricks material and letter of 7 April. The information that you sent surely places you in the same position as the rest of the researchers in this Hendricks family...we all know little and seem to have almost no luck in finding answers!

I have a large folder of Hendricks material, but it just does not seem to hold any clues to our family beyond marriages in Kentucky and the 1840 census of St. Clair Co. IL to the present.

I have always felt very sure that James and Baden Hendricks were somehow related because the name Baden has been used as late as 1908 in the naming of sons in our family. I think Baden Hendricks must have been important to our Hendricks family to continue to use this name.

My Mother's oldest sister, Myrtle (1886-1970), said that her great-grandfather, James Hendricks, was a cousin to Thomas Andrews Hendricks (1819-1885) who served as Vice-President under Grover Cleveland. My aunt told me the story, but said "He was of the wrong party". In 1979, I located a distant cousin of my Mother's who lived in California. She wrote and told me the same story and I had not mentioned it in my first letter. She even had the "he was of the wrong party"...but, after a great deal of research, I find no connection. A lady in Flordia has done much research on the Hendricks family from which Thomas Andrews Hendricks descends and she does believe that one of the Hendricks sons did leave PA and probably went to the southern area of the US. I haven't looked at that material for years, so do not have all details.

Will be interested in your comments about the material I am enclosing and wonder if you have noted anything about the Hardy Johnson in your researching. I cannot seem to fit that family into the Hendricks line.

I would appreciate it if you would send your family group sheets to me. Maybe some of the names will show up in this material that I have collected from other family members. We have some obits on Hendricks in CA and have no idea how they are related.

Hope to hear from you very soon.

Sincerely,

Mary

Dear Dr. Hardebeck,

I have been in and out of the city for the past three weeks and am now able to send my thanks for the material you sent concerning the name Hendricks. It was very interesting, but since I can only go back to my great-great grandfather, James Hendricks, I must save it the future.

My James Hendricks was born 4 May 1815 in Knox Co. KY. Married on 29 Jan 1838 in Adair Co. KY to Sarah Brown, born 5 Jan 1817 in Garrard Co. KY. James died 25 Oct 1875 in Washington Co. IL and Sarah died 18 Feb 1880, also, in Washington Co. IL. After their 1838 marriage in KY, they must have left soon for Illinois, because they were enumerated on the 1840 census in St. Clair Co. James was an early teacher in Washington Co., as were several of his children, including my great-grandfather, George Washington Hendricks. George moved to Kansas after 1880.

There appears to be a connection between a Vaden Hendricks (ancestor of Chris Bailey) and my James Hendricks, but the connection is unknown.

I would appreciate it if you would send me the names of your mother, her parents and her grandparents. I may be able to settle some of the unanswered questions concerning these Hendricks in St. Clair and Washington Cos. I have worked for years on this family and have amassed quite a lot of material, but some of it does not "fit".

Hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Mary Nunneley

Hi Judy,
Received the material yesterday. I am amazed at the photo of Uncle Tom. He looks exactly like my great-grandfather, George Washington Hendricks.
Have not had time, as yet, to look over all of the material. I noted that you have a William and Peggy Hendricks as the parents of James and Vaden. How did you arrive at that........?? I have never looked for a William as the father of my James. Guess I need to back up and start over. I really have not found anyone who I thought might be James' father. The Margaret, also called Peggy on various tax records, seems first to appear in 1810 in Knox Co. KY as head of household. Since my James was born in 1815, she is apparently not his mother. James, Vaden and Margaret/Peggy seem to always be listed together on tax lists, census records, etc. In 1850, she is listed in St. Clair Co. IL in the home of Hardy Johnson. She is age 77, born DE.
I wonder about the land deeds you sent and if the land really belonged to my James. There was another James Hendricks in St. Clair Co. in 1850. He was born in VA, ca 1790 and had a wife Sally (age 40) and a son, William (age 5). This land may have belonged to him.
Talk later,
Mary

Mary: I told you that my Uncle Tom looked just like YOur George Washington Hendricks. I just about died when I got the picture of George and when My uncle saw it he just about died. I think that George was a better person then my Uncle Tom is. We always say that the Hendricks had lots of Black Sheep in the family.

For example my Uncle Tom has been married 5 times. My Aunt that he was married to for the longest just died last May they were married for almost 40 years, but he has had an afar with this 42 year old girl and he married her already and is building her a new house. She married him for my Aunts money. Then we have my brother who has been married three times, First for Love and second for money and third for more money. They are the Hendricks side. My grandfather Smiley was also married three times. My Grandmother Ruth Willis died very young leaving three children, My mother Dorothy age 4, Uncle Tom the (Black Sheep) age 2 and my Aunt Virginia age 6. He left them with his mother to rase. He married three times that we know of. The last one being an Alberta, I just contacted one of their children last year. They did not know that their father had been married so many times.

The Hendricks are something else.

I will check on this William and Peggy for you.

I think that you and I have the correct information on James and Vaden being Brothers, but I will check into the matter about William being their father, I just have to go thru all of my information.

I will check also on the land records, that is the reason that I sent them to you thinking that you might know about the James.

I have Mother duties today, so after I take my Mom to the store and out to eat I will try to get the information on William and Peggy.

Later
Judy

I would like any information you might have concerning Mary Louise Hendricks and John Henry Laney. Lena sent me family group sheets for their daughter, Laura Laney Trumbull. If you do not have Laura's family info, would be happy to copy it for you.
I do not have any genealogy on my computer and after 30+ years of research, have decided not to even begin to enter all of the 40 notebooks and proofs. Also, for some reason and unable to download, so anything sent to me must be by regular mail.
If you want the Laura Laney material, let me know your address and I will copy what Lena sent to me.
Later,

Hello Mary,

Beulah is my Dad's Cousin. She was married to Louis Orlando Cairo. Her parents were, Mattie Leaper Boggess & Edward Grant Lamm. Mattie was sister to my Grandfather, Maurice Loyd Boggess. She was into the genealogy of the Boggess family and associated families. She has since slowed down mentally and moved into a 'care home'. My Dad, Robert E. Boggess, wrote to her, but when she moved, her daughter helped her move, and she does not or did not at the time, know where her boxes of gen info was. As her daughter and friend helped her move. I spoke with her a couple of years ago, but that was just as she was moving. I guess I will have to have my Dad call her again.

I need to add your line, and paste your Email's on your notes.

I only have 1 child listed with Alfred and Sarah. I did not know she married a 2nd time. You are filling in some blanks for me and another direction of GenHunting.

I, through inter-library loan, checked out the Laney-Funderburke book. I copied most of the gen-lineage and some family history from the book. So I do have that. That helped start me in there direction. There still is a thought/question on Andrew's true connection to the Titus Laney family, but no one has been able to prove otherwise, so I just leave it as is.

Through you, I now know how the "infamous" Lena Trumbull connects to the family. I had heard and seen her name, but did not know how she was connected with the Boggess and such. Thanks.

Would you want me to send you what I have? Some of it maybe duplication, but some may be new. Let me know, who you want me to start with and I will come down from there.

Jane

faculties. Instead of requiring his pupils to analyze a proposition from the premises to the conclusion, he would occupy his seat, ask questions, and receive answers.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.

The branches taught in the common schools of those days were few in number—reading, spelling, penmanship and arithmetic. In addition to these, in some very rare instances, English grammar, geography and history received some attention.

Text-books Used. The text-books used were almost universally the following: Smiley's and Smith's arithmetics; the old English Reader and New Testament, for reading; "Webster's Elementary Speller;" in schools where English grammar was taught, "Kirkham" was the standard; and for history, The Life of Washington or Marion was the book used,—these works being found very often to constitute the libraries of the settlers. The early settlers seemed to regard a man who was moderately acquainted with the subjects of arithmetic, reading and spelling, as a prodigy in the matter of scholastic attainments.

Boarding Around.—It was the custom for the teacher to receive, in addition to his per capita subscription price, free board; that is, he would board with one of his pupils one week, the next with another, and so on.

SCHOOL OFFICERS.

There being no legalized school system, there were no officers who held office or exercised its functions by authority of law; the only officer known being the "committee-man" or director before mentioned. He held his office by consent of the employers, and at their pleasure. His duties were to contract with teachers, examine them as to their qualifications, and to call the employers together to decide questions that arose during the term of school. He exercised a sort of supervision over the school.

PERSONAL MENTION OF EARLY TEACHERS.

Rev. Horatio Burns, Rev. James Walker, Andrew Foster, James Hendricks, James G. Burns, James Steele, G. W. Cone, Mr. Wehr and Dr. J. C. Yount, were among the Pioneer teachers of Washington County.

PRESENT SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

There are at present eighty school-houses in the county; of these ten are brick, and the remainder frame buildings.

A majority of these are large, substantial, and in many instances, neatly and tastefully finished. In many districts, the houses are surrounded with beautifully laid out and highly ornamented grounds. They are provided, many of them with wells, with the modern appliances for raising water; a decided improvement upon the old custom of bringing it from the wells of neighboring farm-houses.

BRANCHES TAUGHT.

The present school law prescribes as the legal branches to be taught in the schools of the State, the following: Orthography, Reading in English, Penmanship, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Modern Geography, History of the United States; and in addition to these the School Directors may require the elements of Natural Philosophy, Botany, Zoology, Physiology and Hygiene. In all the schools the seven branches first enumerated are taught, and in many, the last named sciences constitute a part of the course of study.

TEXT-BOOKS USED.

The text-books in general use in the county are: Harvey's, Monroe's, and the National series of Readers; Worcester's, Wilson's, and the National Spellers; the Spencerian system of Penmanship; Felter's, White's, Robinson's and Ray's Arithmetic; Green's, Harvey's and Clark's Grammars; Swinton's, Monteith's, and the Eclectic Geographies; Anderson's and Swinton's Histories; Steele's treatises on Natural Philosophy, Physiology and Hygiene, and Natural History, are the most popular; while Youman and Gray are the standard in Botany.

TEACHERS' QUALIFICATIONS.

The teacher of the Public School must be a man of moral character. He must be thoroughly qualified to teach in detail the branches of Reading, Orthography, Penmanship, Arithmetic, English Grammar, Modern Geography, and History of the United States, to entitle him to a license to teach of the second grade of qualifications; and in addition to this, for a first grade he must understand the elements of the "Natural Sciences," Physiology, and Hygiene. His knowledge of the branches must not be merely of a technical character; he must understand the great principles from which all formulas are deduced pertaining to the subjects with which he has to deal. His qualifications must be such, that he is able to demonstrate every proposition with which he comes in contact, to the inquiring mind, which it is his business to develop and expand.

MODE OF TEACHING.

It is generally accepted that the true theory of teaching is to develop and cultivate the reasoning faculties, and not to store the mind with isolated facts, like stocking a cellar with fruit and vegetables to be brought forth and used when the occasion requires. It is the province of the teacher to teach his pupils to think—to think systematically; to follow the path of reason from cause to effect; to search after truth, by applying to all things the test of reason; and not, that by following a certain rule prescribed, certain results will be obtained, or that by turning certain screws, certain effects will be produced; but we must teach them why certain causes produce certain effects—and in truth he must be a man that can use his reasoning powers—not constitute himself, like the ancients did the oracle at Delphos, a mere answerer of questions.

SCHOOL OFFICERS.

The school officers of the county are Superintendent, Township Trustees, Township Treasurer, and School Directors. The County Superintendent's duties are, to examine teachers, distribute public funds to the townships, advise and counsel with school officers and teachers, make and transmit to the State Department a report of the condition of the schools in the county yearly, and to visit schools when required to do so by the County Board.

The duties of School Trustees are, to form and alter the boundaries of school districts, and distribute public funds to the school districts. They have the control of the school funds of their respective townships, and the title to all school property vests in them.

The School Treasurer is the custodian of the township and district funds. He pays them out upon the order of the School Directors and Trustees. He is also Clerk of the Board of Trustees, and is required to keep a record of all their proceedings. Directors are required to see that comfortable and well furnished houses are provided for the use of the school, employ teachers, etc.

GRADED SCHOOLS.

The graded schools in the county are located at Nashville, Ashley, Okawville, Richview, Irvington, Oakdale and Dubois.
